

the morning train from Ottawa.

On the afternoon of that day there will be a football match between McGill and Queens and Sir Arthur suggests that Their Excellencies might after a luncheon come on to the game. As I mentioned above we do not feel absolutely certain of the ceremony but we are, however, certain of the game and instead of writing you a separate letter on the subject, may I now say that Sir Arthur would be most delighted and I know that the undergraduate body would highly appreciate the honour if Their Excellencies would come to the game in any case. The arrangements would be similar to those made last year.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

Wilfrid Bovey.
