

of the New Testament. The book will be invaluable for Sunday-school teachers and for all Bible students. It gives a view of the Blessed Life, which cannot be gained in any other way.

Chautauqua Books.

THE C. I. S. C. has caused the creation of a body of valuable literature. Most of these books have been specially prepared for the Chautauqua Circles. Being published in large quantities, they are much cheaper than books of a similar size and character otherwise published. The following have not reached us in time for earlier notice. We are glad to learn that a large number in Canada are taking up this admirable course. We especially commend to S. S. Superintendents and to our ministers this institution, as better adapted than any that we know to educate our young people in the word and works of God, and thus to make them more useful members of the Church and of society. We wish that in connection with each of our congregations there could be a Chautauqua Circle.

We have reviewed elsewhere the following books of this series: Dr. Wilkinson's admirable "German Course in English," Dr. Hale's "History of the United States," and Dr. Hatfield's "Physiology and Hygiene of the House in which we Live"—a capital work.

The following are the remaining books of the series:

Philosophy of the Plan of Salvation. By JAMES R. WALKER, D.D. Pp. 264. Price 60 cts.

An admirable work on a most important theme. It has been a means of grace and a bulwark against infidelity to thousands.

A Short History of the Mediæval Church. By BISHOP HURST. Price 40 cts.

We know no better authority for treating this important subject than Bishop Hurst.

Readings from Washington Irving. Price 40 cts. Charming chapters from the most classical of American writers, chiefly on English scenes, life and character.

Outline Sketch of American Literature. By PROF. BEERS, of Yale College.

A clever synopsis of American literature marred by one or two blunders which, we understand, are removed in later editions.

In addition to the above are issued A Short History of Canada, by the present writer, to which good taste forbids that we should make further reference, and an admirable sketch of Canadian literature by that accomplished writer, Mr. G. Mercer Adam. Though this book is a good deal larger than was first intended, yet no addition is made to the price—50 cts.

The whole series of eight books will be sent, post free for $4.75, to any address by William Briggs, 78 & 80 King St. East, Toronto; C. W. Coates, 3 Bleury St., Montreal; or S. F. Huestis, Halifax, N.S.

Other Books.

The Why of Methodism. By DANIEL DORCHESTER, D.D. New York: Phillips & Hunt. Price, 70 cents.

Dr. Dorchester is well and widely known by his admirable volume entitled "Problem of Religious Progress." In this small volume he lays the Church of his choice under renewed obligation. He points out the Providential guidance of Methodism in its origin, character, influence, and polity. Every Methodist may derive strength and encouragement from the study of this book.

The Quiver for November. New York: Cassell & Co. 15 cents a number, $1.50 a year in advance.

Prof. Roberts continues his "Reminiscences of Departed Members of the New Testament Revision Company." Dr. Bernardo's labors among poor children, which have extended across the ocean, from England to Canada. The Rev. R. H. Lovell discusses "Prejudice." Fiction, Bible Lessons, poetry and pictures, with a shower of "Short Arrows," go to make up the number.

The Life of the Rev. Amand Parent, the First French Canadian Ordained by the Methodist Church. Pp. 235, with portrait and engravings. Toronto: Wm. Briggs. Montreal: C. W. Coates. Price, $1.25.

This is an exceedingly interesting book. It gives an account of Mr. Parent's early life and of his adventures during the rebellion of 1837, of his conversion, and of his forty-seven years' experience of evangelical work in Canada—thirty-one of which were in connection with the Conference and eight years among the Oka Indians. The story is as interesting as a romance. It gives a remarkable insight into the workings of that Papal system under which so many of our fellow-subjects are held in mental and spiritual bondage. The persecution and malignity with which Mr. Parent was followed almost surpass belief. The atrocious treatment of the Oka Indians by the authorities of the Church of Rome is a painful picture, and arouses one's indignation at the injustice and cruelty exhibited. The strange story of the destruction of the Catholic chapel by fire and of the trial of the Protestant Indians for the alleged crime of arson, which attracted so much attention at the time, is recounted, and is illustrated with numerous engravings of the chief actors in the stirring drama; numerous other illustrations add to the attractiveness of the book, which we cordially commend to the attention of our readers.

Thorn-Apples. By EMILY HUNTINGTON MILLER. 12mo, price $1.00. Phillips & Hunt, New York.

This book we have not had time to read, but it is thus spoken of by the Sunday-school Times: "One is always sure of a pleasure when Emily Huntington Miller sits down in the story-teller's
