

What's What In Sport

Straight Heats Decide Three Events on Second Day of the London Races

Wilkes, Ella Nevada and Glenmore the Winners on Rather Heavy Track.

Despite the fact that the morning rain had made the track rather soft, the going at Queen's Park yesterday was almost as good as on the opening day. The threatening skies, which hovered over the city, had no apparent effect on the attendance. The London Concert Band was again present, and provided music between the heats.

Great difficulty was experienced in getting the horses away in the 2:21 race—the first on the programme—and the animals scored at least eight times before it looked like a "go." And then, to cap the climax, Johnnie Mac, who was constantly trying to play the part of Maud, the kicking mule, and would have succeeded but for a strong kicking strap which, by the way, he broke on one or two occasions, slipped as he was going under the wire, and fell flat, throwing at the same moment Annie V. Brino, who was close behind. For a moment it looked as though some damage would be done to either drivers or horses, but eventually everything was righted, and the field was sent to the stables in order to give Mac and Brino an opportunity of getting their gearings in shape again, while Starter Ferguson called for the 2:30 trotters.

Three Events in Straight Heats.

The day's racing as a whole was rather tame, all three events on the card being won in straight heats.

The 2:30 trot was taken by Ella Nevada, who got the lead almost at the start in each heat, and was never headed. She was strongly challenged in the last heat by Gussie Scott, the Toronto mare, owned and driven by J. Burns.

The Time Made in Some of the Heats Was Rather Slow.

In the first trial of this event, Mr. Burns' sulky clashed with another vehicle just after the get-away, and one of the wheels was badly twisted, preventing Burns from doing better than keeping within the flag. In fact, it was afterwards learned that the wheel had been so badly damaged that it was liable to collapse at any moment and that the driver took a big chance in finishing, even in last position, as he did.

In the second heat, with a new sulky, the Toronto man finished third, while Archie, a Brantford gelding, finished second. Lady Quaker led for second position until within a few lengths of the wire, when she went off her feet and finished last.

Deciding Heat Was Slow.

The deciding heat, which, by the way, was driven in just the same sulky as the first one, found Gussie Scott a strong contender in the stretch for first honors, which were won by nearly half a length by Ella Nevada, winner of the race.

Nevada, who was driven by J. Romboough, is a beautiful dapple-gray mare, with coal-black legs, and an easy stride.

The 2:21 pace was practically a repetition of the first race in the matter of the winning horse, J. R. Wilkes, a Sarnia gelding, won three straight heats and the race, hands down. In the initial heat Johnnie Mac became afflicted with another severe attack of "Maudianitis," and after a couple of trials he succeeded in unseating his driver, Hodson, just as the field was coming into the stretch on the first lap. No damage was done, however, and everybody breathed a sigh of relief when the animal was pulled out of the race, for he had been a constant menace and source of trouble to all the other entries.

Probable Winner Was Second.

Miss Aley, owned by C. Barrett, of Parkhill, and who was tipped by many as a probable winner, came in an easy second, while Nettie Bright nosed her way into third position. Nettie Bright also finished second in the next heat, but dropped back to fifth position in the final.

The running race, while also decided in straight heats, was one of the best events on the programme.

Red Tape, a Salamanca, N. Y. horse, was a pronounced favorite for the contest, but Glenmore, Farr & Thompson's game little horse, led him all the way and finished the first heat half a length to the good.

Nigger Joe, an erratic colt, started off like a winner first time away, and led until the one-third pole, when the field, headed by Glenmore, passed him and trimmed him up badly. The black mare rider was anywhere near the 140-pound mark, but it is doubtful if the animal could have done anything had he been running with a 40-pound mount.

The second heat was also won handsily by the Farr & Thompson horse, with Miss Canada, the Dorchester mare, a good second, and coming strong.

TY COBB'S AMBITION

Speaking of pitchers, there are more of them on the Detroit roster than the average fan ever dreams. In addition to the seven men who draw pay for duty on the diamond, there are a few more. Claud Rossman pitched for several years and had a fine curve and a world of speed in that left wing of his. Davy Jones broke in as a pitcher, and so did Sam Crawford. Matty McIntyre pitches a few games every fall when he gets back to Staten Island, and is said to have everything. Schmidt used to pitch down in Missouri and only quit because there was no catcher in the region able to hold him. His speed was something awful. All these, however, graduated from the ranks of the fingers when they developed their present batting and all-round ability. Most of them could undoubtedly pitch a very fair game at short notice right now, although none of them ever above list, who never pitched much ball, but who is greatly ambitious to do so. This is Ty Cobb. Ty thinks he would make a very passable twirler with a bit of experience and keeps working along this line every day. Not an afternoon passes in which he does not take the practice firing line with the pitchers and hence he cuts loose a line of speed and curves that would astonish those not acquainted with his ability. Of late he has been practicing on the spit ball and has achieved considerable success in it, though not able as yet to control the silky style with anything like regularity. Hughie Jennings hoots at Cobb's ambition to twirl. "Seventeen years ago, old boy, I had an arm just as good as yours," he remarked the other day, "and I did not lose it by pitching, either. Save that speed for throwing out men at the plate."—Detroit Times.

THE TURF

PETER PAN ALL THE WAY.

New York, June 11.—Taking the lead at the third-furlong pole in the Standard stakes today, Peter Pan, Jas. R. Keene's Belmont stakes winner, made the pace for his field all the way round and won by a length from Electioneer, with Fliptrap third. The distance was a mile and a quarter and the time 2:05 3-5. The day's winners were: Charles Edwards 2 to 5, Maxmar 8 to 1, Bright Boy 3 to 1, Peter Pan 15 to 20, Bright Boy 3 to 1, Queen Marguerite 13 to 5.

BECK HORSES UNPLACED.

London, Eng., June 11.—In the international Horse Show Hon. Adam Beck's horses were unplaced in the jumping contests yesterday.

LACROSSE.

WATFORD'S FIRST GAME.

Watford, June 11.—The first lacrosse game ever played in Watford was played here, when the Petrolia team defeated the local club, the Watford players made a good showing against the Oil Town's strong team, the final play being 4 to 0. Stratford plays here on Thursday evening. The lineup:

Watford—Chatterton, goal; Willoughby, point; L. Dods, coverpoint; L. Johnston, first home; C. Dods, second home; Ferguson, third home; W. Johnston, center; P. Dods, first defense; Anderson, second defense; Taylor, third defense; A. Johnston, outside home; Stapleford, inside home.

Petrolia—Mundy, goal; Drummond, point; English, coverpoint; McCurdy, first home; Pollard, second home; McRae, third home; Brodick, cover; Yerkes, first defense; Strett, second defense; Kelly, third defense; Bryans, outside home; McKnight, inside home.

Referee—D. Farr, Stratford.

PALMERSTON BLANKED.

Palmerston, June 11.—The first lacrosse match of the season was played in the driving Park grounds here between Mount Fore and Palmerston and resulted in a win for the visitors by a score of 3 to 0.

This signals Palmerston's entry into lacrosse, this being the first matched game they ever played as a team, and only two or three of the players having played lacrosse till this season.

HOCKEY.

GOT GOLD WATCHES.

Woodstock, June 11.—The members of last season's Woodstock junior hockey team were presented by the management of the club with gold watches as slight appreciation of their excellent showing, and upon the clean and satisfactory showing they made during the hockey season. Those who were thus honored were: R. Childs, George Paltridge, J. Thompson, J. Sutherland, W. LaFlamme and Earl Guston, Gordon Sutherland. Manager Jack McLeellan and Trainer Tom Harvey were presented with substantial purses.

There is a well-defined whisper going the rounds among the officials of the London Trotting and Pacing Association, that a running meet is among the possibilities for next season. The innovation would indeed prove popular and an immense financial success.

It is a well-known fact that the harness horse contests suffer by comparison with the runners in many ways, but principally in the matter of starting. There is a snap and a vim about the manner in which the runners get away that appeals to all classes of race-goers, and if a good class of the bangtails can be brought here Queen's Park should be well patronized each day of the meet.

STIR 'EM UP, DAN.

Considerable comment was made the track yesterday in reference to the large number of scores required to get the nags away in the harness races, and the consensus of opinion seems to be that Starter Ferguson is by far too lenient with the drivers. Three or four scores should be enough for any old horse; after that a few fines here and there would be just the proper caper. It is a well-known fact that certain drivers always take advantage of a starter's leniency in order to allow the other fellows to "score their heads off," and time and time again yesterday, and on Monday, some of the drivers held their charges behind the field, and apparently made no effort to get up with the bunch.

Leniency to drivers may appeal to a few people, but it is certainly hard on the spectators, who are kept waiting a half-hour before a race begins. Get after them, Dan. The crowd will be with you.

MONDAY'S FAVORITE "ALL IN."

Victoria, the Woodstock mare, which broke down in the running race at Queen's Park on Monday, has been shipped home. At first it was thought that her lameness was of such a nature that she could be got into shape for Thursday's or Friday's race, but that was found to be impossible. Victoria, who has been running for years, was tipped off to be the real thing in Monday's 5½-mile dash, but she went lame when within a few feet of the wire and came in third.

IS NIGGER JOE A CART HORSE?

Nigger Joe, the Middlemiss colt, which yesterday ran in the "also" class, hadn't had a rider on his back for two months previous to the race, and from the showing he made, a coal wagon or a milk cart would be about his limit. Of course, he is only a colt, and with experience and conditioning may show up all right later on, but he'll have to hurry. His rider, too, reminded one of a fat kid riding a hobby-horse on a merry-go-round.

THE QUOTING TOURNAMENT.

The Forest City Quoit Club will hold its annual tournament earlier this year than has been the custom for several years past. Aug. 25, 27 and 28 are the days set for the tournament for 1907, which will mean that the play will be in weather suitable for the game. Jim Bell is the present holder of the Hyman trophy, and having won it twice he will do his best to land it again, and thus become its permanent owner. However, Jim has to reckon with Bob Callender, of Toronto, who has twice won the prize and will attempt to repeat in August. Callender has been practicing regularly, but Bell has been unable to do so, owing to the very unfavorable weather. Should some quoter other than Bell and Callender come along this year and land the trophy it will be no little surprise, and it will also mean that the permanent ownership of the mug will be delayed for another year at least. The programme for the tournament has not yet been drawn up, but it will include events in which prizes to the value of at least $150 will be given.

CRICKET MOVE IS SUCCESSFUL

Two District Associations Already Formed, and More Are To Follow.

Toronto, June 11.—The efforts of the Canadian Cricket Association to form district associations throughout Canada is meeting with success, and the special committee which has the matter in hand is confident that the movement will meet with even greater success before the close of the season.

Mr. W. McCaffrey, chairman of the committee, is highly pleased with the results so far, and says that already two districts have been formed, one embracing Guelph, Berlin, Brantford and Galt, while the other takes in Chatham, Windsor, and that section of the country.

Several other towns had been heard from, and they all thought the movement a good one and promised to work the matter up at once.

Toronto will be divided into two sections, the great increase in the number of teams allowing of this. Winnipeg is taking the matter up, and will have a six-team district. Several years ago Winnipeg was without a cricket organization of any kind, but now, with the great influx of Englishmen, the game has taken a strong hold.

The chief object in encouraging the movement was to enable the Cricket Association in becoming acquainted with the leading cricketers throughout the country, and enabling the association to choose a representative all-Canadian team for international competitions. In the past such a team has been composed principally of men from Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, etc., and it has always been held that the rural districts should have representation.

At a meeting of the C. C. A. on Monday night last, the matter will be further dealt with and the Toronto districts formed.

DISSENSION ON NEW YORK TEAM

Owner and Griffith Quarrel, It Is Said—Philadelphia After Detroit Players.

New York, June 11.—Killian is importing Jennings to let him have another shot at the Highlanders this afternoon, and Jennings will probably give Ed a chance to redeem his poor work of yesterday. If a right-hander is chosen it will be Donovan.

Griffith, as usual, doesn't know who he will pitch. It may be Chesney, Happy Jack, according to the Detroiters, had a lot Saturday, and his splitter was worked nicely.

Schaefer is out of the game, much to his disgust. "Dutch" wrenched his back yesterday and the injury is so painful that he will do bench duty for several days. He had just learned how to sting them safe, batting left-handed, and will follow this style of hitting when he resumes play.

Sam Crawford is modest. Asked how he was hitting them, he said: "Up in the air." His swatting average for two games here is .444, and he has batted in three runs and scored twice.

Well-defined rumor is about that there is trouble between Frank Parrell and Clark Griffith and that there may be a shake-up in the Highlanders shortly.

Claude Rossman views with alarm any deal that might land him in Washington. He has played for Cancellation before.

Connie Mack last night wired Secretary Frank Navin in an effort to buy Jerry Downs.

BASEBALL.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEAMS PLAY.

In a friendly six-innings game of baseball last night the First Methodist Sunday School defeated Dundas Central Methodist Sunday School on Queen's Park diamond by a score of 9 to 1. Batteries—Tambling and Crouch; Broadwaite and Banghart.
