The critics make the following essential points:

1. IT IS TIMELY.

This is a sceptical age, and an antidote is required. The Baltimore Methodist says:—"This book will help the believer to stop the mouth of the fool." The Methodist Review says:—"Of the many books issued from the religious press of the country, few are so well adjusted to the modern spectacle of agnosticism in collision with faith, or so adroitly uncover the strategic positions and the infirm methods of assault on one side, or so comprehensively proclaim the truth, with its auxiliary supports, on the other, as this substantial octave from one of the gifted writers of Methodism."

2. IT IS POPULAR.

It was made for the people. Bishop Newman remarks that "while it is scholarly for the scholar, it makes plain for the average mind. General Fisk pronounces it magnificent."

3. IT IS BRIEF, YET COMPREHENSIVE.

Most theologians require about three volumes in which to set forth the doctrines and evidences of Christianity, but here you have them in one volume of 550 pages. The Religious Telescope pronounces it "one of the best books in the range of theological literature." And the Methodist Protestant designates it as a specimen of "strong and vigorous thinking."

4. IT IS BRIGHT AND USABLE.

The Westeyan Advocate observes that there are "suggestions for many sermons in it." The Sunday-school Journal notes that "it is broken up into short articles, with a journalistic brightness in them which makes the book not only readable, but also enjoyable."

5. IT IS OF PERMANENT VALUE.

It will live when other books are dead. It is the author's favorite. The Northern Christian Advocate says: "The book is a noble one, that might well be the crowning work of a life. It is a book for the people and for every day." The New York Christian Advocate notes that it is "rich in the truths which have blessed many believers, and supported many when assailed by doubt."—Western Christian Advocate.
