MOTOR CAR BACKING UP
RUNS OVER A CHILD

When he ran behind a motor car which was backing up, Melville Nix, aged six years, of 47 Bruce street, was injured internally yesterday afternoon. Nix was playing on Ossington avenue when he ran behind Albert Smith's car which was backing into the garage at 59 Ossington avenue. One of the wheels of the car ran over the little boy's body. The child was removed to the Hospital for Sick Children.

COMPLAIN OF POOR POLICE PROTECTION

Manager of Office Entered by Burglars Enters Protest—Horse Sheds Removed.

The office of the Weston Coal & Lumber Co., Eagle avenue, was entered by burglars on Thursday morning, about 2 o'clock, and a Taylor safe blown into a distorted mass of metal. The office itself, which was a small but comfortable structure, connected with a Welsh scale, was shattered, and the walls and ceiling smeared and smudged with the explosive. The desperadoes were started from their work, however, before they rifled the small amount of cash in the drawer and made precipitate retreat toward the city by auto. The explosion and the racing auto were heard by one person only, a Mrs. Moore, of the Eagle House, corner of Eagle avenue and Weston road, who was unable to sleep on account of toothache.

"We have police protection from neither the town of Weston nor from the county of York," said H. H. Rudolph, manager of the company, to The World. "At present Chief Campbell is away on vacation, and there is nobody taking his place. When he is here, he is the only man for both night and day, and to the day they have him digging ditches and making repairs. We are assessed for police protection, but we don't get it."

"As for the county, we notified Chief Constable Phillips first thing in the morning, but it was 4 o'clock in the afternoon before anything was done. We pressed everything as we found it, but when Sherlock Holmes did get here, he said: 'Oh! those are only ordinary footprints. I can't do anything.'"

This is the third time this office has been broken into within a year. The company's books, which record thousands of dollars of credit, are in a state of chaos.

Horse Sheds Removed.

The Methodist Church horse sheds, which for the greater part of a century have stood on Main street, Weston, have been moved eastward, back upon the old cemetery ground, still to be used as a driving shed for the public.

"We decided that the churches owed something of this nature to the community, and that they had been largely instrumental in dispersing the horse, which had given this service," said Rev. W. J. Stewart, pastor of the church. "Last fall we had the bodies removed from the old cemetery to a plot we bought in the public cemetery, but the snow came by, so we had all the monuments and tombstones removed, too, as required by law. This was done this spring. There may be some bodies still there that were buried possibly 75 or 100 years ago. We uncovered a few stones after we thought we had everything cleared, when we were digging."

The caretaker's house has also been removed back from Main street, and has been placed upon a stone foundation. The land will be used partly as a park and partly subdivided or building lots on both Main and King streets.

FINISHING SECOND SCHOOL EXTENSION

The $85,000 extension to Second School, Barrington avenue, will be completed in readiness for the opening day, Sept. 7. Desks and other fixtures are now being placed in position. The school building of 20 rooms is one of the finest in Ontario, and contains, among other up-to-date improvements, a swimming pool and assembly hall. Accommodation will be provided for 1000 children.

It is intended to use the building as a community centre after school hours for the young people of the district. When it is considered that six teachers were found sufficient for the number of pupils enrolled five years ago, the present staff of 20, with Principal D. G. Anderson, will require to be enlarged within a short time, owing to the remarkable growth of the district.

WILL JOIN FORCES IN PHONE RATES PROTEST

Sgt. Major J. McNamara, D.C.M., M.L.A. for Riverdale, in an interview with The World yesterday stated he would join forces with the residents in the east end in protesting the Bell Telephone's attempt to increase their rates, and will also join in the protest against increased freight rates, which he claims are not justified by falling markets. The member for Riverdale has finished a course of training in the use

DISCUSS FORMING BOARD OF TRADE

A meeting of the leading merchants and business men of Eastcourt was held at 1659 Dufferin street last night to make preliminary arrangements for instituting a board of trade for Eastcourt and the districts of Fairbank, Silverthorn, Oakwood and Wychwood. After an hour's discussion it was decided to call another meeting in a few days, when officers will be elected and a general invitation extended to all business men in the district to attend. The first list of names of men who are interested in this movement includes E. R. Charles, Mr. A. Brilinger, W. M. Maltby, Bell Bros., H. R. Ald, Brook Sykes, Reeve Fred Miller and Fred Clark. Others will be added at the forthcoming meeting.

A memorial service is to be held in the Prospect Park Methodist Church on Sunday, when the ceremony of unveiling the memorial tablet will take place. Ambulance cadets, G.A.U.V., G.W.V.A., and members of the B.I.A. will attend. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. J. C. Wilson, and the preacher will be Capt. (Rev.) Roy Richards.
