AMERICAN PRESS OPINIONS.

"The book is full of practical and Scriptural truth, and is the author's chosen way for presenting the Gospel as profitable for the life that now is, and making one happy and useful as he follows Christ. It is practical and interesting."—Herald and Presbyter.

"The tone is so high, the teaching so pure and good, that it deserves a place in the Sunday School library, and a perusal by readers of good Christian literature."—The Interior.

"It is a truly powerful, practical, touching Christian narrative, creditable to the writer and engrossing to the reader. He possesses real power as a delineator of character, skill in using incidents, and wisdom in describing a natural, manly, and inviting Christianity."—The Congregationalist.
