Cornwall v. Toronto Next Saturday. The Cornwall Lacrosse Club have requested the Toronto to have their schedule match of Aug. 25 played in Toronto instead of Cornwall. The Cornwalls say that the Rosedale grounds are the best on the Continent, and would rather be at the expense of coming here assured of good turf, liberal patronage and a big crowd. At a meeting held last evening the Toronto agreed to accept the proposition, and the match will consequently be played at Rosedale on Saturday.

Ketchum Lacrosse Club are open to receive challenges; average age under 16 years. Address W. F. Hastings, 23 Leavelle-avenue, city.

BRITANNIA AND VIGILANT TO-DAY.

Went on Show.

The Yanks Failed Again to Start—Carina won on Show. London, Aug. 17.—Carina, receiving a time allowance from Britannia of 33 min 39 sec, was declared the winner of the Commodore's Cup in the race off Hyde to-day. The starters were: Britannia, 4:16.05; Carina, 4:19.40; Carina, 4:47.58.

The Fall Mall Gazette says there is much disappointment in British yachting circles because of the unrequited appearance of the Vigilant in races in the Solent. It also says Mr. Russell will build a new yacht to defend the America Cup.

Lord Dunsen declines next year. The match between the Vigilant and the Britannia for Lord Wolverson's Cup will be settled to-morrow beginning probably at noon. The race will be 15 miles to windward and back. The start will be made from the Noddis unless the wind be easterly, in which case it will be made from the Nab. All present indications are that the wind will favor the start from the Noddis.

A ROMANCE OF SCIENCE.

How Bernard Lauth Invented Cold-Rolls and Shatties.

In a recent issue of this paper was noted the death of Mr. Bernard Lauth, who for more than 60 years had been identified with the manufacture of iron in the United States. An exchange gives the following account of an interesting period in the gentleman's life.

When he made his invention of cold-rolled sheeting he experimented a great deal on thin sheet iron, and was anxious to reach some method by which he could secure a reduction in the thickness of thin sheets and a fine finish for their surface. He knew that he could do this if he could use rolls with a small diameter, but as he attempted to reduce the rolls they would spring and break.

THE CENTER OF THE EARTH.

Said to be Composed of Gold, Platinum and Iridium.

Did you ever stop to consider the fact that in all probability the center of the earth is a globe of gold, iridium and platinum? Says the Chicago Times: "These metals are the most precious of the earth, the iridium at the exact center (that is, providing there is not some heavier metal at present unknown) next and the globe of gold surrounding the other two. But, you say, 'that is a tenable hypothesis?' In answer I would say two proofs at least, and these are: First, the three metals mentioned are the heaviest known substances, compared bulk for bulk; being, in order of weight, iridium, platinum and gold. Second, the earth is naturally attracted to the center of our planet. In the beginning, as Moses would say, the earth was liquid, if not gaseous. In either case the heavy metals mentioned would sink to the center. By gradual condensation the metals settled to the center; iridium first, with the iridium next, and the globe of gold surrounding the other two. But, you say, 'that is a tenable hypothesis?' In answer I would say two proofs at least, and these are: First, the three metals mentioned are the heaviest known substances, compared bulk for bulk; being, in order of weight, iridium, platinum and gold. By gradual condensation the metals settled to the center; iridium first, with the iridium next, and the globe of gold surrounding the other two. But, you say, 'that is a tenable hypothesis?' In answer I would say two proofs at least, and these are: First, the three metals mentioned are the heaviest known substances, compared bulk for bulk; being, in order of weight, iridium, platinum and gold. Second, the earth is naturally attracted to the center of our planet. In the beginning, as Moses would say, the earth was liquid, if not gaseous. In either case the heavy metals mentioned would sink to the center.
