STEAMER LOST PART OF LOAD

Listed At StJohn Dock and Deckload Went Over Sides No One Was Injnred

SOME NARROW ESCAPES

St. John, June 7. — The steamer Veraston, Capt. Weeks, loading with dry lumber, while lying at No. 2 berth Sand Point on Saturday afternoon took a sudden list to starboard and broke the spruce staunchcons which held her forward deck load, with the result that a considerable quantity of the timber fell into a scow alongside and narrowly missed the men working there who jumped out of the way in the nick of time. The steamer then took a list to port and more of her deckload fell between the ship and the wharf. She righted again and was lying yesterday with a decided list to starboard. The accident caused considerable excitement, many of those who saw the steamer roll believed that she was about to turn turtle.

The loading of the steamer had been proceeding for some days and was nearly finished at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, when the unusual accident happened. John McDermott, who was on the forward deckload first noticed the movement to starboard, and shouted to the men in the scow, among whom were Littlejohn, Holmes and Carson. The staunchcons gave way at the same minute and the men had barely time to make a dash for the other end of the scow when the lumber came crashing down where they had been standing.

Relieved of the weight on the starboard side, the Veraston slowly recovered and then heeled over to port under the weight of the deckload on the port side. A similar result followed, the staunchcons giving way and a considerable quantity of lumber being swept overboard into the slip between the vessel and the wharf.

WRECKED STEAMER BOUGHT.

The steamer Booreboolagha, owned by the Dalhousie Lumber Co., wrecked a few days ago in Shippegan Gully, on the return trip from Picton, where $2,000 had been expended on repairs, was sold at auction to the J. B. Snowball Co. for $850. She was insured for $6,000. The company has purchased the William M. at Newcastle. The wrecked vessel has been lifted off the lump on which she was stranded, and the hole in her side patched. She is expected to reach Chatham today or tomorrow under her own steam, escorted by one of the Snowball Co.'s tugboats. Mr. R. A. Snowball is in charge of the salving work. The steamer has engines of 40 h. p., and is a prize for the new owners at what she has cost.—World.

AWFUL DEED OF CRAZED BUTCHER AT SUMMERVILLE

While Insane at His Work He Killed Five Fellow Employees and Wounded Several Others Before Overpowered

A DESPERATE FIGHT

SOMERVILLE, Mass., June 5. — With a maniacal shriek John Murphy turned from pig-sticking to manslaughter in the North Packing and Provision Company's slaughter house today and, driving his fellow workmen before him like a herd of swine, slew five of them and wounded four others.

Two of the wounded were reported later as dying.

Murphy was working on a platform killing the pigs as they were swung into the long room on the seventh floor of the building. Extending from the platform was a long bench at which the pigs were being dressed by 125 workmen, while only ten feet away stood Dr. Hayes, the government inspector.

According to some of the workmen Murphy had been acting peculiarly for some days, but he returned from his dinner this noon apparently in good spirits.

Shortly after 2 o'clock he suddenly uttered a terrific shriek and jumped at Dr. Hayes, waving his 15 inch razor-edged knife in his hand. He cut Dr. Hayes a deep gash in the neck, stabbing him over the heart and practically disembowelling him. The terrified workmen leaped from their places and rushed for the door, but were not quick enough for Murphy, who ran after them, slashing right and left. Every man whom he struck went down with a groan, and in the killing room three of them died. The crowd plunged down stairs with Murphy after them, and at every landing he struck somebody. On the third floor he caught up with two men, to whom he delivered death blows. On the second floor one of the workmen, an Italian, seized a heavy bar of iron and felled Murphy to the floor, but before the others could come up the pig killer was on his feet again and wounded another on the way to the street floor. There he was given another terrific blow on the head and his knife was wrenched from his hand. Two police officers came in to assist the crowd and Murphy was given a fearful beating before he was finally overpowered.

Brewer, the young contractor of Woodstock, has been cleared up by the finding of the body and a sequel to that tragedy occurred this evening which resulted in a 16-year-old boy named Harris, of St. Mary's, having his hand badly shattered by dynamite.
