The Toronto World Y.M.C.A. Building Fund Reaches Magnificent Total of $685,000

$35,000 SURPLUS BEGINS EXTRA CAMPAIGN FOR Y.W.C.A.-GUILD PROJECTS

Women's Organizations to Amalgamate, and Sum of $150,000 Will Be Raised to Meet Their Needs.

$72,500 TO BEGIN WITH 3 DAYS TO RAISE TOTAL

The Final Day

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Total Saturday noon: $585,803.01. Citizens' committee: 29,273.25. Business Men's committee: 60,039.75. Young men's committee: 10,687.00. Grand total: $685,803.01.

With all world's records for raising money beaten to a point where Toronto's achievement will stand supreme for some years to come, the giant $600,000 building fund campaign of the Young Men's Christian Association came to a close last night with a subscription list amounting to a grand total of $685,803.01. The features have been organization and enthusiasm. Probably this was best disclosed when A. E. Huestis announced the total for the day as $97,978.14. E. R. Wood asked if anybody wanted to assume the balance of $2100 to make it an even $100,000. R. W. Eaton looked at his team with a set jaw walked down to the head table and conversed quietly with Mr. Wood, and then declared: "I will take half if John Godfrey takes the other half."

"I will accept his bluff," said Noel Marshall, who was acting captain in Mr. Godfrey's absence. So the total went up to $100,000. "This is one of the best moments in my life," said J. M. Godfrey, when he came in late. "I have driven thirty miles in an automobile to be here, and had to get the judge's order to do so. I incidentally got $100 from the judge for the campaign. Now we have gone so far, and placed the Y. M. C. A. on a permanent footing, why not turn over and help the young women?"

Making Use of the Surplus. "What are we going to do with that extra $35,000?" asked Mr. Godfrey. "Let us get out and help the women. I have sat here to-night and wondered what we were going to do with the other three days. Why not get along and raise $150,000? I can guarantee another $30,000 or $40,000 from my team. We have only gotten our second wind. What I say is this: Let us stop talking, let us get down to business. I think we ought to get to business and clean up $150,000 for the women, and place their work on a permanent basis as well."

E. R. Wood, chairman of the citizens' committee, declared himself to be in entire accord with Mr. Godfrey's proposal. As the campaign was first intended to run for twelve days, the remaining three days might be devoted to securing this amount to help the Young Women's Christian Association and Young Women's Christian Guild, both of which were struggling under the burden of heavy mortgages. To better accomplish the desired result both these organizations would be amalgamated under a suitable name, with a competent board of management.

When the question was put to the meeting the unanimous voice was to devote to-day, to-morrow and Thursday to a three days' whirlwind for this added undertaking. The proposal is to divide the money in the following manner: Total value of present property $200,000. Amounts needed: For mortgages $53,000. For proposed additions $33,000. For extension and renovating $12,000. For incidental work $2,000. For home for girls coming into city for employment $50,000.

Subsequent to the decision to conduct a three days' whirlwind to raise $150,000, Mr. Wood announced $10,000 from a friend thru Mrs. J. N. Shenstone, president of the Y. W. C. A., and $2500 from Cawthra Mulock. This makes the standing of the fund at the outset:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Amount. Canadian Manufacturers' Association: $35,000. Mrs. Shenstone (a friend): $10,000. Cawthra Mulock: $2,500. Total: $72,500.

The transfer of $35,000 is accomplished by E. R. Wood and J. C. Eaton withdrawing their cards for $50,000 each and making the amounts in each case $32,500, and filling in a new card for the Y. W. C. A. for $17,500.

The scenes in the campaign headquarters last night were inspiring. The large room was filled with the young men and some older ones who have been on the firing line for the past ten business days. A number of ladies also were present.

When Mr. Wood called for order he was greeted with well-remembered words and the singing of "He's a Daisy," lasting several minutes. The cheering and applause was renewed as the various team captains reported on the past ten days.

"Five hundred and thirteen subscriptions," remarked John B. Gould, whose team ranked fourth on the young men's committee.

"That's the record," interposed John Turnbull, chairman. Mr. Gould's total for the day was $2948, the bulk of which was made up of two hundred and sixty-three subscriptions of $1 each. The four leaders on the young men's committee are: A. J. Malcolm, $3785; W. N. Stock, $3682; H. P. Peacock, $3665; and John B. Gould, $3578.

E. R. Wood reported for the citizens' committee 14 subscriptions, amounting to $29,273.25.

R. W. Eaton again repeated his famous sixty-four, which gave a total of $1,689.

W. G. Trethewey's subscription of $5000 was the occasion of an amusing incident. He wired Mr. Wood to "put me down for $5000." R. W. Eaton meanwhile wired Mr. Trethewey that he had to give $5000, adding "J. C. says so."

"Well, if J. C. says so, I'll have to do it," was the reply. "Here's $5000." Delighted.

"I am perfectly delighted at the result of this campaign," said Mr. Wood. "The banding together of this company of men in this great city and working for nine days with no other object in view, save a great public good, augurs well for the days to come. It is the most remarkable example that I have ever seen of the power of organization and co-operation, and I am quite sure that the result is even more gratifying than the most sanguine of us anticipated."

"Personally, I thank you one and

ONTARIO'S PROBLEMS

The World says that the third generation of Ontario country folk is not so fit as the first settlers. They die out or to weaker. Nature has been too severe for them. The average family can not hold its own in the province unless it is well equipped to fight the climatic conditions. Good roads, and good and cheap traction in order to secure living touch with the supplies and comforts that are to be got in the towns; drainage of farms so as to make farming successful; good houses and hygienic conditions; municipal and provincial co-operation are necessary to secure all these. One proof is that the country in many places is going backward; the people are leaving; the farms are worse cultivated.

Here is a letter from a commercial traveler who knows the country east of Toronto in regard to the backward condition of things in Ontario. It confirms The World's views on the problems of Ontario:

Editor World: In reference to Ontario's problems, more particularly eastern Ontario: In the first place I think the Ontario Government should establish another branch or sub-station of the Guelph experimental farm, say at either Belleville, Peterboro or Kingston. From personal observations Eastern Ontario in many respects is away behind Western Ontario in farm equipment, traction and train service, also farm buildings; too many stumps and stones on the land; some places very poorly drained. As you have stated, the people are moving away to other sections for the simple reason that the town councils or township councils do not take sufficient interest in the localities. They should get some ginger into them like the Y. M. C. A. campaigners. If the ground is in good condition farmers will get more products, and revenue is bound to increase and taxes decrease. A farmer wants to study the farm as a man does his business; make things more congenial for the help.

Fruit farms, outside of apples, are very scarce in Eastern Ontario. The Ontario Government should provide more instructors and spend more money in the east. From a traveler's point of view, trade is getting less. Re-forestation should have been started all along the line, for in less than five years we will see out of firewood in Ontario. As to railway service of main line of G. T. R. it is simply rotten. Take from Toronto to Campbellford, all a good country, one train at night and one in early morning. Other points same way. Manufacturing towns such as Ottawa, Belleville, Peterboro, etc., have their local situation, held meetings, and started in to get goods out of these towns to the surrounding townships an improvement would be made. The government could come in with drainage and reforestation and other things. But somebody ought to get busy.

What does this show? Poor farming, little drainage, lots of stumps, people leaving, villages, in fact, everywhere, inferior railway service, and that something should be done. The writer favors action on the part of government and municipalities.

We believe that if the towns of Ottawa, Whiteby, Belleville, etc., each took up the local situation, held meetings, and started in to get goods out of these towns to the surrounding townships an improvement would be made. The government could come in with drainage and reforestation and other things. But somebody ought to get busy.

Here is another letter: Editor World: The preacher whose letter you present is right as regards the desirability of drainage and good roads to wards settling the west. The voters' municipal administration must have its activities directed towards securing the ear of all voters quickly on any question of common interest which might be done by a traveling missionary speaking at regular periods in each locality throughout the county or township. The voters, thus warmed up to the importance of any action on the part of the government tending to the betterment of transportation on road or rail, or any other public necessity. Nature has given climate and soil and it needs but manual labor to make of Ontario a perfect garden provided government economic measures are put in statutory form to facilitate the farmer in his work.

Australia, New Zealand and Germany have done so, but it yet remains for the parliamentary trustees of Ontario to act. It is rumored they are about to change the usury laws. It is to be hoped any action on this line will modify the privileges now enjoyed by mortgages. On the 11th of March last it was advertised The Land Mortgage Companies Association had assets to the sum of $106,162,187. Was this amount the result of expropriation? If so, we have therein the reason of the depopulation. The countries above quoted have set up land banks to aid agriculturists over the little impediments that here cause ruin by money extortion.

Anxious Enquirer. The assistant secretary of agriculture of the United States discusses "back to the land" in Munssey's Magazine. He regards the situation of the unemployed in the cities as serious. He also points out that fewer people than ever are on the farm, and are likely to be, as one person with modern machinery produces more grain and

CONNAUGHT TO SUCCEED EARL GREY

LONDON, May 9.—The Express says it understands that the Duke of Connaught is likely to succeed Earl Grey, it being the particular wish of the late King. An official announcement may be expected shortly. It is suggested also that the duke should open the South African parliament first. The Express says that no better appointment could be made. It would strike the popular imagination surely and instantly.

ARRIVAL OF CRUISER TO BE GREAT OCCASION

Expected That Troops From Several Provinces Will Be Present. HALIFAX, May 9.—(Special.)—G. E. Boak, chairman of the committee in charge of the proposed Niobe celebration of the cruiser's arrival here, returned from Ottawa to-day. The original intention was that the ship should reach Halifax on Dominion Day, but owing to the fact that the admiralty are putting in cadets' quarters, so that the cruiser may be used as a training ship, and installing a steam heating outfit, her arrival may be delayed till the third week in July. However, the government has promised to make every effort to expedite this work.

THOS. CANBY ARRESTED

Identified as Man Who Shot Two Montreal Constables. MONTREAL, May 9.—(Special.)—Thos. Canby of Liverpool, England, right watchman at Ames, Holden & Co., boot and shoe manufacturers, was arrested this evening and identified as the man who shot Constables Fortin and O'Connell. The credit of Canby, who resigned his position this morning, saying that his wife had written him to go home. The accused stole the rubbers from their bishop, Mrs. Bernard of St. Hyacinthe, and who were condemned to submit by the papal delegate, have decided to appeal direct to the sovereign pontiff.

WILL APPEAL TO THE POPE

MONTREAL, May 9.—(Special.)—The priests of Ste. Marie de Manoir College, who started a new institution at St. John's in opposition to their bishop, Mrs. Bernard of St. Hyacinthe, and who were condemned to submit by the papal delegate, have decided to appeal direct to the sovereign pontiff. They say: "In spite of the respect which we have for the apostolic delegate, we believe that his excellency has exceeded his prerogative in taking from our college rights obtained by virtue of the civil code and of the canon constitution."

COMET RED AS KING DIES

Strange Change of Color Seen by Bermuda Observers. NEW YORK, May 9.—The Tribune publishes the following wireless despatch from the St. Bernard in Bermuda waters: On the night of the death of King Edward a phenomenon was observed at Bermuda and recorded by a scientist who was watching Halley's comet, which first became visible at about 2 o'clock in the morning. At 12:30 o'clock the fort near Hamilton began firing the salute of 191 guns to the new King at intervals of two minutes, and as the last gun was fired, at exactly 3:52 o'clock, the comet's tail flared red. The head also became a ball of red fire, and the phenomenon continued for five minutes. Many negroes working on the docks refused to work long, and fell to their knees and prayed. In their superstition they explained that the occurrence boded no good for the reign of George V. Several large parties are expected at Bermuda this month to observe the comet.

WESTERN FARMERS WANT RAIN

Winnipeg, May 8.—The weekly crop report of the Canadian Northern, received to-day, indicates that good progress is being made in sowing the coarse grains. All the wheat seeding is done and much of it is showing above the ground. The dry weather has been favorable for sowing, but in many of the districts a rain would now be welcome. A number of the agents of the company report that the farmers are looking anxiously for a good downpour.

NO LIVING PERSON HAS BEEN TAKEN FROM RUINS

More Than 1,000 Dead—Condition of Survivors of Earthquake Precarious. SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 9.—More than 1000 dead have been taken from the ruins of Cartago. No one is allowed within the precincts of the devastated city except the red cross workers and gangs of soldiers and volunteers employed in clearing away the debris, removing the bodies and dynamiting the dangerous buildings. Most of the survivors of the earthquake are now at San Jose. Medicines and food supplies from the warships are being rushed from Port Limon, but the condition of those who still remain around the city makes it necessary that extraordinary measures should be taken to provide assistance and shelter for them.

PROCLAIMING TO HUGE CROWDS BAREHEADED IN RAIN

Brilliant and Impressive Ceremonies in London—Deafening Hurrahs and Hearty Singing of National Anthem When Proclamation is Read. LONDON, May 9.—With the time-honored ceremony of a most brilliant and impressive character, George V. this morning was proclaimed King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the British dominions beyond the seas, defender of the faith, and Emperor of India.

Sharply at the stroke of nine, four heralds arrayed in medieval uniforms of scarlet, heavily braided with gold, mounted the balcony of Friars' Court in the Tower of London, where Queen Victoria presented herself to the people upon the opening of her memorable reign and blew thru their long silver trumpets. The precincts of the palace were crowded with a great mass of people, many of whom could secure but the briefest glimpse of the monarch. The balconies and roofs of the ancient palace, which had been draped with red cloth, were reserved for the notables, all of whom were in the deepest mourning. Members of the royal household, the ministers and their wives and high officers of state, all in brilliant uniforms, were gathered around the court. General Sir John D. French, with the headquarters staff of the British Expeditionary Force, in full dress uniform, stood surrounded by a troop of horse guards in their red tunics and breast plates of polished steel. From the windows of Marlborough house, immediately opposite, the Duke of Cornwall, the young heir to the throne, the younger prince and Princess Alice, watched the ceremony. The heralds, having completed their duties, the officers of arms, chief of whom is the Duke of Norfolk, the hereditary earl marshal and chief officer of England, took their places on the balcony, forming the great heraldic company. None of the heralds, having been removed for the occasion, Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty, garter principal king of arms, with the Duke of Norfolk and two officers bearing the staffs of office, stepped to the front of the balcony and in a voice which could be heard across the square, in the streets adjoining, read the proclamation, while great throngs stood unmoving in a drizzling rain. The duke and Sir Alfred then called for three cheers for the king, and the people responded with deafening hurrahs, which were attended only by the reappearance of the heralds, who sounded another fanfare. The last note hardly had died away when the Duke of Devonshire, who had taken up a position in the square, struck up "God Save the King." The young princes, from their point of vantage in the windows of Marlborough House, stood with their hands at salute and the officers and troops stood at attention.
