DON LOST A RAGGED GAME: ERRORS AS COMMON AS HITS

St. Thomas Made Nine Bungles and Were Outhit by Indians, But London Could Not Win the Game-Gilhooley Had an Off Day at Short.

St. Thomas, July 26.—According to the oldest inhabitants there have been some pretty "punk" ball games perpetrated upon the natives of St. Thomas, but the one pulled of by Stewart's section-hands and Mr. Barrett's bunch today was the most wretched of all the miserable exhibitions. Although the Saints landed on the big end of the tally, it was more by good luck than good playing. Several times they tried to hand Mr. Barrett's crowd the laurel wreath of victory, but just as many times did the Redskins hand it back, although not exactly in the same manner. The final score was 8 to 6, with London on the losing end.

Harry Furssedonn officiated in behalf of the Indians, and he pitched a rattling game. Had he been given good support, he would have beaten the Saints eagly game. The Saints had an off day in the field. A peck at the error column discloses, the fact that they had nine begin to prove the first opponents four, and, when thirteen errors are all jarod for one game, there is hardly make the first time here are come across with the secresary bit, and only one run was toosely, Gilhooley's error in the seventh practically lesing the game.
