LOCALS BREAK IN WITH 6--2 WIN OVER THE PAN DRIEDS

Both Teams Showed Lack of Practice, But Game Got Fans Enthusiastic—Arthur's Star of Game.

Monday, St. Thomas at London.

London intermediates made their bow before the homefolks last night and turned in a 6-2 win over the Tillsonburg Pan Drieds. A rinkful of fans saw hockey that showed a lack of practice on the part of both teams, but the locals showed flashes that made them a following immediately and group contenders as well. The Pan Drieds will need a lot more drying from goal out showing little of the cleverness that ought to be there to balance up their lack of ruggedness. Crossett, a junior last year, and Williams looked to be their best, but except in the fast period the visitors made little effort to combine. Roy J. Chapman, an old London favorite, was between the twine for the Pan Drieds, and he turned aside a regular fusillade coming his way all through the first two periods, picking pucks off his person when the goal judge should have been getting a cramp in his left hand. Show Well. The local outfit showed up remarkably well, considering their total lack of practice. Hynds had only two shots to make the first two sessions. Lochead and Kelly handled the mix-ups and mob attacks that came their way, and made some good rushes. Arthur's, Gilles and Burgess, with the first name

LEONARD WINS IN SIXTH ROUND OVER RITCHIE MITCHELL

Westerner Knocks Champ Down in First Round. MITCHELL WAS GAME

Lucky Punch To Eye, Which Blinded Him, Spoiled Great Battle.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Jan. 14.—In a spectacular bout, which was stopped by the referee in the sixth round, at the Madison Square Garden tonight, Benny Leonard, the world's lightweight champion, scored a technical knockout over Ritchie Mitchell, a contender from Milwaukee, who, despite his defeat, proved himself a worthy challenger.

The bout was the main attraction at a benefit given by the American Committee for Devastated France, and the contest was worthy of the occasion.

In the opening round Leonard knocked his opponent down three times, and injured Ritchie's right eye so badly that it was nearly blinded. The referee stopped the fight after the sixth round, when Leonard had the advantage in every round. Leonard's manager, John P. Leonard, said that his fighter had not been hurt, but that he was tired. He said that if Leonard had not been hurt, he would have given him the fight of his life.

Ritchie came up as game as a pebble and tried his best to land a solid blow, but Leonard's blocking and footwork were almost perfect in defence. Leonard's attack in this round was fierce and he nearly battered his opponent off his feet. He sent Ritchie to the floor three times, but Leonard's manager, John P. Leonard, said that his fighter had not been hurt, but that he was tired. He said that if Leonard had not been hurt, he would have given him the fight of his life.

Both looked trim and confident while being prepared for the battle.

FIRST ROUND—After feinting and fiddling for a couple of seconds, Leonard hooked his left to the jaw for a count of three. Leonard stepped back and watched Mitchell come up and again Leonard sent him down with a right to the jaw, this time for a count of three. Leonard came up and down a third time with a left to the face and a right to the head. Mitchell stayed down for the full count of nine. When Ritchie got on his feet he rushed at Benny and hooked a left to the jaw. Leonard stayed on one knee and waving his hand to his seconds, indicating that he was all right, he came up and took everybody by surprise. Both sparred carefully until the sound of the gong.

When he got up, was very groggy and tried to grab one of the ropes, but Leonard crossed his right, sending him staggering into the ropes for a count of nine. When Mitchell regained his feet Leonard stepped in to land another blow, but Referee Hauck jumped between them and stopped the fight, leading Mitchell to his corner. Leonard ran across the ring and shook hands with Mitchell as the defeated man sat in his corner receiving the attention of his two brothers and other handlers.

The game here Monday night between St. Thomas and London, the postponed opener of the group, is a certainty unless a second flood occurs.

The curlers gave up their usual Monday 'spiel to accommodate the team, which will not be at home after last night's exhibition on the part of the locals the rink should be packed to the roof for Monday night's clash. St. Thomas was beaten by Ingersoll last night, but has had no practice at all, and should give the locals a hard argument Monday.
