

BOMBERS IN TRAINING CAMP

The '69 Red Bombers look perennial all-star and Tony Proudford, John MacNeil and Jim Lindsay. Third year Underwood will have to choose from veterans Alan Potts, Jim Simons, Art Stohart and a second exhibition game is in Lenoxville, Que. against Bishop's University on Sept. 20. This will be an annual affair to be held alternately at either school. As well as being a warmup for the coming season, these games will give the team a chance to compare its brand of football with that which is played in another league.

Early predictions on the Maritime Football conference show St. Francis Xavier and St. Mary's University as co-favorites, with the University of Prince Edward Island rated just behind them. UNB and Dalhousie are expected to battle for fourth position followed by Acadia University, with Mount Allison, the perennial cellar-dwellers, in their accustomed position.

St. John Sat., Sept. 13 at Shamrock Field at 2 p.m. It is a benefit game against the Mount Allison Mounties. The second exhibition game is in Lenoxville, Que. against Bishop's University on Sept. 20. This will be an annual affair to be held alternately at either school. As well as being a warmup for the coming season, these games will give the team a chance to compare its brand of football with that which is played in another league.

Head coach Dan Underwood, a former Michigan State star who captained his team to a Rose Bowl victory in 1963 and later played for the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL, is back for his third season. He will introduce a new offensive and defensive game which he hopes will make the team more powerful. Also returning are coaches John Wheelock, Dan Skaling and Doug Cottrell, along with rookie coach Dan Pato.
