Manifesto Issued by Executive of Irish Labor Party Appeals to All to Voice Approval of Railroaders' Action in Refusing to Handle Trains Carrying Munitions-Financial Aid Is Sought.

Dublin, June 11 .- A manifesto pledging support for the Dublin railwaymen and dockers in their refusal to handle munitions has been issued by the executives of the Irish labor party and trade union congress. The manifesto defles the King and the British Government, saying: "Not all the armies in the Empire will compet us to become traitors to our own nation. We will not shrink from the consequences of that view, although the whole fabric of the commonwealth be convulsed."

Appeal to every man and woman in Ireland to support the men is made in the manifesto. It says thousands of pounds are needed weekly to provide for the workers. The railwaymen generally up to this time have only refused to handle munition trains, but railwaymen at Dingle, County Kerry, on Wednesday refused to man a train with soldiers aboard. The soldiers were obliged to leave the train before it could proceed.

Purchase of sufficient street railway bonds by the city to pay the increase in wages demanded by the employees was advanced as a solution to the street railway problem at a joint meeting of the special street railway committee of the city council and the executive of the Labor Representation Committee today. A deputation will confer with City Solicitor T. G. Meredith at 3 o'clock this afternoon to see whether the plan can be legally carried out.

If a report can be prepared in time, a special meeting of the city council will be called tonight. There is a slight possibility that the cars will be running on Saturday if the plan is carried out.

Windsor, Sarnia and Chatham Representatives Occupy the Morning Session—Summary of Comparative Costs of Transportation.

Windsor, Sarnia and Chatham representatives occupied this morning in giving evidence before the Canadian waterways commission, now sitting here under the chairmanship of C. A. Magrath. Senator C. D. Clarke and Sir William Hearst are the other members of the commission. Alexander Simmers of Windsor gave a clear summary in very brief form of the comparative costs of transportation with and without water competition.

Transportation hold-ups on the part Saved Millions.

From Cleveland to Fort William and Duluth, previous to the deepening of the Sault Ste. Marie canal, the coal transportation rate was $3.50 a ton. Now it was 50 cents a ton. Grain freight rates had been 15 cents a bushel and now are 2½ cents. Twenty-five million dollars had been saved to Canada alone in cheaper transportation since the Soo canal was deepened. The entire cost of deepening the canal was being returned annually to the people of Canada through the cheaper rates. From Fort William to Port Colborne, grain was carried for 4 cents a bushel, a distance of 1.100 miles. From Port Colborne to Montreal, a distance of 300 miles, it cost 7 cents a bushel. The deepening of the Soo canal made the difference. out water competition.

Transportation hold-ups on the part of the railroads he blamed for high prices and social unrest, and he also mildly criticized the banking system, which allows about eighteen men to control the circulation of Canadian money. The gold standard of value was all right, he said, but gold should not be the basis of circulation of money any more than land or other commodities. Large waterfront areas held idle by the railroads are the lake boats in many large cities from finding adequate loading facilities. The first boats shipped overseas during the war with Detroit products had to be loaded at Sandwich, Ont., or Cleveland, because of the dog-in-manger attitude of

He said in "So far as transportation is concerned we have, as yet, focused our energies almost solely upon railway construction, which, of course, was an exceedingly pressing need. Our waterways lay

Sir Robert Will Likely Be Ambassador To United States.

[Special To The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, June 11.—If Sir Robert Borden intends remaining at the helm of the ship of state, his intention is not reflected in his general attitude in the House. The premier is fitful in his attendance and listless and disinterested for the most part in his participation in debate. His attitude, in fact, since coming home has been that of a man on a temporary job which he expects to give up at an early date. To Sir George Foster (who to all intents and purposes leads the House), and to his other ministers, he leaves the burden of the work, and he is seldom present during the night sessions. > London, June 11 .- Possibility of the abandonment of the Spa con ference between representatives of the Allied Governments and Germany is discussed in European capitals. The success of the Independent Socialists and the Conservatives in the German elections leads to the belief in France that Germany is less than ever inclined to carry out the treaty. This belief, with the prospect that Giovanni Giolitti, former Italian premier, will form a new ministry in that country, is said to have moved Premier Millerand of France to oppose any further yielding on the question of the German indemnity, such as might be expected from the Spa meeting. It is recalled that Signor Giolitti opposed Italy's entrance into the war, and it is said his foreign policy includes resumption of full relations with Germany.

Premier Millerand is said to feel he might hazard his own position if the Spa conference were held, and belief is expressed here that Signor

Giolitti may decline to attend the meeting. BLYTH WOMAN'S CONVICTION
