What Is the Science of Optometry?

Optometry is the science and art of prescribing and fitting glasses without the use of drops. With the aid of the latest improved mechanical devices, we determine the true condition of the focussing apparatus of the eye for both near and distance purposes.
We find out exactly what the eye is doing under strain and what causes the strain. There is nothing haphazard in our examination, nothing done by guesswork, but each step is made with scientific exactness, so that when we fit your eyes with glasses, they will give normal binocular vision with comfort. It is the satisfaction that our glasses give our patients that has made our practice as extensive as it is today. See us about your eyes.
