My dear Friends,
Elected by acclamation to the District in 1914, as an independent member, and after having been its representative for twenty years, and having faithfully discharged my duty, I now appeal with confidence to you for your votes for my colleagues at the approaching General election of members of the House of Assembly. If any man intends for one of us, he should vote, and I urge my special friends to do so.

I have been honoured by the presence of Captain William Westervelt, and Dr. C. A. Bonavista, to become my colleagues, and I am confident you will elect us as colleagues. Present you in the Assembly. Winsor was one of your representatives during 1909-1913, and defeated in the latter year. Standing in your esteem, I know he held before Dr. Forbes of the town wherein he resides and deserves the respect and confidence of his neighbors. Yours also, when you come to him as they do. In these times of their respective sides and myself here at headquarter will have representatives serve you, and certain to manner never excelled and equalled in the history of the district.

I have joined with my colleagues in the foregoing address to you.
