But The Globe thinks others wise and bids Hale farewell. It even accuses him of "violent English," which comes rather richly from an organ whose strong language is its only strength. It implies that he was a laways regarded as a traitor, "an open book," as it says, in which his colleagues all along read deception and dishonesty, and declares that his expulsion "must prove a profound read that his early manufactory contingent."

He finds that the average price of antiracite coal at the American border, for the last completed fiscal year, 1886-87, was $3.67 per ton to Quebec buyers, while to Ontario buyers it was $4.20; a discrimination of 53 cents against Ontario. Which is a reason why The Globe's stood does decline, and ought to.

There are a great many people who think that to go to King-street west for their clothes is a matter of extravagance, but we can assure you that this is not so. If you desire to have a good article you must be prepared to pay a reasonable price for it, no matter where you get it from. J. W. Cheeseworth, the fashionable tailor, 106 King-street west, is getting up really elegant garments, both for ladies and gentlemen's wear, and to patronize him is a matter of economy, with all the advantages of getting superior material, style and workmanship.

Several despatches from Ottawa have hinted that the Government intends to ask Parliament that the Government intends to ask Parliament. border is much greater shan to the border line of Ontario. Mr. Armstrong thinks he knows the reason why.

Quebec, he says, is shielded from the extontion of the American coal ring by its comparative nearness to Nova Scotia, which constitutes a surance that Canada is in a bad way, the say of the American coal ring by its comparative nearness to Nova Scotia, which constitutes a surance that Canada is in a bad way, the comparative nearness to Nova Scotia, which constitutes a surance that Ganada is in a bad way, the comparative nearness to Nova Scotia, which constitutes a surance that Ganada is in a bad way, the comparative nearness to Nova Scotia coal laid down cheaper than at present, then the American combine would quickly drop its prices here too, as well as on its sales to Quebec. But what are you going to do about it?—how bring Nova Scotia coal to Western Ontario at prices below what we are now paring to the American combine?

The question arises, asys Mr. Armstrong-would it not be better to pay a voluntary bouns to conceive on Nova Scotia's coal de livered west than to continue to pay a forced bouns to a forcing ring? Thage seems to be sensething in this suggestion which it would be worth whils for us to take into our serious consideration. Robert Cochran received this despatch from his New York agents to-day:

New York agents to-day:

New York May 4.—The feeling up-town last night was somewhat bullish. It was conceded on all sides that buying during the day has been as good as at any time since bull fover set in. Observing brokers said that such actions were always attributed either to Gould or to Cammack. Yesterday the story was that Gould favored a set back of several points simply because on the first rise he had not gathered in sufficiently large lines to warrant his taking hold of the market for the ultimate improvement which he looked forward to. It was noticeable, however, that during the day his brokers had unlimited orders in W.U. M.P. and Tx. At the close of the market his friends made no secret of the fact that they had been buying for their principal, and said "there is no mistaking Gould's position in the market ket." Russell Sage said last night: "I regard the reaction as the most healthy thing that the market could have."
