

"A GOOD PLACE TO BUY GOOD CLOTHES"

SUIT SENSE

In selecting a suit, for satisfaction's sake select one that meets your own personal idea in style, fit, price and quality—if you can find it. Too often suit buyers find a suit that suits in style, but the price is too high. Or it does not fit perfectly. Or everything is all right but the LASTING qualities. Some one item is sufficiently "off" to mar what might be perfect satisfaction.

In our new lines of worthy Winter Suits we feel that we have enough styles, a sufficient range of prices, and quality uniformly high enough, to be reasonably sure of EXACTLY suiting every man who enters our store.

Will you call on us and let us prove that we are right in your case? Stylish suits, suits for service, good values, moderate prices, perfect fit, lasting elegance—all these rolled into one make the perfect suit, the suit you want and the suit we can supply.

CHURCHILL REFUSED HEARING

A free hand in the matter of general legislation; or, shall the House of Lords be allowed to reform itself and, making certain concessions, as to its composition, remain in a position to check the activities of the lower chamber as the peers may consider inconsistent with the welfare of the empire. The Unionists or Conservatives stand for the latter proposition while the Liberals or government party seek to reform the upper chambers on its own lines.

Lloyd George Breaks Down
Chancellor Lloyd George has broken down under the strain of the campaign and cancelled all his engagements today. He hopes to resume speaking next week. Mr. Churchill was refused a hearing at Lincoln this afternoon. Customary speech-making on polling days, and the opposition was so persistent that the home secretary was obliged to desist and to give pledges that he would not attempt again to speak. During the rumpus there were several free fights in the audience.

To Aid of the Irish Party
Boston, Dec. 3.—The United Irish league of Boston has called a special meeting for tomorrow evening at the American House, when measures will be taken to lend financial and moral support to Mr. Redmond and the Irish party in the electoral struggle in which they are now engaged.

More than one-half the amount pledged at the meeting addressed by Mr. Redmond in symphony hall a few weeks ago—$15,000—has already been contributed and Sunday night's meeting is being held for the purpose of raising the balance of the amount then pledged.

The cry raised by the English press that "American dollars" are going to break up the British constitution, has aroused the friends of the Irish movement as they have not been aroused for years, and the response to the call of the Irish leader is likely to be proportionately satisfactory.

Already from several centres outside of Boston the national treasurer of the United Irish league of America, T. D. Fitzpatrick, has received encouraging messages and promises of financial support for the Irish party. What has ended in view meetings are in progress of arrangement in Worcester, Lowell, Clinton, New Bedford and elsewhere, with the object of lending financial support.

Concerning Rabies
Many persons have been skeptical regarding the existence of hydrophobia, but the United States public health report confirms the fact that there is such an ailment. The disease is incurable, but is not infallibly preventable, and it is not a respecter of persons or animals, according to the report. The latter proposition from Surgeon Wynne's bureau admits that rabies may not be uniformly fatal, though it is most always so. Pasteurization generally prevents development and the belief that rabies is more easily transmitted in summer than in winter is called a fallacy. The explanation is that more people are moving about and become subject to attack. Nor is the malady localized. It is liable to occur in the Arctic or in the equatorial jungle. Dogs, wolves, coyotes and skunks seem to be especially susceptible.

Cars Run by Gas Engines

At Mount Gretna, Pa., there are street cars run with gas engines. This does away with electricity and the overhead wires. Then an engine is installed on the car and is operated by gasoline. Taking advantage of the fact that the car tracks are the same gauge of the standard automobile, many owners of autos have placed light car wheels on their machines and run them on the car tracks.

DRUGGISTS COMPLAIN

Contention That Interests are not Being Well Safeguarded By Association

There is considerable dissatisfaction reported among the local druggists and those throughout the province, over the manner in which they claim their interests are being neglected by the New Brunswick Pharmaceutical Society. One city druggist said yesterday to another that if the methods were not improved upon, he would not acknowledge the request for the annual payment of registration fee which comes due on December 31, and the other was inclined to agree with him.

The druggists claim that not only their interests are being neglected but those of the public as well. They assert that there are many stores in the province in which neither the owner himself, nor any of his clerks, has a pharmaceutical certificate, and, therefore, under the statutes, is not permitted to conduct a drug business. Not only this, but it is also claimed that many grocers, in various parts of the province are breaking in on the drug business, and have laudanum and carbolic acid, as well as other preparations on their shelves, although this is supposed not to be the case.

To be a member of the Pharmaceutical Society is necessary to pay a fee of $3 annually, and the proceeds secured in this way, are supposed to be used to prosecute offenders of the law, as regards the conduct of a business, and in this way protect the owners of drug stores where registered men are employed. It is thought likely that the matter will be strongly brought to the attention of the proper authorities in the near future.

Fashion Odds and Ends

Dame Fashion has placed her stamp of approval on the short coat and scant, plain skirt. She will also favor the one-piece coat dress for the winter and late autumn wear. But she recommends a touch of black in the way of satin cordings or braid.

The deep sailor collar will be more popular than ever, and it can be trimmed with either fur or moire bands.

The high waist line is in vogue and trimming can be used wherever shirtings would answer.

The collarless neck is popular, but a woman should never take up the style when it is unbecoming to her.

Sleeves may be either long or short, according to the type of gown, but they should always be small.

The peasant waist, with the sleeve cut in one with the bodice, continues to be fashionable.

Velvet is now as fashionable for evening gowns as for afternoon and street costumes.

Long jackets with tailor-made have ceased to exist, and the very short ones have not yet appeared. The tightly-fitting hip-lengthening kind is the most popular and most attractive model yet produced.
