Leading Citizens Join in a Farewell Address.

The President of Morrin College Makes a Fitting Reply in the Presence of a Large Audlence.

A farewell address was presented to Rev. Dr. Macrae in the Y. M. C. A. rooms Monday, July 6. There was a large attendance of clergymen and citizens present, and the chair was occupied by Rev. Henry Daniel. After prayer had been offered by Rev. Dr. Wilson, the chairman said that in accordance with the usual custom the Evangelical Alliance had been summoned to meet on the first Monday in the month, but there was a specialty connected with this meeting, and that was to meet and present to Dr. Macrae an address of farewell. He had first met Dr. Macrae in St. Johns. Newfoundland, many years ago, and sprung up which had continued to exist. He was sorry that St. John was ng such an able and highly adapted minister, but he felt Dr. Macrae would be blessed wherever he went, and he congratulated him on entering a wider sphere of usefulness. Rev. Mr. Daniel then read the following address, all present standing:

Dear Dr. Macrae:

We, your brother ministers and fellow citizens, cannot suffer you to depart from among us without marking the occasion by an expression of our regret at losing you, while at the same time congratulating you and the college which will have the advantage of your supervision, upon an appointment which will so greatly strengthen the cause of higher education in the province of Quebec. For more than twenty years you have occupied a conspicuous position among the citizens and ministers of our city. Your ministerial colleagues of every denomination have ever found in you a catholic sympathy of mind, and a generous appreciation of the work done by other branches of Christ's Church. This was practicably exemphified some years ago when (at your invitation) representative ministers of all our churches met at your house and discussed the great question of Christian union with much profit to all concerned. And the same principle was displayed in your attachment to the Elvangelical Alliance, having been unanimously elected to the post of president during the present year.

But no less have you made your mark among us as one who never suffered his ministerial responsibilities to obscure his interest as a citizen of St. John in all her interests and violastitudes. In the days of and memory succeeding the great fire of 1877 your sagacity and business capacity were of great value in the organization of relief, and on many other occasions the same qualities were freely given to the benefit of the public cause.

But in another capacity you have given help, which will now be anjoyed by our sig-St. John, N. B., July 2, 1896. Dear Dr. Macrae:

the public cause.
But in another capacity you have given help, which will now be enjoyed by our sister province of Quebec, in the work of higher education. The University Extension movement, while The University Extension movement, which presents so invaluable an opportunity for those who cannot attend regular college classes, received your support from the first and your practical help in two courses of lectures. We feel that the staff of Morrin college will enjoy the advantage of the supervision of one who will possess not only high capacity as a teacher, but the requisite tact and wisdom for the direction of academical discipline. Praying that the blessing of Almighty Goo man attend you in your future caree. We remain,

Sincerely and affectionately yours,

Rev. Dr. Macrae accepted the address and spoke as follows: Brothers in the Christian Ministry and Fellow-citizens: It would be simply unnatural to re ceive so evidently cordial an address on the occasion of my approaching departure from this pleasant city without some expression of gratitude and reciprocal kindly wishes. Let me sincerely and cordially own to a convic-tion, were it becoming at all upon such an occasion, to indulge in criticism of what had received the meed of your unanimous approval, that the language employed by you is alike too lauda-tory of my humble abilities and too generous in its appreciation of my very imperfect efforts to realize even my own ideal of what duty may justly demand from a man in relation to the public and to his profession. But it would, at the same time, be unbecoming and presumptuous to challenge your verdict as a whole-to set my single judgment against that of a number, all equally entitled to express an opinion. And it would be not less impertinent than base to impute to men of cultured and independent habits of thought and expression an intention to indulge merely in the language of flattery. There is, admittedly, a measure of truth in the adage, "Vox populi, vox Dei." Our neighbors are, so far, a mirror in which the character, especially of those compelled by their circumstances to occupy public positions, is more or less perfectly reflected. Or, they are a jury in the sentence agreed upon, among whom one may read what he has in some degree consciously aimed at and attained. And thus regarded, it is permissible and legitimate, under however grave a sense of unworthiness, to respond to and to cherish this most friendly address with somewhat of pride. Acceptance of the utterly unsought for and unexpected position of principal over Morrin College, Quebec, and so of succession to the late justly revered Dr. Cooke, necessitates bidding farewell to the active duties of the ministry in the respects in which these devolve upon a "placed" pastor. And this is an aspect of the change im-plied not to be contemplated without Westminster to collect what he can for some feeling of regret. Than the work the Armenians.

of an ordinary minister there is none nobler, in my estimation, none more dignified and honorable. And, however imperfectly these duties have been discharged by me, it remains to be seen whether my powers are even equally adapted to the successful prosecution of those incident to the new and untried position of professional labor. Your sanguine and appreciative anticipations may, let me hope, prove prophetic; they will certainly operate as a spur, stimulating me to leave no righteous measure untried that may conduce to the realization of what your words bid me to forecast In regard to the question of Christian union, any practical effort in that direction on my part was really aroused into activity, it is proper in the interest of truth to say, by the words and spirit of one of your number, who, alike from the ardor of his disposition and by reason of his scholarly investigations and treatment of one large historic phase of the theme, as well as by repeated pulpit and platform action and utterances bearing thereupon, has given abundant pledges that, while he is spared to labor for the welfare of humanity, the duty of tolling to heal the divisions marring the efficiency of the churches—or, at any rate, to mitigate any tendencies to strife, and to cultivate all possible manifestations of good will among brethren "agreeing to differ"—shall not cease to be upheld. But the rector of what is familiarly known as the 'Stone" church needs only be referred to in any convention of the citizens of St. John to render further remark in this, or in any direction entitling to respect unnecessary. And it is permissible to cherish the hope that what he, with others now present, have thus striven for, on the platform, in friendly discussion, or by published volume, may be realized, if not in the form of corporate union, at least in that of cordial co-operative union, as to constrain the cry on all hands: "See, how these Christians love one another." The brotherly spirit displayed in this direction by all the members of this branch of the Alliance will to me be a permanently pleasant recollection, and my fervent prayer is that your influence for good may so expand as, at no distant date, to fill to the utmost

And so brethren of the Alliance and fellow-citizens, farewell. From time to time, I dream, at any rate, of refreshing my acquaintanceship with one and another of your number. For St. John has, and will have permanently, ties binding me to an interest in its movements, to the attractions of which, it would be unnatural to offer any resistance. Again, with heartfelt thanks, one and all, let me assure you that I shall cherish this kindly but too complimentary address as one of my most valued family jewels.

Short addresses were then made by Rev. Messrs. Pope, Carey, Gates, Fotheringham, Wilson, deSoyres, Clarke, Shenton and Mr. J. E. Irvine, all of whom expressed regret at the removal of Dr. Macrae from St. John, who by his admirable and eminently intellectual ability had not only been a worthy and Christian citizen, but also by his enunciations of the principles of the Alliance had proven himself a valuable member. REMINGTON BROTHERS.

A Successful Firm of General Advertising Agents.

Robert R. Remington, who has just purchased the entire interest of the firm, is a wide-awake, hustling business man, with a special aptitude for advertising, and all that the word covers. He is a mative of Pennsylvania a graduate of Lafayette college, and a member of the Philadelphia bar. The growth of the New York office has been greater than that of the home office at Pittsburg, especially during the past year, during which time it Pittsburg office. During the last year all the regular routine work regarding the business of the New York office has been done there, thus facilitating the business considerably. Among the prominent advertisers whose business is placed by the Remwhose business is placed by the Remington agency may be named the following: The Equitable Assurance Company, Sapolio, Cleveland Baking Powder Company, Tiffany Glass Company, B. T. Babbitt, Chickering Piano Company, Foster-Milburn Company, Brandreth, Pond's Extract Company, Church & Company, Hostetter & Company, United States Baking Company Dr. Radam, Marlin Fire Arms Com pany, Radway's Ready Relief, H. W. John's Manufacturing Company, Scho-verling, Daly & Gales.

No change will be made in the present name of the agency, and no radical changes in the present policy. The present force of employes, numbering about forty, will remain with Mr. Remington, and the force will be increased by additional solicitors, by means of which the business will be extended.

What They Say in Other Places About the Coming Government and that Sort of Thing.

NO CAMP. Ottawa, July 3.—There will be no militia camps this year. It will be impossible to get the necessary amount put through parliament in time for the camps being held, unless the house was to proceed with business on the 16th of the present month. 🚓 matter when the government may resign, an adjournment of parliament will now be necessary.—Montreal Herald. MONTREAL ADVICE TO MR.

LAURIER "While treating your allies with justice, be strong in your own province Do not sacrifice the least iota of our rights to please the English of Ontario and Manitoba. They are insatiable beings who will not be grateful for your sacrifices, and when you have weakened yourself with your own people to no purpose, they will throw you to one side as a good-for-nothing."-Montreal

A NEW ENGLAND VIEW "It is said that the new gover will favor closer trade with the United States. Very well, if they wish to take off duties for our benefit, as our democrats took off duties for their benefit, we can make no objection, though the greater benefit will accru to England, and smuggling of English goods through Canada into the United States will increase.

"But if they seek closer relations by reciprocity, we must give them notice that the products of the two countries are so similar that reciprocity cannot benefit either. Here and there it might help in spots, but as a whole it would hurt our agriculture and ruin their manufactures.

"If Canada wishes our market, she should unite with us. If she intends to maintain national existence she can do it only by protection. These are frank and friendly truths which our friends across the border are at liberty to accept or reject."-Boston Home Market

BLAIR, ELLIS, DOMVILLE and

OTHERS. It is said that Mr. Laurier is encountering some trouble in forming his cabinet. It is stated that Premier Blair of New Brunswick; Premier Fielding of Nova Scotia, and ex-Attorney General Longley of the same province, are eager to join Messrs. Laurier Mowat. But the misfortune is and that Mr. Longley is a defeated candidate, by a large majority, and the other two gentlemen have no seats in the senate or the house of commons of Canada. Besides, those good liberals, who have been fighting in opposition for eighteen years, have a decided objection to see three gentlemen who, as local ministers, have been for years enjoying the sweets of office, snugly laced in the new government with larger salaries than they had before. They see no reason why these states-men should step in now and claim all men should step in now and claim all the good things that are going. Mr. Borden of Halifax, Mr. Fraser, Col. Domville and Mr. Ellis have prior rights, and they may be depended up- er. on to assert them. Indeed, we hear that Col. Domville insists upon being CONCERNING THE MONTREAL made minister of militia and defence. The postmaster generalship will likely go to Mr. Ellis of St. John.-Quebec Chronicle.

A GREAT DAY FOR THE CA-

THOLICS. "Never since the French Canadian ace was abandoned on the banks of the St. Lawrence has a more glorious day dawned for our people. For the first time we have one of ourselves at the head of the country's affairs. We French Catholics, yesterday baffled and despirited, are today—in spite of cow-ards and traitors—the masters of the administration."-Quebec L'Electeur.

A GREAT DAY FOR THE ANTI-CATHOLICS

"The Citizen sends its heartiest congratulations to the P. P. A. of Canada (the Dominion A. P. A.) on its great victory in the elections Tuesday, defeating the Tupper-papal cabal which attempted to thrust Romish schools on Manitoba. Laurier, the Cavour Canada, the man who has stood like a wall aginst the heirarchy of his own church, has made a gallant fight. Canada goes liberal for the first time for a score of years."—Boston Citizen.

THE YOUNGEST MEMBER.

Mr. W. W. B. McInnes, the new iberal member for Vancouver district, s a son of Senator McInnes of Victoria, and is but 25 years old. Mr. H. J. Logan, who defeated the minister of justice in Cumberland, is but 27 years old, and Mr. A. E. Dyment, the new M. P. for Algoma, is but 32 years of age. Each of these young men won noteworthy victories for the liberal party. Then from Quebec there are at least three or four members between 25 and 30 years old.—Toronto Globe.

THEY MADE HIM TIRED. Mr. Laurier did not return to town this morning, as was expected. Mr. Tarte, who still, with Col. Domville, and one or two others, is it the Windsor hotel, said that he badly needed rest. He has done a noble work and held out well. But he is very tired.— Montreal Witness.

WE HAVE CAPTURED AMHERST-Mrs. Arthur Dickey and family left on Tuesday for Amherst, New Bruns wick, where they will spend the summer. Mrs. Dickey will be much missed by her many friends in Ottawa, with whom she is extremely popular -Ottawa Citizen.

ALL EYES ON THE COLONEL. The militiaman with any interest in politics is watching the making of the cabinet pie with interest. The name of Lieut.-Col. Domville of the Princess Louise New Brunswick Hussars, as suggested for the position of minister is wanted now is a man who thoroughly understands the militia, and this Col. Domville apparently does. Perhaps, too, before very long we will ar of an appointment of an adjutant general to fill the place vacated by the father of the militia, Col. Powell. This appointment will probably be looked for with as much interest as that of the minister of militia.-Montreal Gazette. NOTICE TO MR. LATIRIER Manitoba will loyally submit to the illest requirement of the judgm of the privy council; but between that and the demands of Mr. Laurier's Quebec supporters there is likely to be a very wide stretch, and it will be our duty to see that we are not dragged through ft.-Manitoba Free Press.

THE AUTHOR OF THE SCOTT ACT. The Hon. R. W. Scott, who has been a militant chief of the liberal party in the dominion parliament for a gen tion, has been passed over in the formation of a new government in favor of an outsider and new-comer, Sir Oliver Mowat, who has during that same period been comfortably enjoying a well paid position at Toronto. This is political gratitude for you!-Ottawa

WHY MR. ELLIS WAS LEFT. Evidently, Mr. Laurier was not long in arriving at his decision that Mr. Blair, of all others, is the man required from New Brunswick, and every loyal liberal, whatever his feeling may be in local politics, should be willing, and no doubt is willing, to extend to Mr. Laurier the right to select his own colleaugues. * * It is, we suppose, natural that others should be pushing for cabinet positions, and it is to the credit of the liberal party that there is sufficient excellent material within its ranks to form half a dozen cabinets as influential as the present conservative administration, but the liberal party are face to face with grave responsibilities, and the very best men of the party are necessary in Mr. Laurier's council, if the difficulties of the situation are to be successfully encountered; if the policy of the party is to be inaugurated under circumstances and conditions that will command the strong support of the country, and ensure to the people, better government than they have had for the past eighteen years.—Fredericton Herald (Mr. Blair's organ.)

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT. Mr. Mitchell will assume the leader-ship temporarily, probably for four or five weeks. Mr. Emmerson may take the attorney generalship, which will be the first step towards elevation to the leadership under the final arrangement. Mr. Dunn may be taken in as chief commissioner, although it is believed that Mr. Richard was promised the first vacancy in the chief portfolios. Mr. Venoit, another liberal, is mentioned as likely to get a seat in the ministry without office. It was settled, almost unanimously, that Mr. Wm. Pugsley is not to be considered in any proposed changes in the present or the near future. The tussle for the leadership, after Mr. Mitchell's retirement, if tussle it may be called, will, therefore, be between Surveyor General Tweedle, and Chief Commissioners. prior sioner Emmerson.—Fredericton Glean-

The influence exerted on public opinion by the Montreal Star is in the inverse ratio to its circulation. The Montreal Star is a malignant excrescence on the body of Canadian journalism-Montreal Herald.

HERALD. A bankrupt newspaper enjoys several privileges besides that of promoting the personal or political ambition of its directors at the expense of 'ts unpaid creditors. Having neither money nor reputation to lose, it can malign or bla kmail its saccessful malign or blackmail its successful contemporaries with impunity.-Montreal Star.

THE GREAT BLAIR MYSTERY. It is awful to read in some tory rewspapers statements that Attorney General Blair has been making an effort to be taken in to the Laurier government scon to be formed. We venture the opinion that the position has sought the man, rather that otherwise, and also that if Mr. Blair consents to become a member of the cabinet a great many "slate" makers will be proven to be far astray regarding the department over which he will preside.—Fredericton Herald (Blair organ.)

GLOUCESTER HEARD FROM. Mr. Turgeon, liberal candidate in Gloucester, is at Levis, the guest of his nephew. Mr. Turgeon would not have lost his election but for a second liberal candidate. He will test the election.—Quebec L'Electeur. HAS EXAMINED THE SENATOR'S WARDROBE. Senator Temple, although a pro-nounced tory, evidently believes in a slaughter market, and liberally patronizes it. If he were true to his protectionist principles, he would patron ize his townsmen in preference to outsiders. The senator will no doubt look very natty when he goes up to Ottawa to attend parliament, and will be able to demonstrate to his tory friends the advantage of the hand-medown over tailor made.—Fredericton Herald.

WE AND OUR NEIGHBOR. It is possible to be strongly partizan and yet to be decent, and the St. John Sun and Globe have demonstrated it. -Fredericton Gleaner.

JULY WEDDINGS.

(From Thursday's Daily Sun.) A quiet wedding was celebrated in the Cathedral at six o'clock this morning, the participants being John J. Barry and Miss Minnie McDermott the eldest daughter of Alexander Mc Dermott. Only the relatives and very groom were present. The bride wore a travelling gown of tan and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Gertrude Mc-Dermott, was attired in a grey gown trimmed with torquoise blue and carried a very pretty bunch of pink roses. The groom was supported by E. Owens. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. T. Casey, the wedding party drove to the residence of the bride's father on Duke street and partook of breakfast, after which the newly wedded couple left on the train for a honeymoon trip through the White Mountains. A quiet wedding took place at noon yesterday in St. Paul's church, when Miss E. May Beer, eldest daughter of the late W. H. Beer, and Henry B. Robinson were united in the bonds of matrimony. The relatives of the bride and groom occupied seats at the head of the church. There were no invited guests, but the church was well filled with friends to see the nuptiels. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Schofield, grandfather of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Canon DeVeber.

Mr. Robinson was attended by John
I. Robinson. The bride was given away by her uncle, Col. C. B. Beer, and was most becomingly attired in a travelling gown of grey, trimmed with white pearl buttons, small hat to match, trimmed with violets, and carried a beautiful bunch of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Florance Snider, wore a costume of black and white trimmed with chiffon, a black hat, and carried a large bunch of heliotrope. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left by the C. P. R. for a trip through Nova Scotia They take with them the best wishes of many friends. They received many beautiful presents, among them being a handsome clock from the K. O. R.
