Sir Arthur Currie,
Principal McGill University,
MONTREAL,
P. Que.

Dear Sir Arthur:-

The members of the executive of McGill Graduates' Society of Toronto were very much disappointed in not having had an opportunity of seeing you when you were here over the week-end, as we desired to impress upon you the importance of your attendance at our annual dinner during the first week of May. We will leave the date with you to select. By Constitution our annual meeting should be held about May 1st, and for two years past a dinner has been given the same evening, which was attended in 1920 by Dean Adams, and last year by you and Mr. Jeakins. Nothing would further the interests of McGill in Toronto so much as your attendance at our annual dinner.

A canvass of the graduates has been made during the last two months for support to the Graduates' Society, which I consider as one of the bulwarks of the University. The canvassing committee worked hard and spent much time, but only succeeded in securing thirty new members, whom we must endeavor to keep within the fold.
