The Thousand Islands.

A REVERIE.

The summer eyes fell soft upon The Thousand Isles with magic

And green and gold the river shone Where mazy vistas fled my sight. While garish bowers of joy and case Fished as our swift launch spurned

And ripples kissed the drowsy trees. Like fairy eisters in a dream.

The russet rocks all velvet glow, ' Neath pearly sheen of opal skies-And swift as sunlit waters flow The crystal labyrinth unties.

For I have felt the hot simoom, From far Arabia's deserts blown. And shivered in the cheerless gloom And murk of many an English

And down the ringing passes fled Before the Himslayan storm. My wanderings o'er, I fondly crave,

Or, cradled on your gentle wave, To rook once more in childhood's

I'll build me swift a lone retreat, Where scented woods and rocks

To make an earthly paradise. For peaceful obsrms unfelt before. Lurk is each Island's calm recess, When wild flowers all their fragrance

And softest skies are near to blees ! Not mine to wail with vain regret, O'er wasted, years o'er sorrow forever.

The rarest tints in heaven are blent

Though memory claim the passing The fearless Present cries 'Press On!

And still the past is ever dear Though he who made it dear is

For mourn we not life's fleeting hour, Though friends it sunder poles apart, If Hope eternal still have power,

To link us ever heart to heart. And whieper: 'In another clime, Where deathless joy and youth are

How To Treat Sprains.

A sprain is a twisting or wrench, ing of a joint with tearing of the ligar ments and surrounding soft parts. There may also be some injury to the cartilages, and even portions of the bone to which the ligaments are attached may be torn away. Accompanying these injuries there is more or less escape of blood into the joint itself and surrounding tissues.

Sprains are most important injuries, and permanent disability frequently follows from a failure to give them the proper immediate care. Severe sprains are even more serious than
