The Bull Fever Increasing and Shorts

Wheat as usual puzzled the trade to day At the outset it was about on a parity with last night's close. After a short session of dullness the local longs began selling, carrying the market down to 30%c for May. At this point some good support came in and prices reacted a little, but the close was weak. The trade is very much at sea regarding this December deal; it keeps them constantly guessing the outcome. There is some wild talk of a dellar and ten or better for December, but we don't imagine the parties who have the deal in hand are going to increase the premium on cash wheat over the futures very much more for the outcome of it would be more wheat than they would care to handle. Total clearances to-day were 557,000 bushels. New York reported 20 loads of wheat for export; this does not include the 10 loads reported for South Africa. There were good many of them. We think around 90 cents for May it is safe to buy a little wheat.

received the following despatch to-day from New York:

The stock market developed lucreased strength and activity to-day, following a continuation of bullish sentiment, stimulated in the last hour yesterday by the unexpected announcement of the Rock Island refunding scheme. There was very good buying from the start by prokers representing bull interests. Buying was based on easy money, talk of better trade, from the most seasonable weather conditions and in anticipation of a bullish message from, McKiniey. A larger short interest existed in the market than had been generally supposed and the covering of these contracts helped the bulls very materially in marking up prices. Bulls are relying on announcement of countervailing duty against Dutch sugar on Friday or Saturday. One effect of to-day's advance has been to drive in the majority of the shorts and the elimination of this interest will tell against the market and it will be necessary for continued good bull support.

New York, Dec. 1.—The Evening Post's financial cable from London says: The stock markets here were quiet to day, but firm on the whole, a pleasant feature being the rather smart rise in Americans at the close. New York responded to the improvement, and was bidding for leading shares. Grand Trunks were also strong on the excellent monthly revenue statement. Great interest is shown here in Speyer & Co.'s purchase of the new 4 per cent. Rock Island bonds, and there are many applications on this side to join the syndicate.

The movement was quite general throughout the market. It affected not only the standard railway shares, but the Industrial stocks, and in this respect, was open to some suspicion, for there is nothing, in the present trade situation, or in the immediate prospect, to warrant any materially higher market values for such properties.
