of Scripture built upon th In Reformation Time.

In the time of the reformation, he ontinued, the doctrine of transubtantiation was the citadel of the stantiation was the citadel of the Roman Catholic position. The doctrine of the infallibility of the pope became a dogma of the Roman Catholic Church in the year 1870, within the preacher's own life-time and own recollection.

More recently than 75 years ago, a catechism of the Roman Catholic Church, issued by the authority of the highest dignitaries of the church in the British Isles, negatived the question. "Is the pope personally infallible?" branding this as a "Protestant fabrication and invention, and not a Catholic dogma."

of the infallibility of the pope until 1870," he said.

Commenting further on the subject of the creed of the infallibility of the pope, he attacked the three reasons given by the church, holding such creed: (1) St. Peter credited as the founder of the church was supreme over the apostles; (2) St. Peter was Bishop of Rome; (3) St. Peter transmitted to his successors of the See of Rome his power.

"Imagine a pope of Rome of the present time being sent on a mission by the church," was a comment.

So far as Peter being bishop of Rome was concerned, the preacher maintained there is not a tittle of contemporary evidence to support this claim.

"How could Peter transmit supremacy he did not possess to successors he did not possess to successors he did not possess?" was a question raised.

THE MODEL PRAYER AND THE IMPOSSIBLE. To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Above all things else God desires that man should hold in the highest regard and greatest estimation his character of justice, mercy, brotherly kindness, fellowship, neighborliness, friendship, equality one with another, helpfulness, service, for unless man hallows God's name, he is steering towards disester.

ame, he is steering towards disaster for himself ending in destruction.

The will of God will be done in earth as it is done in heaven, for God's name shall cover the earth as the waters the sea. The unequitable will destroy themselves by refusing to be friendly, Man, by accepting God's fellowship, will come into his own.

Our daily bread comes, from God. Disaster will overtake every man who hogs it for himself. Every man who hogs it for himself. Every man who hogs it for himself. Every man who have up for his private benefit more than his fair equitable share, or who is not willing to share and share allke with His neighbor is drawing down destruction on his own head. He cannot escape. It is impossible. It is the unpardonable sin. From the creation of the world it is the law of the universe. All the law and the prophets cried aloud the absolute necessity of observing that law, and God so loved the world that he sent Jesus to live and die, and rise again so that he might enable man to keep that law; for there is no other name under heaven given among men whereby man can be saved. Man must acquire the name or character of Jesus or he cannot be saved. It is impossible. To refuse is the great refusal. It is the unpardonable sin. Come unto me, says Jesus, learn of me, be my friend. Entreaty can do no more.

It want to maintain here that your

It want to maintain here that your

It want to maintain here that your prayer will be answered literally as you pray it, for exactly as you forgive your debtors, so will your debts be forgiven. God judges no man. Every man pronounces his own sentence. It is his free choice. When Pilate sat before the bar of Jesus, Jesus did not pronounce his sentence of condemnation. Pilate did it himself. So it is always. Every man chooses his own manner of destruction. Your prayer or greatest desire shall be answered. If you want to be forgiven exactly as you forgive your debtors it shall be zone unto you. It is impossible that it should be otherwise, for as you treat your neighbor so shall you be treated. It is unavoidable.

The friendly man cannot die. God The friendly man cannot die. God The friendly man cannot die. God destroys no man. God judges or condemns no man. God entreats man to be friendly, he loves him so. Man condemns himself by refusal and then makes a choice of the particular manner of destruction he most desires.

Turn ye, turn ye. Why will ye die? The spirit and the bride say come. And let him that heareth say come. And let him that is athrist come, and whosoever will let him take the water of life freely.

whosoever will let him who fel-of life freely.

The friend has life; the man who fel-lowships his brother has life; he that doeth righteousness has life; he that treats his neighbor equally as well as himself has life; for life is fellowship, brotherhood, friendship, equality, otherhood, friendship, equality, eighborliness, and the man who lives that kind of life cannot die.
