"Yes," replied Mayor Marshall, "it is good stock, and that sort of stock is going up in price now. I bought some copper goods some time ago, which is still in Toronto, and I have had all kinds of offers since to sell at a profit, but I have declined, as this stock is steadily going up the present time."

The report of the boiler inspector was received. It stated that the boilers at the works were all in good shape but needed a few minor repairs.

Wether you want a Union Carpet or an Axminister the changes had been made since.

of the victory.

"I am thoroughly satisfied with the result, said Mr. Marshall when the result, said Mr. Marshall when he heard the returns, "I am particularly grateful for the good vote in Aylmer. I attribute this to the good work of my friends and the loyal support of the farmers in the neighborhood where the canning factory is situated. We fought a clean campaign, and the result is a decided rebuke to the party which inaugurated the campaign of abuse and misrepresentation. I take it as a complete vindication of our camimplete vindication of our cam-

Mr. Marshall made gains all along the line, and especially in the places where the large Government works are being constructed. It does not appear that the electors of that rid-

A PERJURER OR STUPID TWO

Magistrate Denison's Characterization Of "Tom"

Toronto, Oct. 5.—"This man is either a perjurer or he is very stupid; and I think he is both."

Thus Col. Denison summed up his opinion of Tom Lewis, the London exhotelkeeper, who turned up in the Police Court in the London bribery case westerday.

Warned by the Magistrate.

At another point in his examination, during which Lewis knew nothing although contradicting his old associates right and left, the magistrate said: "I must say that in all my experience I would be more rencountered a witness who was so utterly reckless. You are making no effort to tell the truth. You are not even trying to lie consistently. You simply answer anything that comes into your head at the moment. Unless you are careful, I will direct that an information be laid against you at once for perjury."

Lewis was allowed to go on his own recognizance until Thursday next at 11 a. m, to which time the hearing has been enlarged, to suit the convenience of coursel.

"Tom" Lewis went into the was proud of the which with the manner in which Lewis knew nothing though contradicting his old associates right and left, the magistrate said: "I must say that in all my experience I must say that

"Tom" Lewis went into the witness box at 1.10 octock. He admitted having gone to Detroit, but did not know before arriving there that he was wanted in Toronto. He saw Mr. McEvoy before leaving for Detroit, but not, he said, in connection with the bribery

John Weiner, employed in Mr. Hyman's tannery, said he got $5 from Collins in Lewis' hotel.

William Serviss was recalled and asked as to his handling of the "bribery" envelopes. His answer was almost invariably: "I don't remember."
