ALLEGED BIGAMIST.

Married First Wife In Hamilton In 1902.

ronto Police Court yesterday on a charge of non-support, will face a charge of bigamy when he comes before Magistrate Denison next Wednesday.

The staff inspector's department alleged that on May 6, 1902, Wilson was married under the name of Robinson to Daisy Beatrice Lenora Minns, of Ham'lton. Rev. Dr. W. F. Wilson performed the ceremony. One child, George, aged five years, resulted from the marriage.

On Nov. 11, 1906, Wilson is alleged to have married Lena Ashton, of Toronto. A child, Dorothy, was born on Oct 8, 1907.

When questioned this morning, Wilson said that his first wife secured a divorce from him in Toledo, Ohio, some time ago.

In the meantime the authorities will investigate the two marriages. Until lately Wilson and his wife have been living at 11 Soho street.

Plays a Part Only The preacher who would help young men must recognize that religion is as broad as life. The old pagan and pharisaic dualism which divided time and space and conduct into secular and sacred has no place in the Christian system, are in danger of confusing Christianity with "churchianity." We must remember that while the church plays a great and important part in building up the kingdom of God, it does not play the whole part. The home, the shop, the school, the bench, the field, the desk-all these may be means of grace, but the man who is not working out his salvation with the humble tools of daily life, is not working it out in the Christian sense.—Rev. Chas. H. Huestis,

FATAL FIGHT. Man Dies of Injuries Received in a

Prize Fight.

New York, Feb. 27.-Emmett Brown, negro, died at the Presbyterian Hosoital early to-day from injuries alleged have been received in a prize fight ast night. A policeman found Brown last night. A policeman found Brown lying unconscious on the sidewalk at 72nd street and First avenue, with the base of his skull fractured. Brown's wife told the police that her husband had taken part in a prize fight in a saloon on avenue A late last night. His opponent, she said, was Fred Lucas, a white man. A hard blow in the fifth round, he asserted, sent Brown to the floor, his head striking against one of the ring posts. As soon as the seriousness of the injury was discovered Brown was taken out of the saloon and the crowd dispersed. Detectives are trying to locate the saloon.
