THE WAR IN EGYPT.

The battle at Kassasin-Details of the Fight-Bedouin Attack on Meks-The Anglo-Tarkish Milliary Conven-1ion-

LONDON, Sept 9.-General Wolseley telegraphs to the War Office at noon :--- The enemy reconnoitered the advanced posts with a considerable force of all arms. At daybreak this morning Gen. Willis advanced and attacked them, driving them back with loss. We have taken four guns. Our loss is their works, from which they are now firing at five thousand yards range. I shall return to camp at Kassasin shortly with all the force. I have removed my camp there, as the railof Lieut, Gribble. Gribble has been missing since the great cavalry charge at Kassasin. It is thought probable he was murdered on the approach of Gen. Wolseley.

KASSASIN, Sept 10 .- In the engagement yesterday, besides the Egyptians who ad-vanced from Tel-el-Kebir, 1,500 men crossed the desert from Salihiyeh, and operated on the British right flank. These troops conanned the engagement after the Tel-el-Kebir force had retired. They had a Krupp battery, which they handled well. The British cavalry pushed them hard, and finally captured one green standard, taken from the hands of a dead standard-bearer, belonging to one of Arabi's crack regiments. The Salihiyeh contingent were routed, but the others reached Tel-el-Kebir in tairly good order. The British loss was about 80 killed and wounded. Arabi's plan was well devised, but required better troops to carry it out, although the rebels fought better than heretofore.

KASSASIN, Sept. 10 .- It was not through English force and camp looked exceedingly of whose precise whereabouts there is no incritical, as the infantry were in danger of being outflanked. The commanding positions a flank movement, which the authorities were all in the enemy's hands, while line keep dark. It has long been thought probaafter line of their cavalry and infantry was blu that a small force might advance from came to the relief of the British infantry enemy's left, forced them to desist from conactive forward movement of the English infantry, with the superior accuracy of the English artillery, forcing the enemy's infantry to give way, when the fight was virtually ended. Eye-witnesses of the battle state that the enemy's fire was tremendous, and wonder where their bullets can have gone. When the enemy saw their guns taken, they halted and made a show of advancing, as it to recapture them, but a volley from the marines dissipated the idea, and they continued to retreat.

Saturday night passed quietly, the enemy having disappeared behind their entrenchments. At daybreak on Sunday the English began to throw up rifle pits around Kassasin in order to prevent Arabi from approaching near enough to shell their camp.

A picket of thirteen Bengal Luncers charged a regiment of the enemy's cavalry yesterday and rode through them, killing ten men, losing one of their own, whose body was subsequently discovered full of bayonet wounds. The enemy threw many of their own wounded alive in the canal. The Foot Guards have arrived at the front Stores are coming up fast. The wounded are doing excellently. English loss during the engagement was 50 wounded, none killed.

ISMAILIA, Sept. 10 .--- The Highland Brigade, Saturday, or ich left advanced ter

s fresh draft of the military convention, which was submitted ad referendum. In Turkish cfficial circles the hope is expressed, that the convention will be signed on Tuesday. The delay in the conclusion of the military convention has created a feeling of irritation sgainst England. The Turks accuse the British of deliberately prolonging the nego. tiations.

OALOUTTA, Sept. 10 .- Orders have been received to send tents for 5,000 men going to Egypt from England, and camp equipage for for 2.000 men.

NEW YORE, Sept. 9 .- The steamship " Casloss. We have taken four guns. Our loss is tails" sailed for Alexandria yesterday with very triging, The enemy have retired on mules for the British. The English Consul received a letter soon after arrival of the steamer, representing that at a meeting of Irish "patriots" here the question of blowing up the "Castalia," with the mules, was fully way, canal and telegraph are now working discussed, and had been decided negatively as fairly. We have found and buried the body impolitic. The plar was guarded effect the impolitic. The pler was guarded after that by police and special agents up to the time of the vessel sailing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 .- The Tribune's London special says :--- The daily expectation of Wolseley's advances absorbs public interest. Latest accounts indicate that the coming fight may decide the campaign. According to Wolseley's information no substantial defences exist except at Tel-el-Kebir. Owing to transport deficiencies, Wolseley is unable to profit by the rapid advance from Ismailia to Kaseasin. Military men consider that had the initial movement been followed with promptiof the Krupp guns, with equipment, and a tude the campaign would be shortened. The Arab lines at Tel el Kebir are enormously strong. They extend 8 miles, and are defended by black regiments, 12,000 or 15,000 regulars, a like number of irregulars, 50 guns and a few cavalry. Wolseley has 14,000 men at the front, and 3,000 or 4,000 reserves in rear. The reconneissances show the enemy to he in an excellent situation. If they are not overtaken by panic, the fight will be very severe and may last two day. Some mystery the fault of the rebel leaders that the attack attaches to the movements of the Highland made yesterday by Arabi was unsuccessful. KASSASIN, Sept. 9.-The enemy's force in the engagement to-day numbered 13,000 with 12 guns. Five guns and many prisoners were captured. The British during the day advanced within range of Tel-el-Kebir, Wolseley at the front.

KASSASIN, Sept. 10 .- The prisoners taken on Saturday say Ali Pasha Fehmi led the attack of the enemy. Two wounded British soldier have died.

POBT SAID, Sept. 9, --- An Arab from Tel-el-Kebir, who came to-day, reports that Arabi has diverted the canal at Ismailia round his entrenchments, in accordance with the recommendation of European engineers serving under him.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 9.—During the night a mall party of Arabs, whose object is sup posed to be incendiarism, attempted to scale the ramparts between Bamleh and Bosetta gates. One of the party was bayonetted by a sentry and the remainder fled. There was some desultory firing.

A large body of Bedouins approached Meke this morning. The English shelled them, but a small party succeeded in entering Meks. They were dislodged at the point of the bayonet. The British shelled the Bedouin entrenchments south of Meks during the whole afternoon.

ALENANDRIA, Sept. 10--Four of Arabi's officers surrendered this morning at Ramleh. They state that 300 of Arabi's men would do likewise did they not fear the British would fire on them. They say there are only 6,000 troops now at Kair-el-Dwar, that most of them are worn out and many desirous of surrendering, but forcibly prevented from to do-

During the last two days unusual movements have been observed in the rebel camp. Heavy cannonading was heard to-day in the direction of Aboukir and Kiont.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 9.-The difficult in regard to the final signing of the draft of the Anglo-Turkish military convention hange troops having arrived at Port Said will be allowed to disembark, or be required to await instructions from Wolseley. The Porte claims that it proved its sincerity by proclaiming Arabi a rebel, and it is justified in expecting the immediate signing of the cor vention, and now England has the temerity to turn around and accuse Turkey of disloyalty, because the Porte claims the right to land troops at Port Said. Here the maiter ends pending Lord Granville's instructions. Meanwhile Dervisch and Baker Pacha have been ordered to defer their departure until the convention has been signed. The proclamation against Arabi has produced considerable agitation among Arabs, who generally regard Arabi as the saylour of Islam. Arabi will promulgate a counter proclamation against the Sultan.
