planned with a view of effecting a junction with Col. Otter's column, now about twenty miles distant. The Indians are scattering in a direction. Col. Herchmer's advance is regarded as a masterly piece of work. The position is in excellent order. When Col. Herchmer appeared in sight women and children wept and the men shouted their welcome with a vim that may have rather jarred the few redskins about. At any rate they speedily made themselves scarce.

Col. Herchmer reached the crossing at Battle river three miles away last night and camped there, not thinking it wise to cross during the darkness. A detachment from the garrison went down to the ferry and kept guard. The force was large enough to frigate away the hostiles who were prowling around last night. The approach to the town was gained without opposition.

Unfortunately the joy over our success is not unshared, for within the last day or two the Indians have committed more outrages in this district. About a dozen of them were seen last evening and fired Judge Houston's house, indulging in peculiarly fantastic dances in the light of the flames. Another Hudson Bay warehouse has also been fired.

Frank Smart, the young man who was killed on picket duty Wednesday night, was buried with military honors today. The body was conveyed to the grave on a gun carriage, the gun guard forming an escort. Smart was about 27 years of age and came from Glengarry, Ont. He leaves a wife and child in the barracks here. He was shot in the back by an Indian while doing outpost duty about 7 p.m. He was a grain merchant.

A scout just in says Col. Otter's column was expected to camp on the south side of Battle river to-night and cross in the morning. Four scouts had a skirmish yesterday with 30 Indians, but lost them off. A large party of mounted Indians were riding about the hills south of here last night. Signal fires are seen in all directions. The garrison was under arms all last night.

Inspector Dickson reports that trip down the river from Fort Pitt. He states that Foster McLean, Hudson's Bay company, went to the camp to talk with the Indians, but was made prisoner. Under the penalty of death he was required to take all the civilians out of the fort, when the police were to be massacred. Over thirty of all ages, went to the camp, and it is reported that the capture of the fort would cost too many lives the Indians comprised, letting the police and the arms free for the surrender of the fort.

A Responsible View of the Situation. A prominent Winnipeg gentleman, whose authority ought to be trustworthy, writes concerning the rebellion as follows: I understand that some Toronto people were quite excited—more so than most of the people from further west say there is less excitement with them than with us. There seems to be a general impression among the old inhabitants here that there will be very little if any more fighting, and that we are treating the rebels very badly—they had dressed, but were continually being put off with promises of money and other things. I have heard of some of our people being harassed by some of our people. I have heard of some of our people being harassed by some of our people.

A VICTORY FOR IRELAND.

THE HOME RULERS DEFEAT THE GOVERNMENT.

A Stormy Scene in Parliament over the Irish Registration Bill—The Government takes time to consider the Matter.

LONDON, April 24.—There was a stormy discussion in the commons this evening over the bill for the registration of voters in Ireland. Mr. Nolan, home ruler, moved an amendment providing that the charges for registration be paid for by the general government instead of locally. Mr. Gladstone vigorously opposed the amendment. Mr. Chamberlain supported Mr. Nolan's amendment, and claimed that his proposal would cause an additional burden on the taxpayers.

HOW TO FIGHT BARBARIANS.

It happens sometimes that we have to fight barbarians, savages and semi-savages.

The right way of meeting them seems very simple, but it is not so simple as it looks. We should never be lulled by their apparent weakness, and we should never be lulled by their apparent weakness.

THE BOSPHOREAN EGYPTIAN.

FRANCE MAKING A MOUNTAIN OUT OF A MOLEHILL.

England Determined to Uphold Her Rights—France Making a Mountain Out of a Molehill.

LONDON, April 24.—In the house of commons this afternoon Gladstone announced that the French charge d'affaires had called on him today. A subsequent cablegram says that Mr. Gladstone's statement was erroneous.

A Cairo despatch, however, states definitely that the French charge d'affaires in Egypt there, has received orders to suspend all official relations with Egypt and to declare a rupture of relations with the Egyptian government.

The rupture of relations has delayed the departure from Cairo. It is stated that Egyptian officers have been ordered to suspend all official relations with the French government.
