

operations will not be sufficient to finance such an undertaking. Direct or indirect assistance from the Government would appear essential. In this way Canada would gain the understanding and sympathy of important sectors of the countries involved; students at times can be excellent ambassadors.

- c. Reciprocal visits to Canada by Latin American delegations. An attempt at such an exchange with Argentina was made a few years ago with the assistance, we believe, of the Canadian Embassy in Buenos Aires.
- d. Long-term academic exchanges of selected students from Canada and some Latin American countries.
- e. The offering by Canada of a number of scholarships to Latin American students. This would be in accordance with the apparent intention of the Canadian Government to enter into a firmer association with Latin America; it seems also to be one of the most fruitful means of making our country known to people with whom we wish to pursue friendly relations.

These projects, let us repeat, will require the assistance of the Government of Canada. We believe the objective to be more than worthwhile; the implications are greater than the mere fraternizing of a few students. We intend to give priority to a policy of Latin American relations. We should be most grateful if the Government were to give such a policy its full consideration and indicate what are felt to be the possibilities of mutual support and cooperation.

10. WORLD ASSEMBLY OF YOUTH (WAY)

The World Assembly of Youth is somewhat the equivalent on a broader scale of the International Student Conference. Its headquarters in Brussels unites all youth movements - students, workers, farmers, and others - in a common effort to uphold the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the principles incorporated in the Charter of the United Nations.

WAY operates through national committees in some 50 countries. NFCUS is the acting Secretariat for the Canadian Committee; perhaps we should say that NFCUS has been forced to act as the Canadian Committee pro tempore, since this body has been dormant for some years.
