

Canada's First Aviation Meet at Montreal

This is the first international meet ever held on this continent, and consequently it has attracted much attention. Our cover shows Count Jacques de Lesseps, the famous French aviator, a balloon and an aeroplane which ascended during the meet. The above picture shows a Wright machine being wheeled back into the shed after an ascent.

—Gleason, photo