Woman Says She Was Put Up to It by Her Mother.

Kentville, N. S., Oct. 14 .- The feature of the Carruthers libel case tothe of the Carrithers inbel case to-day was the evidence of Sir Freder-ick. Borden, Mniister of Militia, who took the stand this afternoon and gave a complete denial of the story told by Mrs. Allison and her daughter, Hester Chalefour. Sir Frederick de-clared that he was not on intimate terms with Miss Chalefour, and that he had never, at any time, paid her one dollar directly or indirectly. There were no improper relations between them, and he did not induce her to leave her home. Her mother, he said on the stand, had threatened him, and in consequence of these threats he had left Mrs. Allison's house. Though subjected to a very severe prosets-amination by Mr. Ritchie, Sir Fred-erick's testimony was not shaken in the slightest. He was calm, and nasswered all questions off-hand, with the exception of those which the court thought improper and refused to permit Mr. Ritchie to press for an answer. day was the evidence of Sir Fredernswer.

She said that ahe wrote letters to her mother, knowing the contents were false, so as to accomplish the purpose desired. She declared that she had demanded and secured $2,000 from Sir Freder-ick. She also stated that she never had any improper relations with Sir The and secured $2,000 from Sir Freqer-ick. MRS. MCPARLAND'S DENIAL.

Mrs. Kathleen McPailand, of Ot-tawa, another witness who "The Eye Opener" declared had been in in-timate terms with Sir Frederick, took the stand and denied all accusations. Two other witnesses were Louis Chitty, Ottawa, and J. T. Roche, of Montreal, but their evidence was not material. Evidence is all in and the case will go to the jury to-morrow. A FALSE PEPOPER

The court room was crowded to the doors when the case was resumed at 10 o'clock this morning. Miss Chale-four again took the stand, and Mr. Ritchie at once proceeded to cross-

WANTED MONEY FROM MOTHER. WANTED MONEY FROM MOTHER. Mr. Ritchie asked the witness to write two words, which she did. He then passed to her several letters which she admitted were hers. One was to her cousin, and concluded as follows: "Au revoir, old boy, one hundred kiss-es." She identified a letter written to her mother a month ago. She wanted her mother to point some money, as the witness' health was not good. The money in question was hers. She asked for two hundred dollars in case of an emergency. She had not given birth to a child. She admitted that she had con-suited a physician regarding her con-dition.

Mr. Ritchie then read extracts from the latters, in which the name of Sir Frederick and witness appeared. "Are the contents of this letter cor-rect?" he asked. "No," said witness. Witness did not keep the letters. Witness and that she falsely had penned the words. Her mother had been after her for fifteen years to get some evidence against Sir Frederick, and finally she said that she would give her something. This she did, but it was false. "I wanted my mother to get away from the whole thing, and not come to the trial here. I was afraid that she might be prosecuted for being disreputable. I advised her to get legal advice." Returning to the payment of $2,00° by Sir Frederick, witness said 'that she received $1,000 at a time. She went to his office and demapted the money. She declared that she received no income and received no money by installments. With the money she pur-chased a house. Witness said that she had not mee him in Boston recently. MRS. ALLISON'S THREATS.

THE JUDGE INTERVENES. Asked if during the past fifteen years he had visited any disorderly house in Halifax, he said that he had not. Neither was he intoxicated at the Halifax Hotel in Halifax. The Judge declined to allow such ques-tions, as they were irrelevant. The witness could not remember the last time that he saw Miss Chalefour. She had called at his office within five or four occasions. He could not say that she was in his office within five years. He never saw Ellen Williams and was not at her house. He did not know Madame Clements. He did not know Madame Mater Mater

NOTHING IN THIS STORY. Mr. Wickwire then called Mrs. Mc-Parland, of Albert street, Ottawa, to the stand. Mr. Wickwire said: "Mrs. Allison yes-terday stated that she often eaw you in the company of Sir Frederick and that you often wont driving late at night in a cab with him. Is that true?" "No, sir, it is not true. I never went walking or driving with Sir Frederick. In fact, I do not know him. He never visited my home during the presence of my husband, or his absence. I did some work about the Governor-General's office; the same class of work as Mrs. Allison does." ing." He believed it was stolen. He did not see it, though his secretary had left it, and informed him that it was there. He very seldom visited Montreal. There was an occasion, he said, that Mrs. Allison had stated to him that she believed he was assist-ing her daughter in Montreal, and threatened him if she found out that such was true. He denied that he had promised to provide a position for Mrs. Allison's daughter. Miss O'Con-nor was not discharged to make room for Miss Chalefour. Sir Frederick said that at the variable. Sir Frederick said that at the re-quest of Mrs. Allison he did assist in securing employment for her son. He thought that he was doing a good turn for her. To Mr. Ritchie the witness said that she was not now living with her hursband. They had got a separation. She said she lived at 86 Slater street in 1899. Mrs. Allison resided at 66 on the same street. "I only saw Sir Frederic Borden once in my life, and that was at his office. The object of my visit was on account of a letter that appeared in "The Eye Opener," and signed by Mrs. Marian Allison. Other than that I never saw him," LEFT THE BOARDING HOUSE.

PAID HER NO MONEY.

Mr. Roscoe asked: "Did you pay Mise Chalefour $2,000 in Ottawa?"

Misse Chalefour $2,000 in Ottawa? "No." "Did you ever pay her any money?" "No, I never did." The witness identified Mrs. Kathleen McPartland in court, and in reply to Mr. Roscoe he said that he had no acquaintance with her. He saw her in Ottawa, but did not know her. The only time he knew there was such a person as Mrs. McParland was through the letters of Mrs. Allison. The first time that he heard her names was in 1900. The first time that he saw her was in November, 1908. She then called at his office. He was never on the street or in a cab with her. He did not accompany her home at night, and did not know that she had a husband. He was not at her home. He did not know that she lide ot keep her at any place. The bullet entered at a point between the eyes, and is now embedded in the back of the head, but apparently did not penetrate the skull, as he is consci-ous and able to converse settempt ous, and able to converse rationally. Despondency over continued ill-health is the cause assigned by his friends for his attempt at suicide.

New British Island.

Of the northwest coast of Australia there is an island which till recently bethere is an island which till recently be-longed to no one. It is not a very large island. In face, it measures only 365 yards by 30 yards. It has, however, a good anchorage, and for that reason its possession may at some time be valu-able. The British Government has therefore annexed the island, and an of-ficial notification of the fact recently reached the Commonwealth Minister for External Affairs. The new British pos-session is known as Cartier Island, and is almost surrounded by coral reefs.— Westminster Gazette.

Parks of Australian Cities.

Parks of Australian Cities. Australians, with a fine elimate, be-lifere in enjoying themselves, and there are plenty of facilities. Thus in Sydney there are parks and squares and public gradens with a total area of 4,335 acres. Sixteen miles from the city-a shilling exoursion train fare-is the pleturesque National Park, containing 36,810 acres, preserved in their natural state. A sim-prising 35,300 acres of land, chieity of densely wooded hills skirting for many miles around numerous tidal arms of Broken Bay, is also held for the enjoy-ment of the public forever. Melbourne-has no fewer than 6,400 acres of recrea-tion grounds in or near the city. Ade-laide is surrounded by a belt of park lands, and has about 2,300 acres set apart for the public benefit; nor are Perth and Hobart and Brisbane and some of the fine inland towns less well provided for.-Westminster Gazette.
