

THE COURIER

WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 1861.

We do not complain of the irregularity with which we receive our esteemed exchanges, because the irregularity may probably originate with them...

Such Toronto papers as have come to hand this morning contain little but accounts of a kind of row which took place at an Anti-Slavery Meeting in the St. Lawrence Hall a few days ago...

A correspondent of the Courier Constitutional says of a School Trustee in that quarter, that at a School examination he assigned a task to the pupils not only in poetry, but in actual rhyme...

We leave any one to judge what sort of a life Schoolmasters must live who are subjected to the "invidiousness" of such ignoramuses as the above-mentioned Trustee. It may be true, and perhaps it is, that all Schoolmasters are not so well qualified for their duties as they ought to be...

The Jenny Lind.—This magnificent vessel furnished Steam is now, we understand, plying regularly between Montreal and Quebec, and whether as passengers or her speed, safety, and steadiness as a passage boat, she will be found to be equalled by none upon the River at this present time.

We perceive the Gazette gives us a pretty little wisp about the Bloomer costume. We can tell him that we keep no sharper a "look-out for such things" than he does for a "thing" of no consequence. The Gazette has just as quick an eye and as lively a tongue for a pretty dress as we have.

Use of Tobacco.—Somebody says that a new mode of smoking all wild animals out of a life is to smoke tobacco into it. There are some who would like to see the mammoth slain, and so they feel they had best get into the habit of smoking tobacco...

inches, yet wherever known it is generally preferred for such purposes. It is also said that lumbermen look for it anxiously as being the best for tinners and pins to bind the knots together, so that upon the whole they obtain more satisfaction from it than from any other substance...

The 23rd number of this very creditable little periodical has just come to hand. As usual, it contains a correct digest of what is going on in the literary world, both of America and Britain. We fear that hitherto we have scarcely done justice to this publication, which, for its clear typography, quality of paper, and intrinsic value of its articles, is pointed out by the publishers, who are also editors, as being very superior to anything of the kind published in this country...

"I certify that the school taught in this school" Section No. 1 by the Rev. Mr. Eason, who appears to be a true and consistent disciple of John Knox, (Knocks) proceeded to immediate war against all and sundry. For this the Rev. gentleman was summoned before the sitting Magistrate, a voluminous account of the evidence on both sides of which file the columns of our Toronto contemporaries. After a patient hearing, the Magistrate dismissed the case, but intimated that an appeal was open by law to a higher tribunal. Should the case, therefore, be carried to a higher Court, this Rev. member of the Church militant may find a reward for his clapper-clawing propensities.

On Monday evening, Mr. Stewart, of the Standard, in presence of a large and respectable audience, delivered a lecture on the subject of the "Sufferer." The lecture was very interesting and well received. Mr. Stewart's address was as follows:—

"LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—I wish you had called on me a little earlier in the evening, for I should have had time to say to you what would have looked well in print. As it is, I have very little to say. Many of you present have no doubt read or seen the play of the 'Lady of Lyons,' and remember the character of Claude Melnotte. You will remember that he was separated many years from his lady love, and when he saw her again, he was so overcome with joy that he fell into the arms of another woman, and she was his wife for the remainder of his life. This is a very sad story, and it is one that we should all remember. It is a warning to us all, that we should not be too hasty in our judgments, and that we should not be too sure of ourselves. It is a warning to us all, that we should not be too hasty in our judgments, and that we should not be too sure of ourselves."

THE NEW THEATRE.—Our theatre-going readers will be glad to learn that the new theatre, which is to be built on the site of the old theatre, is now under way. The new theatre will be a very fine one, and it will be a great pleasure to us all to see it completed. From Jamaica, our date is to the 20th ultimo. The cholera continued in several parts of the island. There had been a riot in Spanish Town, a party of about twenty men, having nearly demolished it. We do not understand that the rioting has been continued in any other part of the island. The cholera has been very prevalent in several parts of the island.
