

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
OTTAWA.

The strength and expense of Armed forces of a country depends upon no absolute or natural law.
It relates simply to the circumstances of the time and the probability of the danger actual or potential which threatens the country.