(From Friday's Daily)

Complying with the request mad by His Worship Mayor Hall, many of the proprietors of business establish ments had closed their doors to give their employees an opportunity of participating in the festivities under pleasanter conditions than those which prevailed on Wednesday—the civic holiday. Everybody went to the show, or, at least, all who had no simportant private affairs to attend to show, or, at least all who had not important private affairs to attend to. The management of the tramway company rose to the emergency admirably. Although transportation to and from the grounds was not as expeditions as might have been desired, the majority reached the race track in the afternoon in time for the initial event, while there were plenty of cars at the Willows' terminus to convey the crowds back to the city.

One of the features of the attractions was the stock parade which took place during the horse races. It was headed by the St. Andrews' Pipers band, which rendered the stirring airs of the "land o'cake" while the pure bred horses pranced behind. The spectators were shown an exceptionally fine assortment of representatives of the aristocracy of horsedom. There was every variety from the massive Clydesdale to the classy and spirited standard bred and the Shetland pony. In beef cattle also the critics were afforded a genuine treet land pony. In beef cattle also the critics were afforded a genuine treat. In short, the procession was a source of unalloyed pleasure to those who delight in the sight of first-class stock. stock and many of the blue ribbon holders were heartily applauded as they passed through the entrance gate on their way to the grounds.

At an early hour in the forenoon

the judging continued and was prose-cuted throughout the day. The ar-rangements being complete in every detail, the officials were able to take rangements being complete in every detail, the officials were able to take up each class in its turn and, consequently, all were disposed of even sooner than the most sanguine anticipated. The award of prizes was finished before dark last night and those who had the supervision of the delicate task of placing the prizes are one in the verdict that the exhibition is one of the best balanced ever held on the coast. They state that the stock is as good as the most ambitious could look for; Dr. Bell, who had the poultry in hand, expressed the opinion that the birds in competition, taking them all through, are of a most creditable quality, while the judge of the fruit, J. Shepherd, of Salem, Oregon, is enthusiastic in his praise. Summing up their impressions, the consensus of opinion is that the present exhibition is among the finest, ever held in the north Pacific. Apart from the horse races the event of the afternoon was the third flight of the aeronaut, Prof. Sylvan. Before the balloon was set free the operator was shackled, hand and foot, and securely nailed in a box, the latter haying been made by D. Spencer Lid. He had say difficulty of mastering both shot gun and rifle marksmanship. Mr. Hillis first gave a demonstration of short range pigeon firing, breaking two out of three birds, thrown from the hand, at every attempt. With a 22 he cracked a marble, less than double the size of the bullet, while it was dropping to the ground. With a high power cartridge he found the centre of a half-inch plate of steel, also, throwing the latter some distance into the air.
