

The New York Medical Journal,

A WEEKLY REVIEW OF MEDICINE.

PUBLISHED BY
D. Appleton & Co.

THE NEW YORK MEDICAL JOURNAL, now in the twentieth year of its publication, is published every Saturday, each number containing twenty-eight large, double-columned pages of reading-matter. By reason of the condensed form in which the matter is arranged, it contains more reading-matter than any other journal of its class in the United States. It is also more freely illustrated, and its illustrations are generally better executed, than is the case with other weekly journals.

It has a large circulation in all parts of the country, and, since the publishers invariably follow the policy of declining to furnish the JOURNAL to subscribers who fail to remit in due time, its circulation is bona fide. It is largely on this account that it is enabled to obtain a high class of contributed articles, for authors know that through its columns they address the better part of the profession; a consideration which has not escaped the notice of advertisers, as shown by its increasing advertising patronage.

The special departments of the JOURNAL are as follows:

- LECTURES.—The frequent publication of material of this sort is a prominent feature, and pains are taken to choose such as will prove valuable to the reader.
- ORIGINAL COMMUNICATIONS.—In accepting articles of that class, regard is had more particularly to the wants of the general practitioner, and all the special branches of medicine are duly represented.
- BOOK NOTICES.—Current publications are noticed in a spirit of fairness, and with the sole view of giving information to the reader.
- CLINICAL REPORTS are also a regular feature of the Journal, embracing clinical records from the various hospitals and clinics, not only of New York, but of various other cities, together with clinical contributions from private practice.
- EDITORIAL ARTICLES are numerous and carefully written, and we are able to give timely consideration to passing events.
- MINOR PARAGRAPHS.—Under this heading are given short comments and notes on passing events.
- NEWS ITEMS contain the latest news of interest to the profession.
- OBITUARY NOTES announce the deaths which occur in the ranks of the profession, with a brief history of each individual when practicable.
- SOCIETY PROCEEDINGS are given promptly, and those of a great number of societies figure. At the same time we select for publication only such as we think profitable to our readers.
- REPORTS ON THE PROGRESS OF MEDICINE constitute a feature of the Journal which we have reason to think is highly valued by our readers.
- MISCELLANY includes matter of general interest, and space is also given for NEW INVENTIONS and LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

As a whole, we are warranted in saying that the NEW YORK MEDICAL JOURNAL is regarded with the highest favor by its readers and by its contemporaries.
