A TRIUMPHAL TOUR.

Mr. Laurier is receiving a cordial reception in the West. Wherever he speaks, thousands flock to hear him, and his message of tariff reform finds a responsive echo in the popular heart. His journeys are like the triumphal procession of a great conqueror. His striking personality, his wonderful gifts as an orator, his common sense, practical platform, all commend him to the admiration and esteem of the people. Hitherto, the Liberal party has scarcely been organized in Manitoba, the Northwest and British Columbia, and Toryism has held pretty general sway, but it will be different when the next general election is called. The Opposition leader is inspiring his Western supporters with the utmost enthusiasm; he is arousing them as they have never before been aroused, by his denunciation of the government policy of robbing the masses to build up monopolies in Canada. With its immense patronage, and the powerful influence of a great railway corporation, the government have been able to hold almost an undivided support from the West, but that time has passed. The great victory won in Winnipeg a few months ago by Mr. Martin, was a striking evidence of the change in political sentiment in that part of the Dominion, and this will be followed up by even greater triumphs, whenever the electors are given an opportunity to express at the polls their condemnation of the vexatious taxation policy, which is retarding the progress and development of the country. The late Sir John Macdonald predicted that in a few years after the opening up of railway communication in the Northwest, the country would have 640,000,000 million bushels of wheat for export, and that the population would increase in like ratio, but everybody knows how miserably these prophecies have failed. The fact is, development in the Northwest is practically at a stand still, immigration has almost entirely ceased, and the country is feeling to the full, the effects of the blighting government policy.

CARDWELL.

The next test of strength between the federal government and the opposition, is likely to be in Cardwell, Ontario, which has been named by the resignation of R. S. White, editor of the Montreal Gazette, who has held the seat since the death of his father, Hon. Thomas White, a cabinet minister, and who expects to be appointed collector of customs at Montreal. Two candidates are already in the field, a McCarthyite and a Conservative, but the latter party is badly split up. Mr. White and the Conservative wire-pullers endeavored to bring about the nomination of a Mr. Allen, a Conservative Patron of Industry, and thus unite the important elements in the constituency on a dead issue, but young Mr. Willoughby, a native of the county, but practicing law in Toronto, captured the convention and is in the field. The Patrons, of course, are very much annoyed that their man was defeated in the convention, and it is possible they will nominate another candidate. No regular nominee of the Liberal party has yet been put up, but the strength of their organization may be placed on the McCarthyite, who practically is in straight opposition to the government. One thing is already clear in Cardwell, namely that it can no longer be counted on to register the will of the federal government in the nomination of a candidate, and the approaching contest will likely show that the constituency has at last resolved to free itself from the fetters of Toryism.

A NOVEL EXPERIMENT.

The government of New Zealand is engaged in a new experiment for encouraging immigration and the settlement of the public lands, and no doubt other colonies, particularly Canada, will watch the novel plan with considerable interest. The government does not sell the land to the settler on easy terms nor does it make him a present of it. It divides large tracts into small farms and leases these farms to the settlers. The rent is very low at first, but it increases as the land is enhanced in value by the labor of the settler and his neighbors. The government also lends the settler a small sum of money at a low rate of interest to give him a start. The interest of the loan is added to the rent. The government has borrowed about sixteen millions of dollars, partly in Great Britain and partly in the colony, to carry out the scheme. It was started six or seven years ago, and it has in that time leased 22,577 acres to 900 settlers. The rent paid is 5 per cent on the capitalized value of the land, valuations being made at stated periods. The sum of $125,000 has been advanced to those 900 settlers and now the government is getting about $60,000 a year as rent and interest. The experiment looks like a good one for the government but how it will be for the farmers it is yet early to tell. Certainly it is encouraging a gigantic system of government landlordism, which would scarcely be relished in Canada.

Accident to a Doctor.

Dr. A. D. Coburn, resident physician of Canterbury Station, left yesterday morning for Skiff Lake with a party of friends duck shooting. About five o'clock last evening the doctor saw some ducks and reached into the boat for his gun, a breach-loader, taking hold of the muzzle and drawing it towards him. The trigger caught on the side of the boat, sending the gun to go off and the charge of duck shot to enter the muscle of his right arm and came out on the opposite side. The party drove to Canterbury Station, and summoned Drs. Colter and Kinnear. They say there is no possible chance of saving the arm. Dr. Coburn is about twenty-three years of age and has been practicing at Canterbury for two years.

Reports from the Yukon river show that a great mining boom is in progress in that region. The sum of $100,000 in gold nuggets is now at Unalaska awaiting shipment to San Francisco. Miners in large numbers are going into the country from Sitka and Southern Alaska.

FROM RURAL DISTRICTS.

Interesting and Spicy Gossip from Our Active Correspondents.

CLEANINGS FROM YORK.

Zealand Station.
Sept. 6.—Brewer's mill is shut down having completed the season's cut. Our popular mason, L. Barlock has just completed a fine granite wall under D. Jewett's new residence. Mr. Jewett has increased his staff of workmen and the work is progressing finely; he expects to move in before the cold weather. The first dance of the season came off at John Brewer's last Monday night and was largely attended. George Capen is building a fine new granary. Miss S. Lawrence from Blowdown Settlement is visiting friends here. Mrs. E. Lawrence is canvassing the country with a line of rubber goods, etc. We notice our friend Frank is a frequent visitor to this place.

York Mills.

Sept. 6th.—The weather has been most favorable for harvesting, and the farmers have secured their grain all in fine condition. The hay crops have been much above the average, while the oats are not quite so good. A small fly has pierced the leaves which caused the oats to turn yellow before they headed out. Miss Emma Black, having spent the holidays at her home in St. John, has returned to take charge of this school for another term. Miss Mary Peterson has taken charge of the school in Wilnot. Percy Cruikshank of St. John is visiting friends here. Miss May Taylor a former teacher made a short visit among her friends here. The water in the stream is much lower than the average, thereby causing the several mills to suspend operations; Mr. Skene who has rented the woolen mills has gone to Penfield, waiting for rise of water. The thanks of the people in this vicinity are due to Alex. Little, for a very excellent piece of road, he has made extending from Prince William Station to the Little Settlement. The amount of the road money allotted to this portion of the Parish has been expended from year to year with very little benefit to the roads; in fact they have been growing worse instead of better and were in places quite unsafe. Our mail road from Prince William was in a wretched condition. It was a very rough and stony piece to take hold of, but Mr. Little sent men before to take out the large stones and then followed with the road machine. He secured a few steady and able teams and men who understood the road plow, and has made five miles of first class road for the small sum of $91.00; taking out stones and finishing cost $37.00 and six days work with machine at $9.00 per day, making a first class road, cost less than six cents per rod. There has been about $400 expended in our parish on the roads and this work done does not bear any comparison to this costing only $91. Let anyone who doubts this statement drive his trotter over the road and judge for himself. Mr. Little gave his own time and labor gratuitously.

Harvey Station.

Sept. 5.—Harvesting is now almost finished in this locality. The oat crop is very deficient; on many farms it is not more than half a crop; the quality of the oats is fair. Edward James, of Tweedside, had a large stack of hay destroyed by fire last week. The stack was in his barnyard about ten feet from the barn, and it was only by the greatest exertions of Mr. James and his neighbors that the buildings were saved. Miss Maggie Smith has just returned from Prince William and the Barony where she has been spending a day or two with friends. Miss Janie Herbert has returned from a day's strike visit to Petticoats. The members of Harvey Council, No. 54, R. T. of T., held a social in Taylor's hall last Friday evening in honor of one of their members, W. G. Chamberlain, who is about to leave for Chicago to enter the Homoeopathic Medical College there. Mr. Chamberlain has resided here for the past three years and has become very popular. A large number of Royal Templars attended the social and a very pleasant time was spent. At the beginning of the entertainment, Mr. Chamberlain was presented with an address, accompanied by a handsome gold headed cane subscribed for by members of the council. The address, read by S. B. Hunter, was as follows:

"DEAR BROTHERS,—As you are about to leave us, the officers and members of Harvey Council, desire to let you know of the high place you have won in our estimation during your stay amongst us, and to express our regret at having to part with you. You have been a faithful member of our order and have ably filled the highest office of this council. During the three years that you have been with us we have always found you taking a deep interest in the welfare of the community, and ever ready and willing to help along with any good work, and we believe that you have done much for the advancement of the temperance cause in our midst. In the council we have looked upon you as a leader, and we felt that when you are gone from us, we will miss you very much, and we know that your place will not be easily filled.

A VERY SWELL AFFAIR.

Was the nice Regal Ball at Quebec Wednesday night. Lord and Lady Aberdeen are now sojourning at the Citadel, Quebec, and on Wednesday night over six hundred guests attended the ball given by Their Excellencies. The scene in the ballroom was a most brilliant one when the bright naval and military uniforms of the officers of the six war vessels in port and the officers of the infantry schools at present in camp and those of the local corps mingled with the rich and elegant dresses of the ladies. Their Excellencies were accompanied by a number of the most distinguished of their guests, including the English and French Admirals, the Lieutenant-Governor, Lord Swasey, and his daughter, the Hon. Miss Vivin, the Recorder of Cork, Judge Neilgan, Sheriff Thomson, of Edinburgh; the Rev. L. G. These pages were the Honorable Dudley Gordon, the Honorable Archie Gordon and Master Cosmo Gordon. Her Excellency's jewels were a pair of diamonds, stars of diamonds and pearls and a necklace of pearls.

SELECTIONS FROM SUNBURY.

No hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Manoirville.

Sept. 5.—The Temperance Picnic held on Wednesday last was a success in every way. Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Thomas who have been visiting here for some weeks left for home yesterday. Miss Habberley of Hyde Park, Mass, spent a few days here last week. Last evening the marriage of Miss Lillie Peppers and Thos. Foster took place at the residence of the bride's mother Mrs. Wm. Peppers. The Rev. Mr. Howie of St. Mary's was the officiating minister. Quite a number of guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Foster will reside at Lower St. Mary's.

THE NEWS IN QUEENS.

Whitby Cove.

Sept. 4.—A sad and most distressing accident occurred here on the 3rd inst. to a young lady named Dora Drillon. It seems that she was washing clothes near a brook, their well being dry. The fire which she had built to heat the water caught in her clothing, and before she could get assistance or extinguish the flames, was so badly burned that the doctors say she cannot recover. Mrs. Edmond Young, who has been ill with slow fever, is improving slowly. Miss Maud and Miss W. Tupper, who have been visiting at L. P. Ferris', went away by Monday's boat. Miss Florrie Marsh and B. Thomas, guests of L. P. Ferris, expect to leave by Thursday's boat. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gibson, of Fredericton, are visiting here, the guests of L. P. Ferris. Arthur Hay, of Woodstock, is visiting friends at the Cove. Miss Annie Gunter, of St. John, is with us again. E. Young, while walking on the road to Jemseg saw a large bear.

Upper Gagetown.

Sept. 5.—Mr. Enoch Currier is having his house extensively repaired, James Currier is crossing the work. The Baptist Sabbath school picnic which was held at Swan Creek on August 28th, proved a grand success. The following day about fifty people went from here to the temperance picnic at Lower Jemseg. Mr. John Currier, of Oromocto, took a head down in his steam yacht. The Free Baptist school intend to hold their picnic on Thursday, Sept. 6th. Mrs. Hazen Dick and her two children and also Miss Jessie Munroe left here today for St. John, after staying about two weeks at the boarding house; the boarders have mostly left. Mr. Charles Currie, a former resident of Upper Gagetown, but who moved to Boston some years ago, has returned with his family. Mr. Currie being in ill health was the cause of him coming back, but he hopes to go back again if he regains his health. Mrs. T. McMakin has been laid up nearly three weeks from an accident caused by a cow that was tethered. With the aid of a crutch she will be able to get around in a few days. Miss Maud Gunter of Fredericton, daughter of Charles Gunter is visiting friends here, the guest of H. Chase. The schooner "Dava" left here some time ago for a fishing and hunting cruise at Grand Manan and expects to be back the last of this month. Mr. and Mrs. March left here the other day for their home at Hampton station; they have been stopping at her father's, Rev. Mr. Hopper. At Greenfield, last Sabbath, Allie McGowan was baptised by Rev. Mr. Bonnell. Miss Maud Dale of Carleton is stopping at T. McMakin's for a short while. Miss Dora Chase has gone to Fredericton to attend Normal school. Miss Chase will be very much missed here. Gifford Smith and family have moved to Oromocto.

The freeman was called out by an alarm and while the hook and ladder was on its way to the fire, shortly after leaving the station, it came into collision with a beer wagon and was overturned. St. George, who was the driver, was thrown underneath the wheels and they passed over his body, almost completely severing one of his legs. The ambulance was summoned, but the unfortunate man died on his way to the hospital.

DESTRUCTIVE BRUSH FIRES. Doing Much Damage in the Vicinity of St. John. The danger that since Wednesday night had threatened the houses of Richard Thompson and others on the Manawagouash Road near St. John, became serious about noon on Thursday, when the flames advanced on Mr. Thompson's property, destroying his barn and handsome residence. They have been filled to overflowing with hay, oats, etc. and all was lost. A large part of the furniture was saved before the house caught. Mr. Thompson was nearly crazed with grief when he saw that the house in which she had so long lived was being destroyed, and refused to leave it until it was wrapped in flames. Mr. Thompson's loss is a severe one, for the house was worth fully $44,000. He had $5,000 insurance.

At Lepreau there was a vast amount of damage done, and unless a change of wind or rain comes the village will be wiped out. The woods for miles around are in a blaze, and fences, haystacks, and in fact everything in the path of the fire, was destroyed. Four houses were swept away on Thursday. Two were owned by Mrs. W. K. The highway bridge over the Lepreau was destroyed and the railway bridge narrowly escaped a similar fate. It caught fire and when the train from St. Stephen arrived it was beginning to burn fiercely. All hands set to work and after a hard fight the blaze was extinguished. Musquash is also surrounded by fire, and in some places the roads are almost impassable. From there the fire extends right up to Lancaster, and back to South Bay. Spruce Lake and Pisaree are also threatened.
