MC2035 POOR DOCUMENT

ALL INTERESTS ARE CONSIDERED

Electors of St. John:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—Under the Commission Plan of Government each Commissioner represents the whole city, and not any particular section. The five commisisoners are nominated at large, and elected at large, by the vote of the whole people. This overcomes the evil of ward politics. The members are not influenced to favor any ward or any section of the city, but are employed by the city as a whole to conduct its business on business principles. Expenditures are not made to please the residents of this or that locality, or to give them something because something has been given to somebody else; but each expenditure is made on its merits, because the general welfare of the city demands it. Thus there is no excuse for waste, and no ground for sectionalism. The commissioners constantly realize their responsibility to the whole people, and know that each of them must be able to justify to the whole people his course of action in any matter. This responsibility cannot be evaded. Moreover, the simple directness of the Commission system leads to a more general interest in civic affairs, and a keener scrutiny of every act of the Commisioners.

McFARLAND CLAIMS HE IS CHAMPION AND GIVES HIS REASONS

Packey McFarland claims he is the only real lightweight champion boxer of the world. And after his clever exhibition at the Fairmont club with Owen Moran Tuesday night the fight fans of New York echo the stockyards champion's claims.

"I can fight at the American lightweight limit, 133 pounds," said McFarland. "And, what is more, I am willing to do so. I never have been beaten and I think this record counts for something, inasmuch as I have earned decisions over men who have been champions.

"The weight question seems to be the bone of contention with champions who wish to side-step a challenge. The lightweight limit in this country is 133 pounds. Under my agreement with Moran I was to make 135 pounds at 5 o'clock. I tipped the scales at 133 3-4. That three-quarters of a pound would not have bothered me had it been necessary to lose it. That is why I claim I am the legitimate lightweight champion.

"The contention has been raised by champions—men who have recently held the lightweight title—that the 133 pounds specified means that weight at ringside. Well, if that contention holds good now it did not in other years. It was violated many times and lightweight championship battles were decided irrespective of weight or time.

"When Kid Lavigne was beginning his remarkable career as a fighter Sam Fitzpatrick, his manager, took him to England to box Dick Burge. Burge was the lightweight champion of England. In comparison with Lavigne Burge was a middleweight. They weighed in at 6 o'clock the afternoon of the battle.

"After this Lavigne fought Frank Erne. They agreed to battle for the championship. Instead of holding out for the 133 pound limit both decided to weigh 135 pounds at 2 o'clock the day of the battle. At that weight the title passed from Lavigne to Erne.

"Later Erne and Joe Gans battled for the honors of the lightweight class. Both men moved up a pound and decided upon 136 pounds at 6 o'clock. At three pounds over the weight limit Gans became the lightweight champion when he won over Erne.

"If that happened then, why should the rule be insisted upon for 133 pounds today? I am certain I can make 133 pounds ringside for a battle to win the championship, but I would much rather make that weight at 3 o'clock. I am not as heavy as most men suppose, for I ate before jumping on the scales to do 135 pounds for Moran."

Dr. Wm. Warwick, in the rooms of No. 1 Salvage Corps last evening, gave an instructive lecture on First Aid. The members are taking interest in these lectures and are profiting by them.

"Bronchitis"

This is an acute inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the air tubes in the lungs.

The disease begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty of breathing, hoarseness, and there is a dry, harsh, croupy cough.

After a few days mucous begins to be raised. This is at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color and is occasionally streaked with blood.

Cure the first symptoms of Bronchitis by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and thus prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning to Consumption.

Mrs. D. McCormack, Cleveland, N.S., writes: "My little boy, two years old, caught a bad cold which developed into Bronchitis. He was so choked up he could hardly breathe. Reading about your wonderful medicine, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, I decided to try a bottle, and with such good result I got another which completely cured him, without having a doctor. I cannot say too much in its praise and would not be without it in the house as I consider it a sure cure for Colds and Bronchitis.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents.

Suffered Greatly From Heart Trouble.

NERVES WERE VERY WEAK.

Mrs. John Farrell, Rose Hill, P.E.I., writes:—"It is with the greatest of pleasure I write you stating the benefit I have received by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

"About five years ago I suffered greatly from heart trouble, and my nerves were very weak. After seeing several doctors and using their medicine, I got no relief until a friend told me of your Heart and Nerve Pills. I took two boxes and they effected a complete cure. I can recommend them highly to all nervous and run down women.

"I have advised many others to try them and they have all been cured of the same trouble."

The proper action of the nerves, so important to the well-being of the heart, depends entirely upon the general condition of the nervous system. If there be nerve derangement of any kind, it is bound to produce heart derangement.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are combined a treatment that will cure all forms of nervous disorders, as well as act on the heart itself, and in this is the secret of their success in curing so many cases of heart and nerve trouble.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box, or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE ALDERMAN'S DREAM

One chilly night in early spring,
My mind with civic matters tired,
Considering rest the needed thing
I early to my bed retired.

As midnight hour was drawing near,
A vision thro' my mind came creeping;
It froze my blood with sudden fear,
Like hounded convicts in terror's keeping

A noble form of giant size,
The dream presented to my vision,
With smiling lips and piercing eyes,
That semed to hold me in derision.

Like sculptured form of modelled stone,
I sat and viewed the manly figure,
Which looked at first as fully grown,
But seemed each moment growing bigger.

"Who are you?" at last I said,
"That comes without an invitation,
Prepared to heap upon my heart,
A fierce tirade of condemnation?

"Bear well in mind the floor you're on
Is owned by one who's much respected,
Who year by year his seat has won,
O'er every man the ward selected.

"The fire department stands in fear,
Police I twist around my finger;
And business men throughout the year
For favors round my office linger.

"And hats are doffed by young and old,
And smiles and bouquets shower o'er me;
Now who are you who make so bold
To dare to intimate you'll floor me?"

The genial spectre smiled and said:—
"For forty years your council's blundered,
So I have roused you from your bed
To tell you that its days are numbered.

"And if you wish to know my name,
I mention it with your permission,
From California down to Maine,
I'm known as simple, plain Commission."

At this the alderman awoke,
And found the bold intruder flown,
He vowed his head he would have broke
Could he have reached some broken stone.

RUBIRD TIPPLING.

St. John, March 15, 1911.

On Long's Peak in Colorado the branches of the fir trees all grow toward the southeast. This is because of the never-changing northwest wind, which keeps the branches of the baby fir always pointed to the southeast until the tree is large. The flexible pine in the same region bends over until its topmost branches and twigs rest on the ground.

Hockey

Ottawas Win in New York.

New York, March 20.—Ottawas, the Stanley Cup holders, defeated the Montreal Wanderers in the St. Nicholas Rink last night, 7 to 2. The champions had to fight for every point. Emmet Quinn, President of the league, has been discussing with hockey enthusiasts here and from other cities the possibility of an American section of the league.

The Turf

Sixty Day Meet.

Spokane, Wash., March 20—Spokane will have sixty days of horse racing this year, beginning early next August, with purses ranging from $300 to $2,500, if the plans of the Kootenai County Racing Association are carried out. A syndicate has acquired seventy-four acres of land in the Spokane valley, just across the Washington-Idaho state line, within twenty miles of Spokane, where a mile-track with steel grand-stand and stables will be built. Material has been ordered and it is expected to start 100 carpenters and 100 men and teams at work on the grandstand and the course early in April. It is purposed to make the track the fastest in the country.

AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS

THE LYRIC.

The Lyric management announce some exceptionally fine features for this week. The principal act for the first half is that of Riddle and Rhyme, presenting an act of comedy singing and dancing far away from the travelled track of the ordinary. They scored a hit yesterday, their clever comedy work coming in for much praise. The Vitagraph society story, "Society and The Man," proved to be a strong drama, well worked out. The vaudeville feature for the latter part of the week will be Luken's Animal Circus, with remarkable feats by trained ponies, dogs and baboons.

THE SECRET

All true success is the outcome of real personal interest and genuine endeavor. You may be designing a battleship or you may be thinking out a bright idea for a 15 cent toy, controlling a commissariat or puzzling and experimenting with fruits and spices in order to perfect a new relish for the home table, but the real road to success is just the same in one case as in each of the others. It is not what work you are doing, but how you are doing your work that really counts. You cannot know, unless it were told you, how much personal interest was thrown into the manufacture of H. P. Sauce before its name began to be a household word. The manufacturers—the largest firm of malt vinegar brewers in the world—were determining upon producing a sauce that should touch perfection and so make a name for itself and bring success to the makers.

The Midland Vinegar Company of England are proud of their H. P. Sauce, proud of the reputation it has earned of being the richest, most piquant, fruity sauce obtainable. Choice Oriental fruits and spices and pure malt vinegar are the constituent parts of this cause—but the manner of blending, the "knack" of converting so many different flavors into one delicious whole—that is the secret of H. P. You had better test it for yourself, it's easy. Grocers over here are already selling it freely.

From Richfield, county seat of Morton county, Kan., to Sid is sixteen miles, but a letter sent from one town to the other must travel 514 miles to reach its destination. It takes longer to send a letter from Richfield to Sid than it takes to send one from New York to Liverpool. The letter must be sent from Richfield north to Syracuse, 52 miles, then east 222 miles to Hutchinson, then back on the Rock Island road to Meade of Liberal, from where it is sent to its destination.

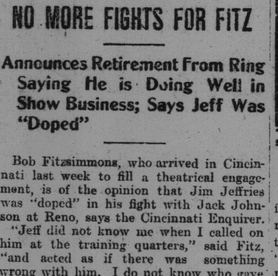
Baby Nearly Died with Itching Rash

Mrs. M. U. Maitland, of Jasper, Ont., tells in the following letter of her child's remarkable cure by the Cuticura Remedies:

"When my boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a watery fluid. We tried everything we could but he got worse all the time, till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body. He got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to prevent him tearing his skin. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws.

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long while. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that he could sleep. You don't know how glad we all felt then. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap to cure him. I think our boy would have died but for the Cuticura Remedies and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. He was cured more than twenty years ago and there has been no return of the trouble." (Signed) Mrs. M. C. MAITLAND, Jasper, Ont.

No more convincing proof of the efficacy and economy of the Cuticura Remedies could be given. As in this instance, a single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, U. S. A. Send for free Cuticura Booklet on skin and scalp diseases.



SEEK GREAT TREASURE IN A SUNKEN SHIP

More Than Million Pounds in Gold in The Wreck of Frigate Lutine

London, March 21—The Lutine treasure ship, from which was taken the Lutine bell, famous at Lloyd's as being rung only on the receipt of news of the safe arrival of a vessel after considerable delay, has been located off one of the entrances to the Zuyder Zee, where she sank in October, 1799. The Lutine was a 32-gun frigate in the British navy, and is said to have been carrying at the time a cargo of coin and specie, of which the value is reported to have been £1,217,000.

Some £100,000 of this money was recovered in 1800, since which date considerable progress has been made in the construction of salvage appliances. It is in view of the increased facilities afforded by the improved plant of today that the Nation Salvage Association, Ltd., decided to despatch a steamer of 484 tons, capable of pumping upward of 2,000 tons of sand an hour, to the spot, for the purpose of removing the sand and mud deposited on the sunken vessel during so many years.

Those in charge of the operations are quite sanguine as to the ultimate successful results of the undertaking. Indeed, Captain Gardiner is reported by the Daily Telegraph to have stated that it is certain that they will recover a large quantity, provided the weather is favorable.

NO MORE FIGHTS FOR FITZ

Announces Retirement From Ring Saying He is Doing Well in Show Business; Says Jeff Was "Doped"

Bob Fitzsimmons, who arrived in Cincinnati last week to fill a theatrical engagement, is of the opinion that Jim Jeffries was "doped" in his fight with Jack Johnson at Reno, says the Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Jeff did not know me when I called on him at the training quarters," said Fitz, "and acted as if there was something wrong with him. I do not know who gave him the dope nor when it was given to him, but if he had been half-way right on the day of the fight he would have licked Johnson.

"I fought both men, and know just what each can do.

"In my opinion, I think Jeffries was the greatest fighter that ever was in the ring.

"Now, I think Jack Johnson is the king of them all. I do not think there is a man in sight who can beat him.

"I believe Johnson will be good for many years. He did not get a real chance at Reno to show his full worth. He was holding back.

"I felt sorry for Jeff when I saw him try to rush right in and finish the fight in a hurry. He was not himself, and it took only a few seconds to see that Jim was like a boy in the hands of the big black."

"Have you retired from the ring?" Fitz was asked.

"Yes. I am done with it. I do not want to go near a prize fight, nor will I referee one.

"I have had a number of offers to referee fights, but I turned them all down."

The sporting editor of the Enquirer then showed him a telegram asking him if he would fight Kid McCoy. It was from Jack O'Brien, who is running a club in Philadelphia.

"I know I could beat the kid," replied Fitz, "but I will have to pass him up with the rest. I am making good money in the show business, and I do not care to be bothered with fight offers. You can tell them all that I am done.

"I am thankful to the people for the way they have treated me in the United States, and want to say that I never felt more like a loyal citizen of this country than when I was over in Australia. Although I was with my old friends and met a lot of good fellows, I hardly could wait for the boat to sail for America.

"I never did anything to knock the fighting game, and I am sorry to hear of other boxers who are not as considerate as I am."

Fitz is looking bigger and stronger than he ever did. He says he is feeling frisky, but he has no desire to put on the gloves.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver trouble, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs.

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

MODERN ROBINSON CRUSOE

There is an island lying about 550 miles from the southern end of New Zealand named Macquarie, which, in the Moari tongue, is designated by a name meaning "the last joint of the tail." Capt. J. K. Davis of Shackleton's ship, the Nimrod, visited it and his report of his journey was published in the Geographical Journal. Capt. Davis' quest was a singular one. He was sent on a journey from Sydney, in Australia, to Cape Horn to look for lost islands. Various islands had been reported as seen by previous explorers, but Capt. Davis' vessel sailed over the supposed location of Royal Island, Emerald Island, the Nimrod group, and Dougherty Island, without finding any trace of them.

At Marquarie Island, incorrectly located on the admiralty chart, he found a single inhabitant. His name was MacKibben, and he had landed three months before, of his own volition from a schooner. He had a hut of two rooms, heated with coal, which he carried four miles, and with plenty of ship's stores to live upon he supplemented the canned diet with the hearts and tongues of sea elephants.

When Capt. Davis invited him to return to the world, he said: "Why should I? I'm happy enough here and have all I want. I'm glad to have seen you, but I don't want to leave the island."

Here was a Selkirk who did not ask for pity or repine in his lot; he was monarch of all he surveyed and was entirely happy. The solitary confinement among the penguins and sea grasses, with 20 miles of wind-swept highlands to roam over and a sailess horizon, would have driven some men crazy, but solitude brought only peace and contentment to the soul of this Irishman of 51. He had all he wanted.

How few there are in the great round world, "so full of a number of things," who are ready to make this averment! He seems to have been, "as having nothing yet possessing all things." He had found how many things a man can do without and how few things there are that one really needs; and hence the prospect of returning to the kingdoms of this world held no allurement for him. "As we steamed away we dipped our flag to the old man, who waved farewell to us from the beach."
