FRIDAY JANUARY 17.3

et of any

e $2. Sad-em to i two

n im-

R

Take

when

n flies.

orm."

reath ? lust,

eath?"

1 inch

bective-

nd lost

ld have l? By squaresustain consti-mica." en next rrect an-utions to

By

vs:

IRISH NEWS.

FROM OUR IRISH EXCHANGES.

THE EARL OF DUFFERIN AND THE EARL OF ROSSE. A special meeting of the Senate of the Dublin University was held in the dinning-hall of Trinity College Dublin, on Saturday, December 14th, under the presidency of the College Caput-Dr. Harte, V. P., pro-Vice-Chancellor, the Rev. Dr. Lloyd, Provost, and the Rev. J. A. Galbraith, Senior Master, non-regret-to receive and consider a grace from the Provost and Senior Fellows, recommending that the honorary degree of L.L.D. be conferred on the Earl of Dufferin and the Earl of Rosse. Mr. Michael Roberts said :-- "There was a proverb current in Charles the Fifth's time that the very mention of his name was enough-everybody knew his deeds. May I not say something of the kind in submitting to the Senate the claims of the Earl of Dufferin to receive the honorary degree of L.L.D.? Covered with all the accumulated regards of the people of the noble Dominion of Canada, he has just returned to receive from his own countrymen, from ourselves, a thoroughly Irish welcome. . We feel that a portion of the lustre of the Vice-royalty which has been just closed is shed upon us, and the long line of Irish worthies who have done good service to their Sovereign and their country has been extended and enriched by the accession of one in every way worthy of such predecessors. Can we'be silent when other nationalities are loud in praise of his services? By the tionalities are found in praise of his services? By the rare tact and by the exquisite charm of his heart-felt sympathy with Canadian pursuits and aspira-tions, he has drawn forth, even to a higher degree than existed before, the feelings of loyalty which have ever animated the Canadian heart. In full confidence that the Senate will esteem it an honor and a withing the senate this distinction, more our and a privilege to confer this distinction upon our illustrious countryman, I ask them to vote the honillustrious countryman, I ask them to vote the hon-orary degree." The Senate unanimously voted placet, and the grace was passed. Mr. Roberts again rising, said:—"I now proceed to ask the same mark of distinction in favor of another countryman, the the Earl of Fortes creantur fortibus et bonis." It cannot be denied, I think, that Lord Dufferin owes cannot be deniced, i tulink, that have be barden blood many of his brilliant qualities to the Sheridan blood which flows in his veins, and certainly we have in Lord Rosse's case a striking example of hereditery Lord Rosse's case a striking example of hereditery genius. Entering at an early age, all the ardor of a genuine lover of science, upon the path which his father had trodden with such success, he has already signalized himself by rare and brilliant discoveries. I may refer to, among others, the fact that by a series of delicate and highly ingenious experiments, Lord Rosse has decisively established the calorific properties of the lunar rays. But this is not all: properties of the lunar rays. But this is not all; ed of an ample fortune he resides, as father did before him, at home, in the midst of his trium that the analysis of the second tenantry to whose welfare he devotes himself with thoughtful and conscientious solicitude. He is as free from the reproach of absenteeism as is the other nobleman whose name is associated with his in the common honor we claim on behalf of both of them to be a solution of the solution o to-day. Lastly, he is one of our own alumni, whose undergraduate course was marked by a varied and large number of scientific distinctions." The grace was unanimously passed, and the Senate adjourned. These degrees will be conferred, it is believed, on Shaya Taesday

THE CATHOLIC RECORD

The Home-Rulers have done it," shricks the Bristol Times. After this scream it goes on to say : "The contest for the representation of Bristol ended in the return of Mr. Lewis Fry by a majority of 1,547 votes, and of these 1,500 were the votes of Home-Rulers. . . If Sir Ivor Guest had thought fit to bid for the Irish vote a little higher then Mr. Lewis Fry her might to der home ended than Mr. Louis Fry, he might to-day have received from the ministerial side of the House of Commons from the ministerial side of the House of Commons the cheer which Mr. Louis Fry will, this afteanoor, receive from the Opposition." After some further statement of the facts and figures of the case, the Bristol Times dolefully remarks: "This practically places the representation of the city in the hands of the Home-Rulers." By way of consolation to this sorrowing journal we beg feave to remind it that Bristol does not stand alone in this case; there are several other English constituencies in just the same several other English constituencies in just the same predicament. THE COUNCIL OF THE HOME-RULE LEAGUE AND MR.

his mother was a Miss O'Reilly, a Dublin lady, who went to Russia ninety years ago. Prince Andri Vyazemsky fell in love with her at a ball given by the Empress Catherine, and eventually married her. The son was remarkable for his wit, which was of the pure Hibernian character, and I don't suppose the pure Hibernian character, and I don't suppose there is a newspaper or review in the two capitals that does not contain some of the writings of the versatile journalist. He began his apprenticeship to literature seventy years ago, and amid his varied triumphs was proud to the last of three things : first, that he was the father of Russian journalism; second, that he was descended from Rurik, the founder of the Russian Empire ; and third, that his mother was an Irishwoman."

At a very large meeting of the Irish residents of At a very large meeting of the Irish residents of this town held in the Templars' Hall on Sunday evening, the 15th inst., Mr. P. MacMahon in the vening, the 15th inst., Mr. P. MacMahon in the vening, the 15th inst., Mr. P. MacMahon in the vening, the 15th inst., Mr. P. MacMahon in the vening, the 15th inst., Mr. P. MacMahon in the vening, the 15th inst., Mr. J. Walsh moved : "That we, the Irishmen of Middlesborough, while recognizing the minent services rendered to the cause of Ireland by Mr. Butt, see in his late action and utterances, ecosmor, contemporant of HCGH o'NELL.
This was one of the most eminent Prelates of the Irish Church in "the time that tried men's souls," in the Metropolitan See of the West—and like him, an ardent lover of his native land, of her cause, her Irish Church in "the time that tried men's souls," in the Metropolitan See of the West—and like him, an ardent lover of his native land, of her cause, her religion, and her language, the celebrated Flaithrie O'Maol Couroi (or Florence Conrhy), Archbishop of Tuam. This true-souled Irishman was a contem-porary of the great Hugh O'Niel, and figured in Irish and Spanish history conspicuously. He was born at Clonahee, in the County Galway, in the year 1560, and after taking the habit of the Franciscans, went to Spain to prosecute his studies. He shared the confidence of King Philip II., when that mon-arch was fitting out the Armada against Queen Elizabeth. He translated several Spanish worksin-to Irish, and had them published by the College of Louvain, "out of charity te the souls of the Gael," as he says in a preface. In 1601, he came to Ireland by the direction of Pope Clement, to assist the reat northern Irish chiefs in their war against the English. After the dofeat of Kinsale, he returned to Spain with Hugh Roe O'Donnell, whose chap-tain he was to the time of that chieftan's death at Vall dolid, in 1602. Father Courcy with the breat an Vall dolid, in 1602. Father Courcy with the breat and Vall dolid, in 1602. Father Courcy with the breat and the orthy chairman concluded the proceedings. or the Argnanistan war, which has aggravated the commercial depression existing since the Tory Gov-ernment came into office. The resolution being put and unanimously adopted, a vote of thanks to the worthy chairman concluded the proceedings. HUBERT FENLON, Secretary.

of the poll, whatever may be thought of them on the score of propriety, show unmistakably on which side of the late contest lay the feeling of the over whelming majority of the inhabitants. GREAT HOME RULE VICTORY IN EXCLAND. "The Home-Rulers have done it," shricks the Bristol Times. After this scream it goes on to say: "The contest for the representation of Bristol ended in the return of Mr. Lewis Fry by a majority of 1,547 votes, and of these 1,500 were the votes of Home-Rulers. If Sir Low Construction of the soldiers shed their blood like water on every battle-field, and yet it took fourteen years every battle-field, and yet it took fourteen year after Waterloo before Irish Catholics were emanci pated. Every reader of history knows that tardy act of justice was wrung from you through fears of civil war. (Hear.) Later on while Irish soldiers were upholding your flag in India, you allowed their countrymen to starve to death by hundreds of thousands. (Oh! oh!) I repeat it, you allowed our people to starve, and your leading journals gleated over the awful disaster. I do not fear to say that the history of that terrible period, when a whole na-tion was in its agony, will be to all time the con-demnation of British rule in Ireland. Then came the Crimean war and the Indian mutiny, which you pated. Every reader of history knows that tardy the Crimean war and the Indian mutiny, which yo could not have fought through without Irish bay HE COUNCIL OF THE HOME-RULE LEAGUE AND MR. O'CONNOR POWER. The following letter has been addressed to the freeman: DECEMBER, 16. DEAR SIR,—A section of the Council of the Home-the soil. You were at peace twelve years before the hand were passed. (Hear.) And then according to the statesman at the head of the Government at that the statesman at the head of the Government at that the statesman at the head of the Government at that the statesman at the head of the Government at that the statesman at the head of the government at the the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at the head of the government at the statesman at th DEAR SIR,—A section of the Council of the Home-Rule League would seem to be bent on making the League ridiculous before the whole country, and thereby destroying an organization which might have done much for the national cause. Having by their machinations reduced the league to a state of inanity during the last year, they now come for-ward with the deplorable resolution had been carried at a public meeting of the League with due notice, I should feel obliged to withdraw from the same obligation. As it is, what course is left open to those who, like myself, dissent most emphatically from that resolution ? I fear we shall be compelled same obligation. As it is, what course is left open to those who, like myself, dissent most emphatical from that resolution? I fear we shall be compelled to raise the whole question at the next public meet-ing of the League. This will be an unpleasent is by the will of the English people. But no Irish-neessity. But the blame must rest entirely with those members of the council who, in passing this resolution, have grossly outstepped their legitimate province. Yours sincerely, Joins DILLOX. A RUSSO-IRISH JOURNALIST. Go where one may, he finds Irish genius doing the work of journalism. A correspondent of the London Magiar says : "One of the leading journal-ists in Russia, Prince Peter Vyazemsky, died a few the work of Russia minety years ago. Prince Andry went to Russia minety years ago. Prince Andry Vyazemsky fell in love with her at a ball given by which you are so magnanimously waging with a handful of Afghan mountaineers may possibly de-velop into a great war with your enemy, Russia. Looking forward to that contingency, I say with the most earnest conviction, it is a thousand times more incumbent on you to devote this entire session to working the great with braden and making means to to making peace with Ireland and making means to carry on a war which every Irishman in hi must consider as unjust as it is unnecessary.

MR. BUTT'S NEW FRIENDS

The following letter has appeared in the Freeman :

DUBLIN, Dec. 12. DEAR SIR,—Being one of the secretaries of the Butt Testimonial, I had many opportunities of dis-covering who were the friends of Mr. Butt and the cause he represented. With that information before The second secon by proving at once their disregard both for the man and his policy. All that time I and others worked and his policy. All that time I and others worked up the testimonial in favor of Mr. Butt to the best of our ability. I thought that was the time to prove our gratitude for services and sacrifices which I have never failed to recognize. It has always been for me a subject of great regret that many now waxing warm in Mr. Butt's praise behaved then with such apathy. But the apathy went further. I know people who now denounce any person who honestly differs from Mr. Butt, and yet when a "hostile long ago exterminated or driven away. The short-sighted policy of the whites in killing the goose that lays the golden eggs, led to the destruction of the unfortunate Bocothicks, for the sake of the valuable furs of fox, otter, etc. which they alone could procure. With them, of course, died out the fur trade. After they had been wantonly persecuted for over two hundred years, the local government, in the beginning of the present century, woke up to the idea of protecting a tribe that no longer existed! As a step towards showing a good will, an Indian woman was forcibly taken from her home, brought to St. John's, kindly treated, loaded with presents, and returned to her tribe. The incidents attending the abduction of this woman, and the death of her only child, so suddenly deprived of its mother's care, roused the ire of the Bocothicks, who at once resolved to kill any of their number who should afterwards be captured and returned. The result of this was that three more women, who were similarly treated, refused to return to their homes. Two soon died. The third. a fine, handsome woman, named Shanandithit lived for two years with her captors, and be came quite civilized. After learning to speak English, she explained the reason of her refu sal to return to her companions, saying should surely have been killed. Since her death, in 1825, not an Indian has been seen The skeleton of "Mary March," who returned to her tribe in 1819, has been found, dressed in white muslin, adorned with trinkets known to have been hers. But, though the Indian has been exterminated, the white man has not taken his place, the country lying desolate. Over regions that should yield rich harvests to the farmer's hands now flaunt the golden lily and the purple iris; tangled vines of cranberry, partridge-berry and delicate ca-pillaire carpet the ground with the darkest green, flashing with fruit of scarlet and white, and thickets of blueberry, raspberry and bake-apple in their season, clothe in blue and crimsom and amber the wasting plains. Great forests declare that beneath them lies a rich subsoil that should furnish food for thousands; and no man is found to till this great lone land, which is the secure homes of wolves, deer, black bears, hares, foxes, and all manner of vermin. Osprey and owl, raven, crow and blue jay, woodpecker and robin, martin, wren thrush, titmouse, blackcap, flycather, gros-beak, snowbird and sparrow, all abound in the woods; plover, bittern, snipe, whimbrel and sandpiper haunt the wilds and marshes. Partridges abound everywhere. Water-fowl of many species are found in the lakes and ponds, while gulle, cormorants, eider-ducks, goosanders, loons and puffins abound on the sea coast and are to be had for the shooting. Penguin were once plentiful, but have been almost exterminated, and almost within the memory of man, that now extinct bird, the greaa auk, found a breeding-place on the adjacent islands. Trout and salmon abound in the rivers and streams, but though well protected by law, are wantonly destroyed in districts where law is practically without effect, from the want of an efficient staff of water bailitfs.

FOREST CITY GROCERY!

7:

SPIRIT CELLARS AND GENERAL PROVISION WAREROOMS.

The patronage extended to the above store by the blic has induced us to retail our goods at whole-JUST IMPORTED AND ON HAND

A First-class stock of Fresh Groceries and Provisions FINEST SANDEMAN'S PORT WINES. FINEST VERGAREY SHERRY WINES.

FINEST JAMAICA RUM, 36 O. P. HENNESSEY'S AND JULES ROBIN BRANDIES, FINEST J. DE KUYPER & SONS' HOLLAND GIN, IN WOOD AND BOTTLE.

-also on hand -CARLING AND LABATT'S ALE AND PORTER ON DRAUGHT

> J. J. SOUTHCOTT, Opp. Oddfellows Hall. l-nm

J. J. BLAKE.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Conveyancer

OFFCE: Molson Bank Building, Dundas st., London,

L. MCDONALD, SURGEON DENTIST.

OFFICE : Dundas-St., 3 doors east of Richmond ONTARIO. LONDON.

> J. B. COOK, SURGEON DENTIST.

OFFICE: Opposite Strong's Hot ⁸ DUNDAS STREET. London, Ontario.

DR. J. B. PHELAN.

GRADUATE OF MCGILL UNIVER-J SITY, Member of the College of Physicians an urgeons. Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur. OFFICE, NITSCHKE'S BLOCK, 272 DUNDAS ST 2-ky Night calls to be left at the office.

WM. J. TRAHER,

MERCHANT TAILOR, 402 Clarence Street, 2nd door south of Dundas ONTARIO. LONDON.

LONDON EAST BARBER SHOP

L. MADDEN, Fashionable Hair Dresser 28 Dundas street, next door to A. Noble's Tin shop.

AGENT FOR CATHOLIC RECORD.

EATON'S ARCADE,

The Big Cheap Dry Goods House for London and outside of London. JAS. EATON.

> ARKET SQUARE STOVE DEPOT. WILLIAM WYATT,

Dealer in STOVES, TINWARE LAMPS, Coal Oil, Chimneys, &c. Jobbing and repairing promptly attended to. MARKET SQUARE, LONDON, ONT.

THOS. CONNOR,

BUTCHER. A good supply of Fresh and Salt Meats always on hand.

Corner Richmond and York Streets, ONTARIO. LONDON,

DAVID SMITH

INSURANCE AGENT.

lain he was to the time of that chieftan's death at Vall dolid, in 1602. Father Conroy with the breth-ren of his order attended the magnificent funeral of the Ulster Prince to the Cathedral of Valladolid, where he was interred. In 4609, on the death of Archbishop O'Higgins, he was elected his successor, as Archbishop of Tuam, at the instance of his friend, the future Pope Urban VIII. But the English law exiled him forever from his See; he was never able to visit Tuam. In 1616, he founded the great College of Louvain (where O'Connell in future years was educated), and made it a temple of learning was educated), and made it a temple of learning-in the Irish tongue which he loved. But all Florence In the Irish tongue which he loved. But all Florence Conroy's time was not occupied in the discipline of his new college. In common with his countrymen then in Spain and Ireland, which it was hoped, would result in the recovery of Irish nationality. In these hopes he was disapointed, and for some years previ-ous to his death he devoted himself in preparing for articles actions of his numerous works. This publication some of his numerous works. This distinguished Irishman died in one of the Franciscan Convents in Madrid, on the I3th of November, 1620, convents in Madrid, on the 13th of November, 1620, in the sixty-ninth year of his age. In 1654, the faculty of Louvain College had his remains transfer-redfrom Madrid to their collegiate chapel, where they repose near the high altar, under a magnificent marble monument.

A NEW HOSPITAL FOR DUBLIN.

A meeting is being held in the Rotunda for the furniture e one will n avenue fall which He left it n his fuel vesterday. who offer ons, which out of the t to a sign ads-only our several over in a ng woman she asked you leave ould you ?" fectly fire-ollars is far stead would nd I'll take her purse. Il Martine nd she went ons for it to

THE CARDINAL CULLEN MEMORIAL.

The movement for creeting a memorial to the The movement for creening a memorial to the late Cardinal Cullen, being totally devoid of politi-cal significance, is one to which every Catholic who knows what great services the deceased prelate rendered to the Church in this country can consist-No one dreams of giving to the ently give aid. project any political aspect. It was quite impos-sible that so eminet an eclesiastic, one so highly honored and trusted by the Holy See, and so rich in learning and in virtue, could pass away from our midst without leaving in many minds a desire that something should be done to perpetuate his memory. something should be done to perpetuate his memory. The proposal to erect in his honor some memorial of a lasting and useful kind—something in keeping with the whole honor of his life—some church, hos-pital, orphanage, or school which should bear his name—has met with a large amount of public favor. Meanwhile there can be no doubt that the bird favors.

actor. Advance of the memorial, no matter when its exact nature of the memorial, no matter when its exact nature may be fixed, will, in the words of one of the resolutions already adopted, "consist of some lasting work, of picty or eharity:" and to all in-tending subscribers this should be a sufficient in-tending subscribers this should be a sufficient inducement to make their contribution assume a truly liberal and generous character.

CHEVALIER O'CLEARY, M. P., ON THE ADDRESS TO THE QUEEN'S SPEECH.

purpose of taking steps to erect what will be prac-tically a new hospital for the metropolis, though, nominally, it is only the rebuilding of an old and valued hospital which has existed for a century and a half. The old site on Jervis street is to be retain-al bet when more more The Wexford People of Saturday gives the following report of the speech delivered by Chevalier O'Cleary, M. P., on the address to the queen's ech ed, but much new ground has been purchased, so as to increase its original size and efficiency. The Most Rev. Dr. McCabe, Vice-Capitular, is in the chair, and the Lord Mayor and a large number of citizens, Catholic and Protestant, are manifesting great interest in the matter. The Jervis Street Hos-ital is under the series of the Sister et Mos-It cannot be disguised, sir, that the utter silence have no that the province in the first appointed the general expecta-tion. Colonel Tottenham, the Tory candidate mainted, and in every way attrended to. RESULT OF THE NEW ROSS ELECTION. New Ross has disappointed the general expecta-tion. Colonel Tottenham, the Tory candidate mainted is subject provinces in the days of its pow-er. (Ch!) But I was hardly prepared for the opportunity to preserve the National Children and the the state of the provinces in the days of its pow-rest (Ch!) But I was hardly prepared for the opportunity to preserve the National Children and the restormation of the restormation the electron in 1874 shows that the noti-Irish poll is preserve now by ten votes, and the Irish and Catholic hes by about thirty. Of course, this is a lob tu pool the people of New Ross, who number close on 7,000 the people of New Ross, who number close on 7,000 the popular indignation which followed the declaration of the declaration which followed the declaration of the metersimilar circumstances. (Oh!) When black-ball, and did black-ball, the leader of the Irish black-ball, and did black-ball, the leader of the Irish people, these people would not spend a train fare to come to vote, and thus save Mr. Butt from so wan-ton and significant a slight. Nay, more, they did not, though they could have done so, raise a voice in censure of the act. So much for those new friends outside Parliament. Within its walls the support necessary for Mr. Butt and the cause of Ireland was frequently forthcoming. A reference to the division list will show how often when ques-tions of suprema importunce to Ireland were before tions of supreme importance to Ireland were befor the House, many Irish members were absent who names will now be found on requisitions, etc. Sir, I have some hope in the intelligence of my fellow countrymen. No amount of requisitions nor meetinqs will prevent the Irish people from asking their promoters these plain questions: "How much did you subscribe to the Butt testimonial l or, how far by becoming a member of the Home-Rule Leagu-did you endorse Mr. Butt's policy ? and from say ing to members of Parliament-the best way you

CHARLES DAWSON.

THE COSSACK AND HIS HORSE .- A German almanae for 1789 contains a notable story of Cossack ingenuity. During the late war a Cossack rode up to the door of a little inn at Braile, dismounted, drank a succession of glasses of brandy, and then made a show of remounting his horse. The landmade a show of remounting his horse. The land-lord reminded him that he had not paid for his drink, The Cosack, with a heavy sigh, drew out his huge purse and began fumbling for a coin, when his horse gave a sudden snort, and fell to the ground. The Cossack was in despair; he did everything he could to raise the beast upon its legs, but all was in vain. "He is dead ! he is dead," cried out in a chorus a number of bystanders, who had hern attracted to the spot by the accident. The poor Cossack would not believe it. The crowd, knowing that a Cossack's horse is his own property, and that the loss of the It cannot be disguised, sir, that the utter shence in the royal speech regarding Ireland has caused considerable surprise to the Irish members generally. (Hear.) Personally I do not share in that feeling. I have not had so much experience of parliamentary

THIS IS THE MOST COMFORTABLE House in the village. A good stable is attached and conveniences for the travelling public. FRANCIS JARVIS PROPRIETOR.

P. O'DWYER, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER

-IN-Groceries, Liquors, Tobacco, Cigars, Etc.,

CUTTEN HOUSE BLOCK, FRONT ST., STRATHROY

J. D. DEWAN & CO., WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER -IN-

Groceries, Wines, Liquor rovision , Etc., FRONT STREET, STRATHROY.

RISKS Commercial Union, of London, England TAKEN IN Construction of London, England Canada Farmers', of Hamilton, Ont. CAPITAL REPRESENTED $40,000,000.

DEALER IN STOVES, LAMPS, COAL OIL, Tin and Sheet Iron Ware, Refrigerators and Baths, And General House Furnishings. 377 Talbot Street, Market Square,

ONTARIO. LONDON, UNIARIO. Roofing and General Jobbing promptly attended to. 5-nm

CHEAP LUMBER, SHINGLES, ETC.,

E. E. HARGREAVES.

YORK STREET, NO. 230. 1-ky

T, & J. THOMPSON,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS E-IN-ENGLISH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN HARD-

WARE. Iron, Glass, Paints and Oils,

Dundas Street, London, Ont.

J. DOYLE & CO.,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER

GROCERIES, WINES, LIQUORS, PRO-VISIONS. ETC.,

SOUTHWICK BLOCK, TALBOT STREET, ST. THOMAS AGENT FOR THE CATHOLIC RECORD. 3-ky

P. O'KEEFE,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER -1N-

Groceries, Provisions, Glassware, Crockery, Etc. FRONT STREET, STRATHROY. Next to Federal Bank.

AGENT FOR THE CATHOLIC RECORD.

ECONOMY COMBINED WITH RESPECTABILITY.

HINTON & FORTWOOD, (From London, England.) UNDERTAKERS, &C. The only house in the city having a Children's Mourning Carriage.

FIRTS-CLASS HEARSE FOR HIRE,

1-010