MANUFACTURES WANTED.

Old Ben. Franklin, who had a remarkably clear idea of economy in all things, used to say that "a penny saved is two pence gained." This truism is applicable to every person in private life, and it is undoubtedly the principle which should obtain in all communities as far as regards material affairs. The establishment of any branch of manufactures in a locality tends not only to produce a number of lucrative situations for labor, but to turn raw material, (grown in the neighborhood) into articles which would otherwise be exported, into home wealth, and it is obvious that every dollar kept home is the wealth of its citizens.

For the numerous reasons carrying on of manufactures on a large scale, the conditions necessary, especially cheap motive power, abundance of material &c., &c., Goderich, and in doing so would depart from the general rule by speaking of the less leading of the subject first. We would ask on coming here to commence business would be, "If I meet, where is the market for my goods?" Our answer would be, "The whole of the great Canadian Dominion, and more particularly the County of Huron!" Here is one of the most populous and flourishing counties in Upper Canada. Its agricultural resources are inexhaustible, and great as has been its progress within the past fifteen years it is only in the youth of its existence. At the next census it will have, no doubt, between fifty and sixty thousand of a population, and there is no earthly reason why the county, manufactures a good article of cloth and dress a thriving trade. It is equally true that great quantities of the country to be brought back to Goderich, and in doing so would depart from the general rule by speaking of the less leading of the subject first.
