OVERWORK NO EXCUSE

Engineer Fell Asleep and Caused Wreck, But Is Convicted.

Morristown, N. J., Oct. 4. — Judge Swartz, in county court, has refused to affirm a point in law, that when a railroad employe falls asleep from physical weakness from illness or from weariness from long hours of steady employment, and an accident happens, the employe should be acquitted. The case was that of John F. Fleischutt, an engineer on a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train. The freight train and a passenger train collided near Pottstown last April. Two persons were killed and a dozen injured. The crew of the freight train were held by the coroner for criminal negligence. Fleischutt was the first to be tried. It was testified by the fireman that the freight train had been ordered to wait on a siding until four trains had passed. He said the crew had been on duty for 22 hours, and that while waiting for the trains to pass had fallen asleep. Before the fourth train had passed the men awoke, and thinking that the fourth had gone by, the freight train was taken from the siding. Before the case went to the jury Fleischutt's attorney made the point above stated. In refusing to affirm it, Judge Swartz held that no man had a right to work on a railroad unless in fine physical condition, and if he fell asleep, no matter from what cause, he should discontinue work, even though he should lose his position, rather than jeopardize human life by continuing on duty.

CHANGES IN GOLF RULES

St. Andrew's Club Clears Up Several Disputed Points.

London, Oct. 4.—New rules of golf were adopted at the meeting of the Royal and Ancient Club at St. Andrews last week. The new reading of rule 14 provides:

First—If the ball lie or be lost in water or in casual water in a hazard, the ball may be dropped in or as far behind the hazard as the players may please, under penalty of one stroke, but if it be impossible from want of space in which to play, or from any other cause to drop the ball behind the hazard, the player may drop the ball at the side of the hazard as near as possible to where the ball lay, but not nearer to the hole, under penalty of one stroke.

Second—If a ball lie or be lost in casual water through the green, and thus interferes with the player's stance, the player may drop the ball without penalty two club lengths from the margin, directly behind the place where the ball lay, or from the margin nearest the place where the ball lay, but not nearer to the hole. If the ball when dropped roll into the water, or rest so that the water interferes with the player's stance, it may be redropped without penalty, as near to the margin as the nature of the ground permits, but not nearer to the hole.

Three—In dropping the ball behind the spot from which the ball was lifted, the player shall keep that spot, or, in case of water, the spot at which the ball entered in a line between himself and the hole. Wherever it is impossible to drop the ball as prescribed in sections 1 and 2, it shall be dropped as near as possible to the place where it lay, but not nearer to the hole. The penalty for breach of this rule shall be the loss of the hole.

Rule 15—The ball shall be dropped in the following manner: The player himself shall drop it. He shall face the hole, stand erect, and drop the ball behind him from his head. If the ball when dropped touch the player he shall incur no penalty, and if it roll into a hazard it may be redropped without penalty. The penalty for the breach of this rule shall be the loss of the hole.

Some adverse comments have been made to these amendments.
