STROMELAND

9-5, WON

"While the public" were shooting their coin in on Occidental, that fell by the wayside beaten, "the real wise citizen" on the inside went to the good thing Stromeland, that copped the coin.

THE G. BUTTERFLY

6-5, Won

What my message said: "The Golden Butterfly looks like a cinch. She likes the slope. Galvesca holds the place safe." Was I right?

To-day a Mud Bear

15-1 or Better

Go to Woodbine To-day

Take your wad with you, parlay it on two selections we shall hand you. They're as good as in now. We know what we are talking about. We propose to let out a link to-day. Conservatism and the knowledge that a turf bureau which issues a false cry is bound to suffer in the end, has made us disdain to date the making of any strong promises for a single day's big winnings.

But We Make One To-day

We are absolutely sure of our ground, and we never take a chance. We have two horses in view to win two races of to-day's card, and from what we know of their fitness and class (as shown in their work) we are sure that only an accident can stop either one of the two.

There's Be a Price Against Them, Too

Both have been soundly beaten within a short period, and both have been diligently worked in private and put on perfect racing EDGE since their defeat.

One of the Two is a Natural 15-1 Shot

His showing to-day will startle every handicapper, for he's improved a ton since last the public saw him. "Bet the limit," our wire will read on both these horses, and it will be for the first time that this bureau has employed that language for more than one horse in a single day.

Dixon & Co. Has Earned in a Marked Degree

the confidence of hundreds of conservative horsemen who have become our steady patrons, and we cannot afford to say one word in these columns that might beguile, and we won't and we don't. You are invited, therefore, to thoroughly weigh the significance of the promise made for to-day, and join us in two consecutive and concerted onslaughts on the strong boxes of the common enemy, the layers of the odds. To-day is the day, and this is your opportunity. You'll please us much, but yourself most, by responding to this rally call!

Is it any wonder that the "Reynolds" information is the talk of the town? The way we keep putting winners over the plate day after day is simply astonishing. Not a single day passes but what our clients hit the ring for thousands of dollars. Among our regular patrons are some of the shrewdest horsemen at the track. It's a daily question among hundreds at "Woodbine" or wherever racing men congregate. "What does 'Reynolds' give?" as the racing world has convinced itself that he is one man who knows all the angles of the game and can be depended upon for winning advice at all times.
