

CONTENTS.

INTRODUCTION	Page. 1
--------------------	---------

CHAPTER I.

The author claims English extraction—Causes of the emigration of his ancestors, noticed—His father, a military man, and actively engaged in the war with the parent country—Family losses in consequence—Embarks in trade, but does not succeed—Resolves to remove to the Miami settlements—Preparations for departure—Debate, as to its propriety—The father's opinion predominates—Journey commenced auspiciously—Bad roads and fractured waggon-wheel—Boy lost, and found again—Supposed supernatural visiter—Digression on departed spirits—Beautiful scenery on the Ohio—Safe arrival of the party at Columbia	27
---	----

CHAPTER II.

Notices of the surrounding country—Erection of a house: how to construct one in an American wild—Alarm occasioned by the advance of Indian war-parties—Mutual defence agreed on—Dreadful death of Mr. Abner Hunt—Unheard-of cruelty on the part of the Indians—Their depredations noticed—Presence of mind in a young woman—Outrage committed by a roving bandit—Determination of Government to repress the invaders—Desperate battle, and defeat of the regulars under St. Clair—Disastrous retreat and great loss of life—Astonishing proofs of ferocity and savagism—Vanity of the Indians.....	44
--	----