THE LAKE SWEPT BY A BIG WAYE

Freak of Water.

Recedes Three Feet and Then Sweeps In to Four Feet Above the Normal.

Chicago, July 18.—Chicago had a Swiss visitor Wednesday. "Seiche"a phonomenon known to Geneva and other Swiss lakes made its appearance on Lake Michigan. The results were alarming and puzzling, and promised to be damaging.

In a queer convulsion the lake sent a big wave landwards, and residents along the shore suddenly found the water tapping at their doorsteps. The antic was inexplicable to them, as there had been no warning, and frightened women for a moment telephoned for their husbands downtown, but by the time the men had reached their residences the water had swept up against breakwaters or over the beach. Steamers were tossed about at their docks, smaller craft were thrown on the shore, boats were broken, and in several instances loss was narrowly averted. Two boys bathing north of Lincoln Park were saved after they had been were 2,253 voters in the convention. carried out by the receding wave. A fisherman was rescued by the Evanston life saving crew, and another bather, an Evanston boy, was pulled of drowning.

CAUSED BY AIR PRESSURE. At the weather bureau the cause of the lake's convulsion was plainly shown The barometer indicated a sudden high pressure, followed by an equally sudden drop. A wave of heavy atmospheric pressure passed over the city, and as it struck the lake, moving from west to east, the water was pushed With the pressure released the wave came rushing back and dashed up over the land and then receded to the normal water line.

As the high pressure drove the water out there was a recession of three feet came back the water went four feet was not observed by so many. The water line of the lake simply dropped about three feet. This was close to 10 o'clock in the morning. On the shallow beaches it was observable that the lake was far from its normal condition, but no especial attention was attracted until the big wave came in. This wave rolled steadily up the shore, where it had free access, carrying boats, timbers, and waste into the vards of residents along the north shore, swept into the harbor and up the river, tossing the big steamers at

Indianapolis, July 19.—The question of whether the assessment recommended by President Mitchell for the relief of the anthracite miners be used also for the benefit of striking bituminous miners in different parts of the country was the only thing before the mine workers yesterday. RECORD-BREAKING BLAST. Chesterville, Ont., July 18.-Yesterday evening a storm of more than usual proportions passed over this territory, accompanied by a cyclone, which exceeded in fury anything of its kind in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. About 6 p.m. the citizens of Chesterville were alarmed by the appearance of the sky to the northwest of the village. While incessant electrical discharges lit up the twilight, large cloudy masses were rolling and scudding before the wind. It was evident that a fearful storm was raging in the immediate vicinity. Nearing here the tornado took southeasterly direction and passed within a mile of the town. Those who were watching felt distinctly the hot blast from the cyclone as it swept with fearful velocity to the southeast. The wind monster twisted, tore and destroyed everything in its path for a space of about 50 or 60 rods in width, while everything in a radius of a mile in width was more or less affected. So far as heard from this morning the storm struck the township of Winchester, in what is known as the Ormond Settlement, in the northwest corner, and cut in a general southeasterly direction across the townships of Winchester, Finch and Osnabruck, and is supposed to have spent its energy at the St. Lawrence. This morning the country for miles around presents a scene of devastation and Fences have disappeared and cannot be found; dwellings and outbuildings were overturned and in

At her home, No. 9 Jenks street,

Annie Graham is decidedly pretty.

She was for a time a clerk in one of the department stores. There she met Bourne, who was the driver of a delivery wagon.

In a note in her writing, and signed by her name, in a diary found on Bourne's person, she says: "Bourne kissed me when I was in the cellar, and then it was all up with me. I love him. I love mamma, but I love Dan. too.

This infatuation was reciprocated by Bourne, although he had a wife and little girl.

Bourne and Annie Graham disappeared last Friday night, and nothing was heard of them until Monday night, when the girl staggered into a yard on Central avenue and asked for a drink of water. She told William Ousely and John McDougall she had taken poison and had left Bourne dead in the woods. She was removed to her home and every effort made to save her life. At times she raved of the time she had been away, and Dr. F. W. Hayden took note of everything she said. She repeatedly said that she and Bourne had taken poison together, and described the spot where the man had died. The police did not credit her story, but Dr. Hayden enlisted Policeman Samuel Slocum and went to the spot where the girl said Bourne would
