QUESTIONS FOR THE ELECTORS

Before the electors on New Year's Day are to be placed baffots requiring a negative or affirmative vote on whether another acreage is to be purchased for public play grounds, whether daylight saving between the Spring and early sutumn, ed, and whether the proper ing site on Geneva str for Collegiate purposes.

The land in question for a sports ground is located on Thomas street north and comprises about seven acres. It has been offered to the city for $10,000 and as more open spaces are needed to accommodate a growing community, it was thought well by the City Council that this opportunity should be placed before them. If the electors approve of the purchase the grounds will be fitted up for athletics of one kind and another and, it is hoped by The Journal, the small boys may be given a preference. There is now no place they may use freely. The present lacrosse grounds are occupied in the summer season mostly by young men in the teams and the lads from eight to fourteen have little chance to exer-

As to daylight saving it may be explained that the sanction of the proposal by the electors coes not oblige the Council to pass' a measo and undoubtedly would, but such have no statutory force. It in reality will only give the Council authority to put daylight saving legislation in to operation for the pservance of keep the advanced time if not wishing to have it though it is quite evi-

EDITORIAL NOTES

It is a fairly healthy sign to see o many names suggested for pubic offices in the city. The more interest there is taken in the municipal contest the more likelihood there is of a continued concern in the weifare of the whole community.

One position is to be vacant on he Public Utilities Commission. As one who has served with him during the year the editor of The Journal would regret to see the services of Mr. R. A. Stinson lost to the city. He has not only wide technical and business experience but he is always looking out to locate new industries in the city.

If all the expenditures were made next year that various bodies and classes in the city are asking and demanding the borrowing power o the municipality would be practically wiped out. It would be unfortunate if this condition were allowed to

Niagara Falls, Dec. 18.-Just beause a girl refuses to marry a man her parents pick out for her future usband is no reason that the clothing the man gave her may be taken from her. This is the ruling Police Justice Judge Piper was told in court to-day that Lena Domizio, fourteen years old, who refused to marry Michael Milvesture, chosen by her parents as Council refuses it. It was hoped that stripped of a fur coat and other cloththe girl's future husband, had been ing given her by Milvesture.

Truant Officer, Frank B. Kane, told railway would run right near the woman's quarters at police headproposed grounds and thus give com- quarters to take the girl to St. munication with all parts of the city Agnes' school, Buffalo, he found her clothed only in a skirt, shirtwaist and shoes. Even her underwear was gone

Kane said that he learned relatives had visited the girl and taken away that if the girl would not marry him she could not have the fur coat he bought. The Judge ordered that the clothing be returned and told the man to finish paying for the coat. The father returned the clothing, when he learned the alternative was to face

HE vast majority of telephone operators are conscientious and painstaking. To them a "wrong number" is as distressing as to the person who gets it.

> It is to the operator's interest that the caller should reach his party promptly, should finish his talk without interruption and then be disconnected. A "wrong number" means, besides irritation for two subscribers, double work for the operator.

Aside from failure to consult the latest telephone directory, wrong numbers arise chiefly through failure of the operator to hear clearly the number asked for. This failure in turn arises from two causes:-

1. Indistinct speaking.

2. Speaking away from the telepphone, instead of directly into the mouthpiece.

May we not count on your co-operation in these two important respects? Always speak distinctly, directly into the mouthpiece.
