A Question of Many Millions

Hans rule for Ireland, and the settlement of the Irish land question stand with any clearness of detail

How many millions sterling is it to cost the British taxpayer, the luxury of permitting the author of the abortive land bill

1870, and 1881, to carry out another of his interesting experiments

An annual burden of from five to six millions sterling, to be borne by ourselves and transmitted to our generations who will not be the satisfaction of listening to Mr. Gladstone's lucid expostulations, will perhaps appear to some among us a rather high price even for so much labor

the people of this country will be imposed upon by the sham, if their proper leaders and teachers have the courage and manliness to do their duty

The Standard says: "When the people of England and Scotland are asked to support the responsibility for a loss of a hundred and fifty or two hundred millions—mark the sum—they will scarcely ask sentimental professions to show that the risk is not as gratuitous as it is beyond all question serious

Five years ago Mr. Gladstone himself would have denounced such a proposal as the act of a lunatic

In connection with this proposed expenditure of many millions some questions suggested themselves to the British people would have to pay the money, no question about that

But would the Irish landlords get it? No, say some, the most of it would go to Jews and other financiers who hold mortgages on Irish estates

The landlords would hardly get out of debt, with next to nothing to live upon but their wits

The scheme is believed to be based on the expected payment by the tenants of so many years' purchase as rent, after which they would be owners in fee simple

Query here—would they continue to pay for twenty or thirty years, or whatever the term fixed might be? Or would they not at once demand that they be given the land now, without any further payment at all

This question of the future of many millions is going to be a tough one to settle

Justice McCarthy on Chamberlain

This is what Justice McCarthy cables to America respecting Chamberlain: I am told Mr. Gladstone's home rule scheme was submitted to the cabinet to-day

Will Chamberlain accept it? This question I am told Mr. Gladstone's home rule scheme was submitted to the cabinet to-day and found him not so septagintarian as some suppose

He held to the utterly mistaken idea that the Irish people can be weaned from their desire for a national parliament by concessions of the fullness of land and education

He seemed still to hope to satisfy the national desire by doing for the Irish people all that they would do for themselves if he could be a national parliament

He is convinced that he is mistaken in this idea

He would probably not resist any proposal for a scheme for home rule acceptable to the Irish party and to the Irish people

I hope he will not concede from the Gladstone administration, but I refrain from prophecy

A bill has been introduced in the New York legislature to declare the first Monday in September every year a legal holiday, to be known as Labor's Day upon which the labor organizations of the state propose to hold their annual parades and other demonstrations

Here is a suggestion for the "friends of the workingmen" in the Ontario legislature

In a recent characteristic utterance Mr. Ruskin says: "I know French pretty well. With the aid of a dictionary I can read a French novel"

This recalls the Whitechapel lad who remarked: "I know what when he see his. Hit looks like gin"

The Montreal Star tries to take the conceit out of the premier province of Ontario by selling us that "Quebec will be the premier province" at the international exhibition, to which she has contributed one-third of all the exhibits from Canada

The World is always glad to see the elder sister of the Canadian confederacy leading the van in the victories of peace

That sort of rivalry is beneficial to all concerned

It will interest the people of Toronto to learn that the Rev. Dr. Hunter of Hamilton, a prominent minister of the Methodist church, recently from the position taken by Rev. Dr. Fols of this city upon the Irish question

In a sermon preached before the F. B. S. last Sunday Dr. Hunter said that the legislative independence of Ireland is not only desirable, but a political and a moral duty

He said that the friends in Toronto "had achieved somewhat of a sensation," but they had done so by taking for granted two things that could not be granted

"That the Irish people have no grievances, and that the ally of the empire is seriously endangered"

but, and that the Irishness at home was impatient, dissatisfied and miserable because he had grievances, and that those had their source in the want of land to the members of the I. P. B. S. unanimously passed a vote of thanks to Dr. Hunter for his eloquent sermon

The New York Herald's special cable says that Mr. James Collins almost certainly loses his seat for Ipswich

His candidature has been a ludicrous farce

Trotted out by Mr. Chamberlain with the "thrice across the board" resolution, defeating Lord Salisbury's programme, he has now tipped over himself on charges of bribery and corruption

He got a snug office, but only just had one slip at the arena

He bought himself a fine coat suit, which cost $200

He has never yet had a chance of getting into his No. 1 constituency

No member is disposed to show any respect for James

Even his own friends laugh at him from the house at the ridiculous face

His score suit is on sale at the highest bidder

It is worth Mr. Barnum's notice

Liquor legislation seems to bless neither him nor his supporters

Even Bismarck, the all-powerful, has suffered defeat in attempting to regulate the liquor question in accordance with his own ideas of what is best, as expressed in his spirit monopoly bill

The statesman, as well as his adherents, often has occasion to wish that he had "the liquor alone"

Here is a passage from Justice McCarthy's latest lecture, The Home Rule Association of Englishmen and Scotchmen, who are mentioned in a previous letter, is making good progress and doing good work

Lord Ashburnham, a Catholic peer, is president of the Home Rule Association

He has just had a remarkable addition to his number in the person of the Earl of Orford, a descendant of Robert Walpole

Lord Orford not long ago became a convert to the Catholic religion, and is thus drawn into sympathy with the national cause in Ireland

A national illustration of English Philistinism and public opinion to that of one of the great London banks would allow this association to open an account

Sir James Marshall, the treasurer, had to use the London branch of the National Bank of Ireland

Repeal Work

"For two years I was troubled with dyspepsia—could neither labor nor find relief"

Less than one bottle of B.B.R. relieved me of my troubles

So says John A. Rappell of Farmerville, Burdett, Blood Bitters cured dyspepsia, liver and kidney complaints, and all impurities of the system

The Huron and Ontario Ship Canal

Canal Office, 24 Clarence Square, Toronto, March 15, 1886

Editor World: I am too ill to write more than to say that the Huron and Ontario ship canal will be carried out with a look at the South St. Marie on the Canadian side, provided a suitable subsidy in a grant of land or otherwise can be obtained from the government

It is folly to expect a work of such magnitude can be carried out by foreign capitalists without the country which is to be benefited taking at least one-fourth of the interest (one-third of the undertaking, if this grant of land or otherwise can be obtained, an entire new survey will be made free of expense, with plans, estimates of cost and specifications to lay before the proposed parties to carry it out

The party making this offer, it must be remembered, will take the money if he fails to carry out his part of the work

No subsidy of land or otherwise will be asked for until the work is far advanced so as to insure its completion

Surely a water line through Canada for vessels of the Board of Trade of Toronto and others interested in the future of this promising great country

There is not an hour to lose, as it will be necessary to have the charter completed and a clause for the look at the South St. Marie, a new feature in the undertaking

I received a letter this morning to the foregoing effect
