For luxuriant growth, John F. O'Neil, a Kerwood farmer has a patch of rhubarb, that is certainly worthy of note. The other day, one of the stalks was picked out for its unusual size, and on examination, extraordinary measurements were taken. The big leaf was 27 inches in width and 16 feet and a half in circumference, and the stalk and leaf 4 feet 7 inches in length.

EAST LAMBTON

NOMINATIONS

Dr. Martyn and R. J. McCormick Formally Before the Electors

Addresses by the Candidates and Others

The official nomination meeting for the East Riding of Lambton was held in the Lyceum, Watford, on Monday, June 22nd from 12 until 2 o'clock.

The writ appointing the date and the line of polling sub-divisions in the Riding were read by Mr. Richard Kerr, Returning Officer and his election clerk, Mr. P. W. Campbell.

Dr. J. B. Martyn appointed Henry A. Gilroy, farmer, of Alvinston, as his financial agent, and R. J. McCormick named William S. Fuller, notary, of Watford, as his.

Dr. J. B. Martyn's nomination papers were signed by Henry O. Lane, Wm. Fulcher, Richard Jennings, Henry Fraleigh, W. A. Dunlop, J. W. Duncan, Geo. W. Beatty, Geo. Goodhill, A. Bell, Geo. E. J. Evans, Arkona; John Edgar, Gordon Edgar, Brooke; J. J. Ross, Euphemie, L. W. Minielly, Sam Bailey, Plympton.

The official proceedings being over Mr. John Farrell was appointed chairman and while the candidates were agreeing upon a program, put in a few words about immigration.

The candidates agreed to take one and one-half hours each. Mr. McCormick to speak first and to have five minutes at close to reply.

Mr. McCormick said that it seemed to him that whenever it suited a few ministers they sprung an election on the people. There was no need of an election at the present time. It was the height of nonsense. Things were working in favor of the Reform party in Toronto so the government was going to an election, which they have no right to do. It was squandering money—like throwing $30,000 into the ditch that should have been given to good roads. There was no issue before the electors. The speaker said he was the only farmer on the Liberal side of the house and on the other side there were only six—the 99 others were all lawyers and doctors. It would make you mad to think of it—farmers can make as good laws as were ever made. He thought that the people were legislated to death. Regarding the Assessment Act he thought that taxes should be placed exclusively on land and not on improvements, but advocated local option in this matter. He complimented Mr. Rowell as being the finest man you ever saw, and said he was much in favor of tax reform. He quoted the New Zealand law and thought it all right. The model school system was praised as being what the poor man wanted, and the speaker claimed credit for the establishing of the schools now in use. He condemned the government for raising the interest on the drainage loans. He was in favor of the abolition of the bar, and lauded Mr. Rowell as the finest leader in the world, that he went preaching on Sunday and was as honest as the day is long. The speaker condemned the three-fifth clause in local option. Speaking of the salary grab he had refused to sign the round robin. The Hardy Creek drain great of $225 he claimed credit for. The redistribution was branded as a gerrymander. He thought there were too many seats in the Legislature and said, "What is to hinder me from representing the whole county of Lambton?" He scored the new government house as a gross extravagance and said it was likely to cost two million dollars. He claimed that the expenses of the province had increased in an extravagant manner from 4½ millions 9 years ago to 22 million last year, five of which were for hydro and one for railways.

Dr. Martyn was greatly pleased to be at the nominations again. He had listened with interest to Mr. McCormick's speech. They had always been the best of friends and hoped they would remain so. He thought the time for holding general election most opportune. Sweeping legislation had been passed, including the Workmen's Compensation, provincial roads and highways, hydro-radial and other advanced acts and that it was right to have a general election and go to the people for confirmation. With regard to the abolition of the liquor traffic he was with the people tooth and nail and would take off his hat to no man in pushing advanced temperance legislation and any acts of that nature introduced would have his support. He believed that the policy of local option was best for this advancement. It was sure and permanent. Both parties were working for the same end and he was just as anxious to get rid of the liquor traffic as the Liberals claimed to be. He approved of the revenue of the province had been raised by taxing railways, express companies, stock transfers, race tracks, etc. He showed the large increase in subsidies Sir James had obtained from the Dominion government. Regarding the educational policy he showed that the present government had given last year nearly two million dollars for schools, while in 1904 the total amount was only $449,000. It had increased the grants for hospitals and charities $180,000, to agriculture $477,000, to education over $1,000,000, to good roads nearly $200,000 a year, besides wiping out the deficit of the Liberal government and creating a surplus of over one million dollars. He praised the action of the government in placing graduates of the Ontario Agricultural College as District Representatives of Agriculture to inform the farmers of the district, and the introduction of courses for young men, school fairs, demonstration schools, field crop contests, drainage demonstrations. The O. A. Colleges had grown and prospered, also the Women's Institutes, farmers' clubs, etc. Pure-bred sires had been furnished free, and wet weather insurance for fairs had worked well. In educational matters he thought we had advanced from a six weeks training system to something more substantial and satisfactory. He reviewed the school book question and showed how the scholars now got for 49¢ what the Liberals made them pay $1.53 for. Hydro power given at cost was one of the ideas of the present government, and the other systems added would give the people light at cost, cheap transportation, cheap telegraph and telephone. He defended the action of the government in building a substantial government house that would be a credit to the province for all time to come. The compensation act, social and moral reform, and prison farms were touched on by the speaker all of which helped to improve the condition of the people. He advocated a demonstration farm for East Lambton and thought it could be made self-sustaining, and if elected he would do his best to get it.

Mr. Alex. McGregor, of Toronto, spoke in favor of Mr. McCormick and J. E. Armstrong, M. P., filled in the balance of the time allowed Dr. Martyn. The meeting was a large one and got quite noisy at times.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to little ones. The complaints of that season which are cholera infantum, diarrhoea and dysentery come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is really ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they do come on suddenly to cure them. No other medicine is of such aid to the mother during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Another of Bosanquet's oldest residents passed away on Saturday in the person of Isabelle Taylor, relict of the late John Taylor, of the lake road east, at the age of 87 years, 11 months and 13 days. The Taylor family were among the first settlers of Bosanquet, having settled there in 1858, coming from Fifeshire, Scotland. The funeral was held Tuesday to Ravenswood cemetery. Take an occasional chance; the good things are all tied.
