The annual report, which was presented by Mrs. Labatt, showed that this excellently managed institution has been just as successful this year as in the past in proving of great benefit to those who otherwise might have sadly lacked that rest and comfort which the home has been able to provide. There have been admitted for various terms of residence, 31 patients of whom two are now in the home Of these as usual, the great majority (21) have been non-paying patients from the city, many coming through the hospitals. Of the remainder two paid the full compensation and the rest only a small portion, all they could afford. Upon the list it is noted that 13 are men and 18 women. In religion 22 are Protest-ants, 8 Catholics, one not known. Their nationalities are: Canada 11, England Ireland 5, Scotland 4, United States

The board expressed its thanks to all who had assisted them during the year and their regret at the absence by illness of Mrs. Lashbrook, and their sense of loss in the departure of their presi-
