A Picayune Defence.
The Herald in its attempt to shield the Road and Bridge Committee—or traordinary course of pitching into every member of the Council who conscientiously believes that there has been mismanagement, and who has the honesty and independence to say so. Mr. Robertson is put down among the incapables; Mr. Harvey is guilty of the awful crime of "splurging" whatever that may mean; Mr. Elliott is smothered with his alleged egotism; Mr. Bruce is summarily ordered aside to pursue his inquiries about the manure which was carted off Maodonnell street, and to watch the expenditure of the Relief Committee; while Messrs. Davidson and McCrae are accused of being inspired with ignoble personal animosity. Pray, what has all this to do with the question now before the Council, whether the work on the roads has been done in accordance with the reports and resolutions paswith the reports and resolutions passed by the Council, and whether the money has been spent in accordance with the appropriations. Why should these gentlemen be pilloried because in the discharge of their Riding are trying to get up a pic-nic, the Council have been followed out, and how and where the mone; has been spent. If everything has been done right and in order, what has the Herald or any member of the Council to fear from an investigation? It such is the case we should think that those who are blamed would rather whole case by trying to make it appears that the mismanagement is confined to the waste of a pound of mail and a piece of plank. We should be very glad if it turn out to be a pound of the plane of the form They want no more than a fair share of the work for the East Ward, and they deserve all the more credit for sinking petty, selfish interests in their desire to have justice done all round, and the work efficiently and properly performed as specified by the Council. This is the head and front of their offence according to the Herald, and we fancy they will have no difficulty in defending their conduct before the ratepayers in the East Ward. Let them continue in the same course and they will have the approval not only of Masse, but of the ratepayers in all the other Wards.

THE course pursued by Mr. Gladstone with regard to the Patronage Abolition Bill and the Public Worship Regulation Bill has by no means Regulation Bill has by no means served to harmonize the Liberals or to damage the Conservatives. His opposition to the first measure was accepted by the Radicals and Non conformists as a wirtual declaration in favor of disestablishment. In attacking the Public Regulation Bill, he betrayed strong ritualistic learnings, and thus destroyed any prospect of support from those for whose confidence he made so distinct a bid, in criticising the Patronage Bill.

MERCHANT TAILORS

Guelph, August 1st, 1874.

To the Public.

To the Public.

I take this opportunity to let my old friends and customers know that early this Fall I intend opening up one of the most extensive and varied stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods to be seen in Ontario. I have had erected for my own special retail business a most complete arranged store, and from my long experience in the mercantile business, I feel and know that I will present for the inspection of my old patrons and others not only the most choice selection of Fancy Goods, but goods that will in reality be of such a character as to give to the purchaser the most entire satisfaction. The value will form one of the most important features of my establishment, the fact of going direct to the fountain head for my whole stock, and buying all for the ready money, and in addition having no old stock to palm office of itself a positive guarantee that my establishment will present inducements to the purchaser that none other in Guelph can approach. I earnestly request my old friends and customers to pay a visit to my establishment, when the old motto that I used for so many years to their advantage will again be adopted, viz: the best goods in the trade at the smallest possible profit. Good goods and Cheap goods. One price and no abatement. No misrepresentations, and the interests of the public doing business with me strenuously watched.

Yours truly,

JOHN HOGG.
