WOUNDED IN ACTION

Mr. F. G. Borden of Avonport recently received word that his son private Harold W. Borden had been killed in action. This is sad news. The young man was one of much promise and his early death in such a noble cause will cause his name to be ever kept in remembrance. His sorrowing parents will have the sympathy of all.

Yesterday's daily papers contain the information that Sergt. A. K. Herman of Dartmouth, was in the hospital suffering from a wound on the knee. Sergt. Herman made a large circle of friends while at Aldershot last year with the 219th Battalion and we trust his wound is not severe. Mrs. Herman is at her home in Dartmouth. His brother George E. Herman, former editor of the West-ern Chronicle is now a sergeant with the 216th at Aldershot.

Mr. T. F. Houghton of Halls Harbor; W. R. Penny, Berwick; K. D. Woodman, Wolfville; H. H. Robbles, Grandville Ferry, are among the recent list of wounded.

FOOD PRODUCTION CAMPAIGN

On Sunday in response to the request from the Commission on Food Production, sermons were delivered from about all the pulpits in the County calling on our citizens to exert themselves to the utmost in the line of food production. There is no doubt that the food shortage will be acute and prices high. Every business and professional man is asked this year to add his labor to that of the farmer, if making the soil produce all that his labor can care for.

Pleasure trips, evenings of quiet indulgence after a days toll in the office and sports of all kinds can well be put aside this year and the war in Europe may be won at home as well as on the battle field if everyone will join in increased production. Let not a garden plot or back yard go without its fine array of vegetables and fruits of the soil.

The dignity of labor is now well realized and our people will be much benefited in every way by the rich and the poor, the learned and the unlearned, mingling their labor together to see how much each may bring forth from the tilage of the soil.

The women and girls are also living up for their share of the work. No efforts that will help to win the war is complete without their noble self sacrificing work.

(From the Charlottetown Guardian) "The departure of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Grant for their new home in Grand Pre, after a residence of fifteen years in the city, is regretted by their many friends who wish them every success. Previous to leaving they were guests at several very pleasant informal affairs given in their honor. An especially interesting surprise was given Mrs. Grant on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. S. Grant, when a number of lady friends presented her with two valuable pieces of cut glass. Her sister, Miss Eaton, who has been here for several months was very pleasantly included in the remembrance, being presented with a cut glass cigar and cream set. Both Mrs. Grant and Miss Eaton were greatly surprised by the unexpected gifts which they declared they would always cherish as valued souvenirs of their residence in Charlottetown."

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Grant, family and maid have arrived at Grand Pre from Charlottetown and are guests of Mrs. Grant's mother, Mrs. W. P. Eaton.
