LONDON, Sept. 25.—It will be a fascinating task for the historian of the immediate future to work out the various strands of evidence which seem to be independent, and yet, when followed up, converge upon the central purpose of a pre-arranged war for the late summer of 1914, a war in which Germany should be the prime mover and instigator and Austria the dupe and the catspaw.

and instigator and Austria the dupe and the catspaw.

Of course there are some great facts patent to all the world. There is the sudden and rapid acceleration of German preparations for the last two years, the great increase eof the army with the colors and the special emergncy tax which was to bring in $50,000,000. Looking back we can see very clearly that these things were the run before the jump. No Mere Coincidence in that quarter were second line troops and it was our great honor and good fortune to have dammed that raging torrent and stopped the rush which must have swept everything before it until it went raging into Paris.

And yet how many things might have prevented our presence at the right place at the right time and how near we were to a glorious annihilation upon that dreadful day when the artillery of five Geman army corps and $30 guns in all were concentrated upon Smith-Dorrien's exhausted men.
