It Stands to Reason.

That a man who gives his whole undivided attention to one particular subject should acquire a greater proficiency in it, than one whose energies are expended in different directions. This is true of the medical superintendent, and his staff of assistants, at Lakeshore Institute, in their treatment of alcoholism and kindred diseases. Every fresh case adds to the experience of years, and to the number of those successfully treated.

There is no sudden and dangerous deprivation of liquor; there are no bolts and bars; the patient gives up the habit almost unconsciously, and from that moment, takes the first step on his upward career, commencing life afresh under brighter auspices. For secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for a time, and it was through his efforts that the association has been kept in existence. He worked for some time

DEATH OF MRS. WM. CAMERON, SEN.
The death occurred, unexpectedly, this morning, of heart-failure, at her residence, 331 Dundas street, of Mrs.
Wm. Cameron, sen., one of the oldest residents of London. She had been ailing for a considerable time, from the varying infirmities attendant upon age, including heart failure, which was the immediate cause of death, though for a few days past she seemed to be much better, and yesterday was quite cheerful. Deceased was a woman of much energy and independence of character and vivacity of spirit. Her disposition was notably benevolent, generous and warm-hearted. Her husband, the late Mr. William Cameron, sen., had predeceased her some years.
Her surviving children are Mrs. Jas.
Brown, Hamilton; Mrs. C. B. Robinson, Toronto; Mrs. H. Elmont, London; Mr. L. K. Cameron, Queen's printer, Toronto; and Mr. John Cameron, London. She had lived to see children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

A PLEASING AFFAIR.
An anniversary tea and entertainment was given last night in the lecture room of the First Congregational Church, under the auspices of the Sunday school. The children attended in large numbers, and made it a most successful event. A fine programme was arranged, the principal participants in which were the scholars, who well performed their various undertakings. The programme was begun with a few remarks by Rev. Thomas Wilson. This was followed by a unique dialogue by Miss Crossin and Miss Wm. Johnston and James Porteous, entitled "The Chairman's Address."

The remainder of the programme was as follows: Instrumental solo, Miss Stear; reading, Fred Chapman; solo, Gussie Graham; recitation, Miss Olive Loring; quietude, Messrs. A. E. Elmondson, E. Wrighton, J. L. Dixon and Albert Bock; dialogue, "The Little Sunflowers," by the girls of Miss N.
Porteous' class; harmonic selection, Messrs. E. Moule and E. Effner; recitation, Miss McKay; trio, "Three Black Crowns," Messrs. Wm. Johnston and James Porteous, and Miss Long, as "The Holidays," Miss Long, as New Year, Miss Edith Crossin as Easter, Miss Anthill as the Queen's Birthday, Miss Jean Porteous as Labor Day, Miss Maggie Knowles and Miss Clara McNaughton as Christ-with a drill by Misses I. Amundson, H.
