

Rain Stops the London and Hamilton Game—Senators Win

Ottawa Is Now 22 Points Ahead of London, and Is Playing Winning Ball—Wednesday's Rest Will Be Fine For London Pitchers Who Are Overworked.

Even the elements seem to be taking a hand in an endeavor to drive London cellarwards in the Canadian League. All yesterday morning and up till 3 o'clock in the afternoon the skies were fair and although it became sultry about noon it looked as if Wednesday would be an ideal day for an exciting game of ball. Shortly before the time for the game to start a sprinkle of rain arrived from the heavens, but at first it was thought that it would not prove heavy enough to stop the game. By 4 o'clock, however, it was raining quite heavily and the game between Hamilton and London, which would have meant considerable to the London team at present, if it had been victorious, had to be postponed. Ottawa, on the other hand, had fine weather, and as has been usual with the Senators for some days, they won.

Gives Pitchers a Rest.

There is an old adage which says it is an ill wind that does not blow somebody good, and that may have been the case in the postponement of Wednesday's game. London's pitchers are all overworked at present, and

A little rest will not hurt them in the least. Later in the season, when the postponed game will have to be played off London may be in a better position to offer battle to the Hams. The Dutchmen, the team that generally gives London a hard battle, start work in Tecumseh Park this afternoon, and London will have to fight hard to trim them.

Hamilton, the Alvinston lad, whom Bradshaw was sure to grab off by one of the major leagues this fall, and the action of the Berlin management in suspending him when the end of the season is less than a month away seems rather queer. It will certainly have some effect on any offer that any of the major leagues might have had in mind to make.

The Ottawa team has now a percentage of 82 to its credit, while London has only .600, and those 22 points will be hard to recover at the rate the Senators are travelling at present.

Rube Deneau says he can do it, and Rube is generally correct in his hope, so that before very long Londoners can expect to see the Tecumsehs again on the top of the ladder.

Birmingham is Boasting of Winning the Pennant

Manager "Dode" Birmingham, of the Cleveland Naps, is boasting—and with apparent good reason—that his club will take the American League pennant. Birmingham points to the crippled condition of the Athletics' hurling staff and he insists that the Mackmen are about to fall from their high position they have occupied throughout the season.

Cleveland still has its best pitching bet to ring in. Veau Gregg is stout, and should be able to carry a good share of the season's work on his shoulders. Willie Mitchell is also a creditable performer. There is but little doubt that if Mack had Cleveland's pitching staff the winning of the American League flag would be a formality.

Birmingham, however, has a long road to travel before overhauling Philadelphia. The Mackmen, despite reverses, have a commanding lead and they can afford to lose a number of games before the race will become one of doubt. If Birmingham can win the series, or, if on coming home, he can keep his players keyed to the highest pitch, he will have better than a fighting chance of winning out. Or, if the Naps can go into Washington, and clean up the series, they will greatly improve their position.

The Athletics have had two poor road trips this season, and it is reasonable to suppose that they will not do much on their final swing around the circuit. Cleveland will certainly exert its energies towards pulling them down, while the Tigers can always be depended upon to play their best ball against the ancient enemy. Chicago is in a slump right now, but the White Sox should be able to find themselves before returning home. St. Louis took two games from the Mackmen on Sunday field and that pitching of the Browns is bound to make trouble.

Cleveland's team has never been known as a game one. Something has always turned up to rob the Naps of a win, and it is possible that Birmingham will pull his men over this ditch.

If he does he will be accomplishing something that half a dozen other managers have tried and failed.

CLEVELAND LOST TO THE ATHLETICS

Mackmen Drove Gregg's Curves to All Corners of the Field.

DETROIT BEAT NEW YORK

Washington Outplayed Chicago and Boston Trimmed St. Louis.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—Veau Gregg's curves had no terrors for the Mackmen today and Cleveland's last hope of victory was crushed when Baker lost the ball over the wall, driving in two men ahead of him in the fifth. The final score was 7 to 1. The game was featured by many brilliant plays. Strunk made wonderful catches in centre field, which helped out Busby's effective pitching.

DETROIT BEAT NEW YORK.
New York, Aug. 6.—Hughes Jennings introduced Dauss, his young right-hander, to the crowd at the Polo Grounds today, and the latter had no New Yorks to five scattered hits, while the Detroiters beat them by a score of 2 to 1. If Dauss hadn't passed a couple of men in the sixth, the New Yorks would have been shut out. On the other hand, if Jack Knight hadn't muffed an easy fly ball in the third period, the Tigers also would have been retired without a run. Score:

WASHINGTON DOWNED CHICAGO

Washington, Aug. 7.—Walter Johnson equalled the 1913 American League pitching record of eleven consecutive victories, held by his young team-mate, Boehling, when Washington beat the Chicago White Sox today, 11 to 2, in a rain-soaked game.

Johnson was taken out after pitching four innings, as the Sox' bats had assumed a commanding lead, and Gallia, who finished the game, allowed but two hits. Score:

WHO OWNS LALONDE?
[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, Aug. 7.—"Who owns Lalonde, the crack lacrosse player?" is the question being debated by local D. L. A. clubs now that he has returned from the west, under the reserve clause in the Big Four. Lalonde was originally the property of the Nationals, but was turned over by them to Toronto. Lalonde never played with Toronto, but went to the coast. When there appeared a prospect of Lalonde staying in the east this year the Toronto club transferred the player to the Irish-Canadians. On that transaction the Irish-Canadians base their claim to Lalonde. The Nationals, however, have made the Cornwall deal an offer to play with them, and a libel dispute over him is anticipated.

BRADSHAW, CRACK BERLIN PITCHER, IS SUSPENDED

Was Informed Last Night After Game That He Was Not To Come To London With Team This Morning.

Bradshaw, the crack spitball artist of the Berlin Club, for whom, it is said, the directors were offered $1,500 from Brooklyn, some time ago, was indefinitely suspended after the game between Berlin and Peterboro Wednesday. The Petes got thirteen hits off Bradshaw's delivery, but his teammates claim today that his ball was breaking wonderfully well during the game.

Just why he was suspended could not be learned, and a number of the Berlin players are not at all pleased with the treatment accorded him. Bradshaw will surely be grabbed off by one of the major leagues this fall, and the action of the Berlin management in suspending him when the end of the season is less than a month away seems rather queer. It will certainly have some effect on any offer that any of the major leagues might have had in mind to make.

FAST TIME MADE IN THE MONROE RACES

Short-Ship Program Furnishes Excellent Sport to Large Crowd of Enthusiasts.

Monroe, Mich., Aug. 6.—Threatening weather, which failed to dampen the ardor of the crowd or lessen the fastness of the track, featured the second day of the Short-Ship meet.

Although clouds banked over the track all afternoon no rain fell, and about 1,500 enthusiasts were in attendance. Of the 24 entries in today's events not one was drawn. The 2:28 trot opened the program with six starters. Angeline S. succeeded in taking the first heat in the fastest time of the event. The next three heats were easy for Lady Jay.

The record of continued wins held by Direct Mac made him a strong favorite at 3 to 2 in the 2:20 pace. The confidence placed in the black horse was fully justified, as Whitney brought him home an easy winner in each of the first three heats.

The most hotly contested event of the local meet thus far was the 2:12 pace, which went to Bonnie Cope. Five heats were driven and a run off between Bonnie Cope and Hydrie was necessary to determine the winner. Ivan C. won the first heat, but was unable to repeat. Fast time featured this event.

Tomorrow is the big day of the meet and the following events are scheduled: 2:18 trot, purse $400; 2:14 pace (stakes), $1,000; 2:15 trot, $400; 2:08 pace, $500.

DENEAU GOES TO MICHIGAN TO TRY FOR NEW PITCHERS

Will Be in Lansing Today, and in Jackson Tomorrow—May Get a New Outfielder.

"Dad" Stewart Is Ill, Steiger Will Play His Position Today—Reidy Goes Into Centre.

In a last endeavor to secure a couple of good pitchers and probably an outfielder, to bolster up the team and give it a chance in the pennant race, which at this moment is a warm one, Manager Deneau, of the Tecumsehs, left last night to look over some players in Michigan.

He will watch several players in Lansing this afternoon, and tomorrow will be in Jackson, where he has heard there are a couple of good men. The London team at present is in a decidedly ticklish position, and something will have to be done in a hurry if the Senators will romp off with the rag again this year.

"Dad" Stewart is ill. Pitcher Hamilton arrived in the city last night from Chatham, and appears to be a likely player. He will be worked in one of the games with Berlin this week.

"Dad" Stewart, the heavy-hitting right fielder, is confined to his bed today suffering from stomach trouble. He will not be able to play in today's game. Steiger, the southpaw of the team, will substitute for him, and "Cy" Reidy will go into centre garden to play Rube's position.

"Matty" Matteson, who has charge of the team while Deneau is away, will fight hard to take the whole series from Berlin, and he will likely be successful, for Matty is one of the headiest players in the league.

Otis Crandall Sent to St. Louis Club for Larry McLean

St. Louis, Aug. 6.—Miller Huggins, manager of the Cardinals, today began the trading program that the owners of the club announced several days ago that they favored. His first deal was with the New York Giants. He ships to that club Larry McLean, catcher, and receives in return, Otis Crandall, pitcher and pinch hitter of McGraw's club.

McLean came here from Cincinnati this spring. He left tonight to join his new club. Crandall is expected to report to Manager Huggins tomorrow. McLean always has been unreliable, because of his habits. Crandall has done good work in a hard place, which was the Giants, and figured in one spectacular finish against the Athletics, in the 1910 world series.

LONDON MAY SECURE BRADSHAW OF BERLIN

As Soon as President Stevely Heard He Was Suspended He Wrote Berlin—No Pitcher From Cleveland.

London may get Bradshaw, the spitball artist of the Berlin team, who was suspended indefinitely by the Berlin management last night. President Stevely was informed this morning of Bradshaw's suspension, and when seen by The Advertiser he said he would see if there was any chance of landing the crack pitcher for London.

If he could be secured he would add considerable strength to the Tecumsehs' pitching staff and would enhance the chances of winning the pennant. The chances of securing him are very doubtful, however, as Berlin has had several good offers for him, and London could not afford to pay the price they would likely ask for him.

No Pitcher From Cleveland. London will not get a pitcher from Cleveland this year. At least it looks that way at present. The man who was to be sent here could not get a month's leave of absence from his employers, and as a result he would not resign his position to come to this city. The Cleveland secretary promised to send another man, but just at present there is no available material there, and London will have to search elsewhere.

Rube Deneau had a fine chance to land two good pitchers in Detroit last Sunday, but heard of them just about an hour too late. When he went after them he learned that they had been signed just a short time before. This is the second time this season that the same thing occurred in Detroit, and if Rube had been notified a little earlier on the former occasion he might now have had one of the best pitching staffs in the Canadian League.
